Today

All About the War
No Torture Now
Good Florida News
Less Copper, Less Silver

By Arthur Brisbane

IF YOU PLAN A WAR, or any energetic thing that might cause criticism, it is well to build up a "cause," and have your quarrel just.

Japan intends to take Manchuria, needing room, a great deal of it, for a Japanese overflow, of many millions. Manchuria would suit, since Japan cannot colonize the North American Pacific coast.

Take Manchuria, and send in Japanese as rulers immediately, might seem a little "raw," in the language of the United States. Orientals object to anything of that kind.

The plan is to take the young deposed Chinese boy emperor, Henry Pu-Yi, and send him as pseudo emperor of Manchuria, actual representative and dummy for Japan.

The Chinese Manchu dynasty, to whose power Pu-Yi is natural heir, came from Manchuria, owned the place. What more natural than to make the boy Emperor Manchurian Emperor once more, Japan ruling and owning, under the convenient shadow of his name, as the old Japanese Shogunate once ruled in the name of the Mikado.

Tokio reports that Japan is "losing hope of averting a clash," which is like a fox in the pink of condition saying "I am afraid I shall have to bite that fat goose after all."

That England sides with Japan in the controversy, apparently on general principles, is also interesting. Japan and Britain had a close alliance for defense, until the Washington conference, which made it worth while for Britain to end that alliance.

Britain is said to have notified the League that it is not interested in any boycott of Japan, diplomatic or otherwise.

Recent developments, however, touching the intense pride of Japan, may cause that country to take a short cut through present troubles. Dispatches from Tientsin tell of Siberian "Reds" and Chinese troops under Gen. Mah inflicting a severe defeat on the Japanese, capturing their airplanes.

Japanese suspect that Gen. Mah, aggressive Chinese, has had all along an understanding with Russia, which is probable. Bret Harte's "Heathen Chinee" is now a highly civilized Chinese, but still understands "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain."

If Japan has suffered a defeat, she will demand an immediate victory, on a scale to cause the defeat to be forgotten.

A convict was mysteriously murdered by another. The thrust of a sharpened file appears to have done the work. The warden's decision "to call off the proposed football game to which the convicts were looking forward," as a general punishment, is interesting.

Not so long ago everybody suspected of the crime or of knowing about it would have been put to the torture until desired information had been obtained.

Now prisoners are told, "You shall not see the football game." The world has become milder.

The world has become milder.

A harbor for ships up to 30,000 tons, drawing 35 feet of water, is ready at Port Everglades on the East coast of Florida.

This port, only 17 miles from Miami, costing six millions, will enable very big ships to touch at Florida for the first time.

That is good news for the whole country. What helps one part helps another.

Next should come a deep canal across Florida, enabling coastwise ships to go from the Atlantic into the Gulf of Mexico without traveling around the tip end of Florida through the summer hurricane season, cutting at least 1000 miles from the New York to New Orleans water trip.

The United States should build that, beginning at Stuart, through the St. Lucie canal, Lake Okeechobee and on to the gulf.

An effort to reach a common sense agreement concerning copper, now sold for far less than production cost, fails, because Belgians that own mines in Africa would not consent.

African ore is rich and in abundance. African semi-slave labor is plentiful and cheap. Lack of agreement among copper men discourages copper production and this inevitably diminishes the output of silver, largely a by-product of copper mining. Because of greatly increased demand for silver from the East, speculators and some bankers that have sold silver they did not own are again warned that they are in an unpleasant position. Since that warning was first published here, silver metal has increased in value more than 20 per cent, and certain imminent develop-

Continued on Page 5, Column 3

3 COMIC PAGES TODAY---POPEYE IS WINNER BY K. O.

QUIZ GIRL IN COBB SLAYING

7 PM STOCKS SPORTS

WEATHER
Saturday fair and slightly cooler; Sunday increasing cloudiness, probably followed by showers.
High tide 2:06 a. m.; 2:15 p. m.
Sun rises 6:33; sets 4:24.
Light all vehicles at 4:54 p. m.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 28—No. 199 Published Daily by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. Entered as 2d Class Matter at Boston P. O. BOSTON, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1931 2 CENTS ZONE PRICE 3 CENTS

The American is the only Boston daily paper using Universal Service and International News Service.

20 RESCUED IN $70,000 CAFE BLAZE

LATE NEWS FLASHES

SO. BOSTON MAN CHOKES TO DEATH AT MEAL

Robert Cochrin, 52, strangled to death on a piece of steak while eating dinner at his home in West Third st., South Boston, today. His body was taken to the City Hospital morgue.

N. E. MAN KILLED IN FLORIDA

Miami, Nov. 14 (AP)—A man identified today as Samuel Kaplan, 45, formerly of Hartford, Ct., was struck and fatally injured by an automobile here. Dr. A. G. Holmes, physician and driver of the car, was not held. Witnesses told police the accident was unavoidable.

HOOVER MOVES TO UNITE ALL U. S. HOSPITALS

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—A study is being made for President Hoover of the possibilities of unifying all governmental hospital activities under the veterans' administration. He was represented today as feeling considerable saving could be effected.

FEARS NEXT CONGRESS WON'T BUILD UP

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14 (AP)—Declaring the next Congress was likely to destroy rather than build, R. W. Dunlap, assistant Secretary of Agriculture, today called on the National Grange to rally to the support of advantages that had been gained for agriculture.

2 BANDITS SHOOT 2, FLEE WITH $14

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—Two holdup men entered a wet wash laundry in the Bronx today and shot Max Schleisser, the president, and his brother, Abraham, vice-president. The two robbers obtained $14 and escaped with a third man in a taxicab.

GRANDI NOT TO LAND IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—Maj. William F. Deegan, chairman of the Mayor's committee for the reception of distinguished visitors, announced today that because of the lateness of his arrival Monday Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy would not land in New York, but would be taken direct from the liner to New Jersey to entrain for Washington.

JAPAN NOTIFIES U. S. IT WILL REPULSE CHINESE

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—Ambassador Debuchi of Japan informed the State Department today that Japanese troops at the Nonni bridgehead in Manchuria would take every measure to repulse Chinese troops if they are attacked.

AGREEMENT NEAR ON ST. LAWRENCE PROJECT

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—Definite progress toward a final agreement between Canada and the United States on the St. Lawrence waterway project was made today at a conference between Minister Herridge and Senator Stimson.

3 Hurt in South Station Crash

FIREMAN AND GIRL FALL OFF LADDER

Girls on the Way to Dartmouth Game Trapped in Blaze at Concord, N. H.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 14—Spectacular rescues were effected as fire swept through Nardini's restaurant, No. Main st., today, causing a loss estimated at more than $70,000.

[illegible] were rescued, [illegible] been trapped by smoke and flames.

GIRL CAUGHT BY CROWD

One girl, a waitress, was dropped from the second floor [illegible] to the arms of the crowd. Several girls were cut by broken glass. Lieutenant [illegible] knocked unconscious by a [illegible] a ladder with a [illegible] in his hand, and a number of persons and employes were overcome or partially overcome by smoke.

Among the rescued were four members of an auto party from Medford, Mass., on their way to the Cornell-Dartmouth football game at Hanover.

Miss Ruth Stevens, 22, one of the Medford party, was the girl who fell from the ladder. She received minor cuts and bruises. Miss Mildred Stevens, her friend, was also cut, and Maxwell Rabisorowitz was carried out unconscious, overcome by smoke. Luke Stewart was the fourth member of the party.

CARRY OUT POWDER

The flames spread to a gun store from which firemen had to carry kegs of powder to prevent an explosion.

The fire started when grease caught fire in the kitchen. Besides the 20 persons trapped in the second floor dining room, about 30 patrons and employes from the main floor.

As firemen reached the scene, men in the second floor smashed a plate glass window and lowering Mrs. Harrant Tenney of Concord, a waitress, by the hands, dropped her to the crowd below.

'OWL' PROVES IT CAN'T PASS ITSELF

Three passengers in this Pullman of the New Haven's crack New York-to-Boston "Owl" were injured today when the train literally wrecked itself at South Station. The locomotive and baggage car, having left the string of Pullmans parked back in the station, were backing out when they crashed into the Pullmans. Photo shows damage done to sleeper.

GIRL NAMED IN COBBS' DEATH FIGHT

Discharged Maid Questioned; Wife Faces Ordeal of Reading Dead Man's Accusation

Pictures on Page 3

By Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Mansfield, Nov. 14—The shotgun killing of Justin L. Cobb, Jr., followed a quarrel between him and his young wife, Emily, his alleged slayer, over an 18-year-old girl, police disclosed today.

Authorities seeking a motive for what they charge was murder and what Cobb's pretty wife claims was suicide, learned that the tragedy Thursday night followed in less than two hours Mrs. Cobb's discharge of their maid, Miss Marjorie Davis.

Miss Davis, a Mansfield girl, had been employed by the Cobbs for about two years, police learned.

SEEK JEALOUSY CLUE

Cobb, a few hours before he died from a wound that prevented him from speaking, penned not only the charge that "Emily did it with the shotgun" but, in answer to police questioning, gave the information that he and his wife had quarrelled over telephone calls made by Miss Davis.

Miss Davis has been questioned by Police Chief Vickery and will be questioned again by the chief and State Detective Francis W. Clemmey.

One phase they will seek to determine is whether Miss Davis cared for the Cobb children while Mrs. Cobb was ill at a Brockton hospital recently and whether Mrs. Cobb may not have been jealous without cause of her presence in the household.

Since the tragedy, Miss Davis, an attractive girl, has been living with her sister in Cottage st.

She admitted to the Boston Evening American today that she had been discharged by Mrs. Cobb and said she had been warned by the authorities not to discuss the case.

TO SEE ACCUSATION

While this phase of the investigation was under way, the information that her husband, while dying,

Continued on Page 5, Column 1

In Today's American

Amusements	8, 7
Ann Adams	4
Bashful Girl (Story)	10
Church News	8
Classified	17
Comic Pages	14, 15, 16
Crossword Puzzle	16
Daily True Story	10
Death Notices	17
Edgar A. Guest	18
Editorial Page	18
Financial	8, 9
Gilbert Seldes	4
Louis Sobol	6
Marriage Intentions	4
Port of Boston	17
Radio	5
Society	4
Sports	11, 12, 13

58,000 See Harvard in Clash With Purple

By BILL GRIMES

For the third time in major competition this season, Holy Cross meets an undefeated, untied team this afternoon, for Harvard has a clean slate entering its seventh conflict with the Crusaders which will start at 2 p. m. in the Stadium.

The Crusaders were responsible for the lone black mark chalked up against Fordham, for they battled the Cavmen to a 6-to-6 tie and then knocked the highly touted Brown team out of the unbeaten class.

58,000 EXPECTED

Due to the success of the Crimson and the Crusaders' sparkling

Continued on Page 12, Column 6

The Harvard-Holy Cross football game will be broadcast over WAAB in Boston and WORC in Worcester.

U. S. Senator to Wed Philadelphia Girl

Philadelphia, Nov. 14 (AP)—The engagement of Miss Theodora O. Thomson, daughter of Mrs. Harris Hamilton Thomson of Rittenhouse Plaza, formerly of Woodbury, N. J., and Paul L. Townsend, son of U. S. Senator John G. Townsend, Jr., of Delaware and Washington, D. C., was announced today at a luncheon-bridge in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. No wedding date has been set.

PERIL SEEN IN HUSING BAN

New York, Nov. 14 (INS)—Harvard University's action in barring Ted Husing, Columbia Broadcasting Co. radio announcer, from all future Harvard games in his official capacity "seriously endangers the freedom of the air," William S. Paley, president of the Columbia Broadcasting Co. declared in a statement this afternoon.

At the same time Husing made public a statement in which he expressed regret that he used the word "putrid" in describing the playing of Captain Barry Wood and Jack Crickard in the Dartmouth game last Saturday. His explanation was that he was "striving to be interesting and vivid."

Sees Men Armed in Car, Warns Police

Warning of a possible holdup or gang violence was flashed from Boston police headquarters today to cities and towns of the State after a citizen reported witnessing the arming of two men in an automobile in the North End.

A man told police of Hanover station he saw two revolvers handed to two men in a parked car at North Margin and Endicott sts. The man who passed the weapons came from an alley and vanished into it after words. The car, an old one with a badly gnawed left rear mud guard, was driven away in the general direction of Charlestown.

Rhode Island Turkey for Hoover's Feast

Providence, R. I., Nov. 14 (AP)—After a lapse of several years the White House table will have a Rhode Island turkey. Robert E. Steere, of Chepachet, has selected the presidential gobbler from his flock and from the White House has come word that it will be accepted. The gobbler will weigh 30 pounds dressed, Steere stated.

Case Held Up for Fete

Because the Friday is his 30th wedding anniversary, Attorney John J. Connolly, former state representative, today asked United States Commissioner Jeney to set another date for a hearing on a liquor case. His request was granted and he received the congratulations of the court.

ARREST HALTS MILLION PLAN

With the arrest of Robert L. Livingston, 54, of Philadelphia, in North Attleboro on a charge of larceny in connection with check transactions in Newton, his proposition to start a $1,000,000 electric clock factory which would employ 500 persons vanished in thin air.

The Attleboro police and Deputy Sheriff Joseph DuBois are of the opinion that the $1,000,000 which Livingston claimed he controlled was a figment of his imagination.

MADE GOOD EFFECT

With "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford" manner Livingston approached DuBois last Thursday afternoon, the sheriff said. DuBois is in the real estate business.

"I am looking for a factory with 25,000 square feet of space in which to make electric clocks," Livingston said to DuBois, according to the sheriff.

"If Dodge he was honest,"

Continued on Page 2, Column 7

Good News

In the Day's News

(Further details elsewhere in this edition.)

NEW England Power Assn. reports improvement as compared with results of year ago.

WEEKLY trade reviews note seasonal pickup.

INT. NICKEL official declares decided improvement has appeared in business.

HORN & HARDART Baking Co. earnings for past year equal $15.41 a share against $14.33 a share in previous year.

Train Wrecks Itself; Three Men Hurt

Other Pictures on Page 3

Three passengers were severely injured today in an unusual collision that wrecked "The Owl," the New Haven Railroad's crack Pullman train from New York, in the South Station yards.

The detached locomotive and baggage car of the train, backing out of the station, crashed into the seven-car Pullman section that was being shunted onto another track.

The injured, all taken to Haymarket Relief station, are:

McPHERSON, Lewis, 55, of Evanston, Ill., injuries to head and both legs.

FOLLA, Ulimo, 26, of Havana, Cuba, compound fracture of right leg and lacerations.

HOWELL, Walter 46, of Greenwich, Ct., lacerations of hands and face, possible internal injuries.

MEETS SELF COMING BACK

Several other passengers were sharply shaken by the crash, among them being R. R. Howland, who has an office in the Statler Building, and Frederick L. Heath of Chicago.

"The Owl," in effect, collided with itself.

It arrived on schedule at 6:35 on

Continued on Page 2, Column 5

Maine Man Pleads Not Guilty in Death

Skowhegan, Me., Nov. 14 (AP)—Peter Adaman of Lewiston today pleaded not guilty in municipal court to a charge of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting on Tuesday of Ferdene Barriault, 19, at Long Pond near Jackman.

Adaman said he mistook the horse the girl was driving for a deer.

RESCUE SHIP IS SEIZED

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—The American freighter Arlyn, which arrived here last Monday from Cuba with raw sugar, was ordered seized today on an order from Collector of the Port Philip Eiting, because of an alleged conspiracy to evade the Eighteenth Amendment, the customs and the immigration laws.

The seizure action grew out of a rescue made by the Arlyn off Cape Hatteras in February, when she saved the crew of 14 aboard a disabled British rum runner, and also took aboard the cargo of 4000 cases of liquor valued at $500,000.

The crew was brought to New York, and the Arlyn is alleged to have put in at a pier where the liquor was discharged.

Polish Anti-Jewish Outrages Spreading

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Anti-Semitic movement, which has been agitating leading universities is spreading and in various cities public meetings have been held against the Jews. In Lona a dozen persons were injured in riots. At Nowogrodek students attacked Jewish pedestrians. In Cracow, where the trouble started, Jewish shops have been picketed and cafe windows smashed.

Mill Girl Trapped by Hair in Winder

Lowell, Nov. 14 (AP)—Margaret J. Brady, 23, was critically injured today when her hair was caught in a winding machine at the Ingham Worsted Co. mills.

BALANCES AND RECEIPTS

Washington, Nov. 14—Today's Treasury balance, $197,856,519; U. S. Customs receipts, $11,566,870.

JAPS AND CHINESE REBELS HEM IN MA-CHAN'S ARMY

ATTACKED ON 2 SIDES ALONG NONNI RIVER

Both Sides Continue the Guerilla Warfare, With 20,000 Troops Menacing Japs

Shanghai, Nov. 14 (INS)—A Japanese force of 1800 men, equipped with heavy artillery, crossed the Nonni river today and launched an attack upon the Heilungkiang army of Gen. Ma Chan-Shan, according to dispatches from Manchuria.

At the same time, a Chinese army of 9000 men, under Gen. Chang Hai-Peng was reported to be attacking the Heilungkiang troops west of Tahsing.

Ma Chan-Shan, defending Anganki and Taitsihar, had 20,000 men ready to meet the Japanese advance, the dispatches said.

Anganki Is the Prize for Which 2 Armies Battle

Copyright, 1931, by International News Service.

Mukden, Nov. 14 (INS)—Guerilla raids by Chinese cavalry upon Japanese outposts on the Nonni river front today marked the beginning of hostilities which were expected to culminate in a decisive battle for the control of Anganki.

Six Japanese were killed and several wounded in fighting near Tahsing as Gen. Ma Chan-Shan massed an army of 20,000 opposite the Japanese advance lines.

40 CHINESE SLAIN.

Reports reaching here indicated negotiations at Taitsihar between Ma Chan-Shan and the Japanese consul had broken down, the Chinese leader refusing to withdraw his troops beyond the Chinese Eastern railway.

In addition to the fighting of the Nonni river front, a clash occured today 100 miles north of Mukden between Japanese troops and Chinese bandit-troops.

Forty Chinese were killed and four Japanese wounded, according to a report to military headquarters here, when Japanese infantry dispersed a body of 300 Chinese at Kaiyuan in the South Manchuria Railway zone.

IS WELL EQUIPPED.

On the Nonni front, the Japanese position is regarded as more secure due to the repairs on the railway bridge, enabling the dismantling northward reinforcements, it should an emergency arise.

Japanese reports today said that the Heilungkiang army had been augmented, with the detachment of Chinese Eastern Railway guards, and that it was well-supplied with field guns, French mortars and anti-aircraft guns.

Dawes Sees Briand on Manchurian Problem

Paris, Nov. 14 (AP)—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes had his first contact with the Manchurian question today when he was received by Foreign Minister Briand, chairman of the League of Nations Council.

Ousted Pu-Yi May Form New Manchurian Regime

Tokio, Nov. 14—A report here today said Henry Pu-Yi, former Chinese Emperor, was being hustled to Kirin, Manchuria, instead of Mukden, where he is expected to set up a new government.

GIRL CRUSHED BY WHEEL

Miss Helen Callahan, of 38 Vine st., Medford, was seriously injured on her way to work today when she was hit by the rear wheel of a truck as she was stepping off a safety isle in Causeway st.

The driver of the truck, Edward Cook, of 820 E. 3d st., South Boston, did not know of the accident until a number of pedestrians stopped him. He says that Miss Callahan was still on the safety isle when he started to drive by, and that the woman must have misjudged the length of the truck and was hit by the rear wheel as it was passing.

Miss Callahan, who works in a Boston department store, was removed to the Haymarket Relief Station by the policeman, Andrew Spence. She is suffering from internal injuries and abrasions of both ankles.

Ex-Maine Mayor Is Sentenced for Theft

Bangor, Me., Nov. 14 (AP)—Monroe Y. McGown, former mayor of Ellsworth, today was sentenced to four years in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta by U. S. Judge John J. Peters.

McGown had pleaded guilty to conversion of funds and alteration of records of the Union Trust Co., where he was a teller.

Watch Your Adjectives -:-

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

WONDER WHAT THEY'D DO IF THEY HEARD WHAT SOME OF THE COACHES CALLED THE PLAYERS?
TED HUSING BARRED BY HARVARD FOR ANNOUNCING OVER RADIO THAT WOOD'S PLAYING WAS "PUTRID"
GRACEFUL AS A GAZELLE, MC SWOGGLE, LIKE A BRILLIANT METEOR FLASHED FORWARD. BUT HIS INABILITY TO CATCH HORNSWOGGLE'S PASS WAS— SHALL WE SAY— "LAMENTABLE" OR, AT THE LEAST, REGRETTABLE POSSIBLE NEW STYLE OF BROADCAST.
WHAM
ALL I KNOW IS THAT THEY TOLD ME TO TAKE OUT THIS PHONE BECAUSE YOU SAID THE SERVICE WAS "ROTTEN"!
WHAT A SAP I WAS TO CALL THAT BASE BALL UMPIRE A BUM!
A BUM SHOT
GOLFER DISQUALIFIES HIMSELF
HE SAID MY COOKING WAS "PUNKO," YOUR HONOR AND I WANT HIM BARRED FROM THE HOUSE
PLEASE FORWARD YOUR REGISTRATION AND DRIVERS LICENSE THESE HAVE BEEN CANCELLED BECAUSE YOU CALLED OFFICER MULLIGAN A "DUMB CLUCK"
Franklin Collier

GIRL, 12, USED IN R. I. CRIME

Providence, R. I., Nov. 14—United States secret service agents revealed today that a 12-year-old girl, a state ward, was used to pass counterfeit money, and an official investigation of state institutions with child inmates is expected to result.

The child, an inmate of the Oaklawn School for Girls at Cranston, was placed in the home of Joe Morelli of Pawtucket, alleged bootlegger with a record of imprisonment at Atlanta for robbing freight cars.

Morelli will be arrested, charged with using the child to pass the money, according to Secret Service Agents Walter Ferguson and James Fitzpatrick. Ferguson is a former bodyguard of President Coolidge and Fitzpatrick was until recently attached to the White House guard.

A former housekeeper for Morelli, Mrs. Cora Benaper, was recently given six months in Atlanta for passing counterfeit bills, the federal agents said. Morelli has been under surveillance by government men since his release from Atlanta, it was revealed.

CURLEY GIVES ROURKE BAG

Joseph A. Rourke, public works commissioner, who left City Hall today on a month's leave of absence because of ill health, was presented with a traveling bag by Mayor Curley and given a rousing sendoff by department heads. Unless his health improves Rourke may not return to active service but may act only in an advisory capacity.

"Nobody can say that you gave them anything but a square deal," the Mayor said as he presented the bag. "Your first interest has always been to protect the city. If every individual followed along those lines the city would be more prosperous.

"I know of no individual who has served the city during the past 30 years who has given more faithful service in the handling of public money than you."

Dr. Alfred Stearns, Academy Head, Ill

Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, headmaster of Phillips Andover Academy at Andover, is in Phillips House in Boston for observation. He was taken there after a faculty meeting which he attended on Tuesday, suffering from severe pains in the region of the gall bladder. Dr. Stearns will probably return to his home in Andover in a few days, it was stated at the academy today.

Stork Brings Baby After Mother Dies in Auto Crash

Columbus, O., Nov. 14 (AP)—A girl was born alive 15 minutes after the mother died of injuries received in an automobile accident.

The mother, Anna Martin, 35, died en route to a hospital victim of a fractured skull. Recognizing the emergency, physicians performed a Cesarian operation in 30 seconds.

Dr. Joseph Price of Mercy Hospital said the baby would have been born within a week had the mother lived.

GIBBONS OFF TO CHINA FOR INS

New York, Nov. 14 (INS)—It was announced today by J. V. Connolly, president of International News Service and Universal Service, that Floyd Gibbons, famous war correspondent, will leave New York tonight for Manchuria to cover the Sino-Japanese situation.

His daily dispatches will be radioed to the United States from the zone of fighting for publication in newspapers associated with International News Service or Universal Service.

The American is the only Boston daily paper using Universal Service and International News Service.

TODAY

Continued From First Page

ments might increase it 100 per cent.

Speculators on the short side, take warning.

Newspaper readers discuss one of many "interesting American shootings."

A young man named Donaldson, aged 24, wooed too well a girl whose acquaintance he made at 17. The girl's father says Donaldson admitted his guilt in connection with the girl, whom he did not marry.

The girl's brother killed Donaldson and the father related that Donaldson, a powerful young athlete, made conditions worse by knocking down the girl's father, also knocking down her brother, and knocking out some of his teeth.

The other side of the story remains to be told in court, but juries and human nature being what they are, if the girl confirms her father's story, it is not probable that her brother will be sent to join Donaldson via the electric chair.

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

23 BOSTONIANS ON LACONIA

When the Cunard Line steamship Laconia sails tonight from Cuba, where she left Boston, 23 Cruise passengers will be among the 300 passengers for Queenstown and Liverpool.

The Greater Bostonians include: Kenneth Lindsey, Dedham, who is making his annual visit to England; Miss Evelyn Coombe and Miss R. Vinter, both of Chestnut Hill; Miss Helen E. McIver of Boston; Miss D. Shaw, who has been attending the Christian Scientists clinic; Mrs. Carrie E. Mitchell of Hull.

Miss Millicent Hannon, of the State Department of Public Welfare, will also be a passenger, others are Mrs. Bertha Hume, and John Hume, of Malden; Miss Esther Holmes, of Melrose; Miss Jane Fairlie Nicholl of Roslindale; W. E. Hopkins, of Boston; Miss Hannah Wilson of Melrose; Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Wicks of Roxbury; Mrs. Rose A. Scales, Misses R. M. Scales and J. D. Scales, of Waltham.

CRACK 'OWL' IN WRECK; 3 HURT

Continued From Page

track 36 and a majority of its passengers aboard. Perhaps 50 in the various Pullmans examined the privilege of late sleeping and those who were hurt, or shaken up.

A half-hour after arrival of the train the Pullmans were detached and a switching engine pulled them out into the yard to abort them. Then on Track 25 early each morning, the late sleepers slept.

They had been drawn beyond the switching point at the signal tower 250 yards from the station platform and were backing into the station again when the locomotive and baggage car, backing out, crashed into them.

POLICE RUSH TO SCENE

The foremost steel Pullman was derailed and is front end crushed. The wooden baggage car that hit it was also derailed and splintered for nearly half its length.

Emergency calls sent ambulances and a police detail from Station 4 under Sergt. John F. Flynn.

Two of the injured were carried from the wrecked Pullman on stretchers and taken to the hospital in an ambulance. Howell went there in a taxi-cab. All were treated by Dr. Bernard J. Devine.

McPherson, who is assistant chief land appraiser for the Southern Railway system and came here from Washington, was in his berth, asleep, when the collision occured.

"All I know is I went to sleep when the train pulled out of New York and I awoke in the hospital here," he said.

WASHROOM IS CRUSHED.

Howell, who was en route to the Andover-Exeter game, was in the washroom at the time of the crash. With him was Fella, who came here to visit a nephew, Alexander Stero, a student at Tehnology.

The washroom was crushed in such a manner that partitions had to be pried apart before they were extricated, Fella said. At the hospital his great concern was over the fact that he was obliged to wear a hospital "Johnny" and could not have his own pajamas.

The crew in charge of "The Owl" were William Mason, conductor; F. H. Field, engineer; Thomas McHugh, fireman.

Bid for Bluenose to Use as Racer

Lunenburg, N. S., Nov. 14 (AP)—A group of New Brunswick men would like to buy the Bluenose, queen of the North Atlantic fishing fleets, for use as a race Capt. Angus Walters, her famous skipper, said today he has an inquiry of a letter asking the price on the schooner.

STATE TO VOTE ON AUTO RATE

Rate Lists on Page 5

The first step toward giving the people a chance to vote on abolishing the zone rate system for compulsory auto insurance was taken today.

Two groups filed initiative petitions at the State House, calling on the Legislature to establish a flat rate system covering the whole State, and if the Legislature fails to do so the question will go to the people at the 1932 election.

There was a race between the two groups and both petitions were filed almost simultaneously. One group was headed by Representative C. F. Nelson Pratt of Saugus and the other by Representative Frank McFarland of Boston.

Atty. Gen. Joseph E. Warner approved the petitions as to form, and Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook issued blanks for signatures. If 20,000 signatures are obtained by the first Wednesday in December, the question will come up before the legislature which meets in January.

Insurance companies were reported today to be planning an appeal to the Supreme court because unsatisfied with the new rates, in spite of the increases which the legislature failed to change in a special session costing the state $139,126.50.

EAST BOSTON IS GRATEFUL TO AMERICAN

Appreciate Drive to Further Ely's Measure to Clear the Hulks From Chelsea Creek

Words of appreciation for the successful drive to pass Gov. Ely's request for $65,000 for the removal of rotting hulks from Chelsea creek were received by the Boston Evening Amiceran from the Foreign Commerce Club, through Frank Flaherty.

The work expected to start the first of next week, will provide work for approximately 200 men, and will take about six months before it is completed.

The Boston Evening American lent its whole-hearted support toward the removal of the derelicts, and joins with waterfront organizations and residents of East Boston in thanking the Legislature and Gov. Ely for their efforts in making the work possible.

The letter follows:

"Editor Boston Evening American:

"The people of East Boston are deeply grateful for the wholehearted co-operation of the Boston American and other organizations in the effort to remove the unsightly hulks from the shores of Noddis Island.

"Especially are we appreciative of the untiring efforts of the Boston Port Authority staff through whose diligence, we feel, the matter was finally and convincingly placed before the proper state and city officials.

"Sincerely

"Frank Flaherty,

"Foreign Commerce Club."

Tipped Off

Norma Taylor, of New York, received a friendly tip that her husband, William Duryea, was entertaining another girl. She taxied over and says that she obtained all the evidence for the divorce that she is instigating. (International Newsreel photo.)

DIVORCEE SUED BY STUDENT

Declaring she and her attorney threatened to throw him out bodily, Arthur Weiss, 23, Harvard Law School senior, and son of a rich New York chain store magnate, has launched court action to force Mrs. Mae Carpenter, Cambridge divorcee, to let him lodge at her apartment on Wars st.

Mrs. Carpenter was divorced by her wealthy husband, James F. Carpenter, in Middlesex probate court last November.

Accordingly to her and her attorney, Patrick J. Delaney, they ordered Weiss out because he insisted on having a "relay" of girl visitors during the evening hours, including a telephone operator, a Cambridge teacher and a maid.

Weiss asserts he is a joint lessee of the apartment and cannot be thus put out, and he has obtained a temporary injunction in Middlesex Superior Court, naming both Mrs. Carpenter and Atty. Delaney as respondents.

"Weiss brought in his girl friends, in relays," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"I insisted they leave at 10 o'clock and that he keep the door of his room open, while they were there. It was the last straw when he had a relay of woman visitors beginning at 8 o'clock with a telephone operator, then followed a school teacher at 9, and at 12 a maid who lives nearby. I protested, but they defied me."

Weiss was ordered out Thursday, but Mrs. Carpenter and Atty. Delaney consented to let him stay there that night if he would depart by 6 p. m. yesterday. Instead, the court papers were served on them late yesterday, and Weiss spent the night in his room, as usual.

Weiss denies having the various girl visitors, but admitted that a Cambridge teacher, who he said is a very good friend of his, was a caller at his apartment.

"I don't drink, so if anybody said there was any parties there, it is untrue," said Weiss.

"The law school authorities, including Vice-Dean Calvert Magruder, approved of my rooming at this apartment, and my father also approved it. My attorney is Prof. Leach of the Harvard Law School."

Police Hunt Clues in Payroll Holdup

Police today continued their search for clues to the robbers who stole a payroll of $883.48 from the office of the George H. Lincoln Foundry, 191 Old Colony ave., South Boston, and escaped in an automobile.

The money had been delivered to the firm only a few minutes before the robbery yesterday, and Miss Mary Klabe, cashier, was arranging it in envelopes when she was startled by the command, "Throw them up and fork over that dough." Turning she was confronted by three men, two of whom were pointing pistols at her and the third making for the money.

Maud Tait Fails, but Flies at 215-Mile Clip

Detroit, Nov. 14 (AP)—Miss Maud Irving Tait, Springfield, Mass., society aviatrix, failed in another attempt at a new world's record today by a narrow margin, driving her Gee Bee monoplane over a measured course at a speed of 214.992 miles an hour.

To establish a new record Miss Tait was required to make a speed of 215.6 miles an hour, or five miles an hour faster than the record held by Miss Ruth Nichols. Miss Tait, late yesterday, piloted her plane over the same course at an average speed of 211.82 miles an hour.

HOOVER SHUTS SELF IN, PENS HIS MESSAGE

Leaping Deficit Foreshadows Possibility of Tax Boost; Home Banks Favored

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Hoover retired to the seclusion of his White House study today to begin his annual message to Congress, which he intends to focus directly upon relief of the economic situation.

At least half a dozen of the President's recommendations can be forecast in part. With approval of the moratorium a first consideration, he plans to center his suggestions next upon measures designed to dynamite jams from the path of prosperity.

Realizing the shortness of time before Congress gathers Dec. 7, he set aside the entire day for this task. Visitors have been denied engagements.

TAX JUMP LOOMS

Only yesterday the President made a new recommendation to his message. He announced he would ask Congress for establishment of a system of 12 home loan discount banks designed to accelerate home building and relieve strain upon institutions dealing in mortgage loans.

One of the foremost problems to be dealt with is the leaping deficit.

The President has refrained from hinting as to whether he would place the administration for or against an increase in taxes. With the deficit approaching $700,000,000, it is certain he will recommend some step to reduce this figure.

Mr. Hoover has served notice he would ask Congress to deny the request of what he calls "sectional interest" so as to conserve federal expenditures. He has stressed this particularly in regard to increased bonus legislation.

WORLD COURT ISSUE

Other suggestions are expected to revolve around proposals for broadening the base of paper eligible for rediscount by the Federal Reserve system. The Chief Executive now is expected to leave details of this step to Congress.

It is expected he will ask for prompt consideration of the World Court problem, which rests in the Senate foreign relations committee.

He has before him also the proposal of a budget message, which he considers equally important this year with the usually ascendent annual message.

ARREST ENDS FACTORY PLAN

Continued From First Page

said DuBois. "He impressed me favorably. I thought it would be fine to have a new industry here which would employ 500 persons in three days.

"I went over to the Manufacturers' National Bank and consulted President Mulvey. He and I then went down to the local hotel and had a talk with Livingston. President Mulvey thought he was all right but said he would check up on him.

HELD FOR NEWTON

We telephoned Philadelphia and were told Livingston was wanted in several places. We communicated with the chief of police and Livingston was shifted from his hotel room to the lockup next door and held for the Newton police."

In Newtn Court today Livingston was held in $5000 for giving Joseph Hickey, a Newton real estate realtor, a check for $2500 as a deposit on a $40,000 home. He had previously deposited a check for $10 on a closed Philadelphia bank in the Waltham Trust Co. on which he drew the $2500 check.

Newton police say Livingston's specialty is trying to interest Chamber of Commerce officials in "million dollar deals" of various kinds. They say he is a noted "con" man who has worked under various aliases, including George A. Salisbury.

20 YEARS IN JAILS

He has spent 20 years of his life in prisons for various offenses and was released from Philadelphia jail on 1 last April.

Within a month of his release he was trapped in a Boston hotel and arrested in connection with an attempt to swindle Carl Bishoff, president of the Lewiston, Me., Chamber of Commerce.

On that occasion he tried to interest Bishoff in the construction of a new knitting mill there.

Curley in Visit to Stricken Aid

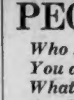
William F. Mullen of 24 Mora st., Dorchester, of Mayor Curley's secretarial staff, is at City Hospital suffering from appendicitis. The mayor visited him last night.

PEOPLE

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Too Much Talk, Too Little Action, Says Gov. Ritchie

New York, Nov. 14—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, prescribed an antidote of more "love, forbearance and neighborliness," instead of so many experts and so much "talk" to relieve the economic depression of America last night.



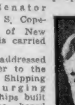
Albert C. Ritchie

"If we could all get our feet on the ground, see things whole and recover our morale, this crisis would be over the sooner," he told the Academy of Political Science.

"Perhaps we have too many doctors at the bedside," he continued. "Too many plans and experts. Too much diagnosis and prognosis. Too much talk and too little action."

Copeland Would Make Idle Ships Into Homes for Jobless

New York, Nov. 14—Jobless ships may provide homes for jobless men this winter if a proposal endorsed by Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York is carried out.



Senator Copeland

He addressed a letter to the U. S. Shipping board urging that ships built by the board during the war and now lying idle in the North and East rivers here be made into habitations for homeless men and women.

Senator said he believed the plan would be applicable also to such ports as Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, San Francisco and Seattle.

Rev. Shuler Loses Fight To Continue Broadcasts

Washington, Nov. 14—His attempt to continue broadcasting over Station KGEF, of the Trinity

Rev. Mr. Shuler

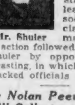
Methodist Church, South, of Los Angeles, has been lost by the Rev. Robert Shuler, of that city.

The radio commission after a long controversy denied the application of KGEF for renewal of its license. The station must leave the air as soon as the decision can be made effective.

The action followed a bitter fight on Shuler by opponents of his broadcasting, in which he frequently attacked officials and citizens.

Mary Nolan Peeved At Bill Collectors

Hollywood, Nov. 14 (INS)—"There are lots of people broke and think because I'm Mary Nolan they can get money from me."



Mary Nolan

Miss Nolan, screen actress, today struck out at "annoyers" following her appearance in two courts.

She was in court on a charge of failure to pay a $50 medical bill, and trial was set for Dec. 8.

Then she was in first court room a deputy served her with a summons to appear in another court for failure to appear in a wage claim action. She was released on bond with arraignment set for Nov. 23.

British Tennis Ace Weds Stage Beauty

London, Nov. 14 (INS)—H. W. Austin, England's foremost tennis star, was married at noon today to Miss Phyllis Konstan, film and stage actress, at the old Hampstead Parish church here.

Phyllis Konstan

John Olliff, track star and tennis player who as Austin's partner in double matches, was best man.

Miss Konstan, a handsome Austin first met when they were en route to New York last spring on the Berengaria.

Stars in Today's American

O. O. McINTYRE — New York Day by Day

CLAUDE G. BOWERS — Why World Looks on Us as Simple Simons

BETTY ALDEN — Beacon Hill Society Gossip

ELSIE ROBINSON — Listen, World!

EDGAR A. GUEST — Just Folks

Dr. R. S. COPELAND — Health Hints

GILBERT SELDES — True to Type

HELEN ROWLAND — Marry-Go-Round

3000 ABNORMAL CHILDREN DEPRIVED OF CARE IN BAY STATE

SUES OVER GIRLS

MRS. MAE CARPENTER

Mrs. Mae Carpenter, divorced last November by James F. Carpenter, well-known Bostonian, has been sued by Arthur Weiss, Harvard law student, to enjoin her from ousting him from a Cambridge apartment he rents from her. She charges he brought "relays" of girls to his room.

ARTHUR WEISS

CANNON CRITIC IS SUSPENDED

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 14 (AP)—The Rev. Rembert G. Smith of Sparta, Ga., has been convicted of "gross imprudences and unministerial conduct" by a committee of 13 members of the North Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and his suspension for one year recommended.

The minister had been outspoken in opposition to what he described as political activities" of some of the leaders of the southern church, and vigorously criticized Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and others of the church for their part in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Coalition Blamed for Strike Collapse

Lawrence, Nov. 14—Responsibility for collapse of the strike of 25,000 textile workers was placed on "a coalition of employers, bankers, tradesmen, editors and the clergy," by the Central Labor Union and the United Textile Workers, at a meeting of 3500 members of these organizations at Labor Hall.

This is the first outright admission by the unions that the strike has failed. A statement prepared by the executive committees, embodying this "finding" was unanimously adopted.

Bandit Escapes in Stolen Auto

Fleeing in a stolen automobile after a holdup in Dexter st., Newton, failed, a bandit escaped last night.

The automobile, owned by Frank W. Lane of 399 Washington st., Newton, was stolen, the bandit appeared in it at Walnut and Dexter sts., where he attempted to hold up John Burnstill of 838 Walnut st., but Burnstill had no money.

Worcester Man Is Cleveland Suicide

Cleveland, Nov. 14 (AP)—A man who killed himself by leaping from the ninth floor of a downtown hotel Wednesday was identified by authorities today as Corp. Eugene A. Zaideen of Worcester, Mass.

Police School to Open on Monday

Boston will start its first compulsory police school, which must be attended by every member of the force under 40 years of age, Monday morning at police headquarters with a class of 200 patrolmen in attendance.

SCENE OF TRAGEDY

The living room in the home of Justin L. Cobb at Mansfield, where the quarrel which culminated in the slaying of Cobb started. Broken parts of a child's toy chair, with which Cobb is said to have struck his wife, are shown beside the couch, on which Mrs. Cobb reclined after the tragedy.

THE DEATH WEAPON

Capt. Van Amburgh, state firearms expert, examines the shotgun from which the fatal charge was fired into Justin L. Cobb in his home. The shotgun had been used, a short time prior, by Cobb on a hunting trip. One discharge tore Cobb's jaw away after the fight. (Staff photos.)

Intense Remorse Grips Stoic Slayer in '400' Tragedy

POLICE AMAZED AT FAMILIES' ATTITUDE

Blasting Publicity of Murder Is Met With Cool, Calm Good Breeding

By DOROTHY DUCAS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Copyright, International News Service

Philadelphia, Nov. 14 (INS)—Trouble brings out the true stuff in men, they say. If it is so, then the cast of characters in the gruesome murder drama of Francis A. Donaldson, 3d, and Edward H. B. Allen are human beings of grit.

Ever since the shotgun in Eddie Allen's hands blasted the names of the two socially prominent Quaker City families on to the front pages every member of those families has been subjected to the closest scrutiny.

All the men and women who played a role, no matter how insignificant, in the story of Rose E. W. Allen's affair with "Skinny" Donaldson, which ended in his death at her brother's hands, have been interviewed, telephoned, followed, investigated.

NEVER FALTERED

Not once in the five days which have elapsed since the shooting has any one of them been bereft of civility shorn of courage. In one of the most painful and embarrassing situations possible both the Allens and the Donaldsons have struggled to bear up like the ladies and gentlemen they are.

These Philadelphia people are all doing the things they think right, doing them with dignity. They are clinging fast to the determination to stand this supreme test of their lives.

Even Eddie Allen, whose contemplation of the future might well unnerve him to the point of indiscretion, has preserved a stoical calm. He is not indifferent, as has been charged.

INTENSE REMORSE

He is a sensitive, delicate lad, suffering intense remorse. That is apparent in his face. But he is ready to bear his trouble alone. He has not even appealed to his own father for sympathy.

Mr. Donaldson and his wife have been bearing their own cross. Their elder son murdered their younger son dead but eight months, they have had the spotlight of publicity upon them in an hour when they wish desperately to be entirely alone.

And what of Rose Allen, the 18-year-old girl whose love for the fascinating "Skinny" Donaldson has brought him to death and her to the sorrow of a lifetime, before she has attained maturity?

Rose has done the only thing possible for her: She has retired from the world. She is grimly trying to interest herself in the petty processes of living. She bends over a table, the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle in her hands.

Aliens Finding U. S. Bars Going Higher

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—An alien who is allowed to come into this country nowadays is fortunate in being able to get in at all.

Only 8 per cent of those eligible for admission under quotas were granted immigration visas during September. The figures, issued by the State Department, showed 1213 visas as compared with 14,883 quota numbers available in 21 countries.

TO SLEEP IN CAR, WAKES ON COT: 'WHAT, NO PAJAMAS?'

Lewin D. McPherson of Chicago went to sleep in his berth on the New Haven's crack "Owl" in New York last night. He awoke like this today in the Haymarket Relief Hospital—and was surprised.

Entimio Falla, a sugar planter here from Havana, had one grievance after the South Station wreck: At the Haymarket Relief Hospital he wanted his pajamas, but he had to don a hospital "johnny," for he was among the injured. (Staff photo.)

RECOVER BODY OFF NAHANT

The body of Francis Casselly one of two Everett men believed drowned when their light skiff capsized as a 62-mile wind swept the coast, was found early today by the Nahant Coast Guard.

The body of his brother-in-law, Charles E. Dorris, Everett garage owner, is still missing.

Edward A. Ward, on lookout duty at the Nahant station discovered the body 900 yards out on the mudflats. An Everett fireman identified the body. Casselly, a member of the Everett fire department, was 34 and lived in Kenwood rd.

The pair started out at noon yesterday to secure their drifting motorboat. They failed to return and friends notified police and coast guard stations. Later their skiff was found overturned.

FLAMES SWEEP 1500 ACRES

More than 1500 acres of woodland and brush were burned over today as the toll of three separate fires in and around Canton which are now under control.

Apparatus from Sharon, Randolph, Stoughton, Canton and the State forestry department combined forces with nearly 300 volunteers to subdue the flames.

In the face of a brisk wind firemen had to work hard to save many homes in the path of the flames but with the aid of back fires and water curtains succeeded in beating back the flames from every home threatened.

Chesterton's Uncle Dies in Ottawa

Ottawa, Nov. 14 (AP)—Walter Chesterton, 8, architect and artist and uncle of Gilbert K. Chesterton, English author, died last night. He came to Canada in 1870, and had practiced his profession in Montreal, Ottawa and Winnipeg, the pioneer architect of the prairies.

Quincy Man Gets League Court Post

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 14 (AP)—Rene Tyler, of Quincy, Mass., has been appointed representative of the League of Nations financial committee at Budapest, Hungary.

Riley Girl Will Never Erase Cruelty Scars

Picture on Page 5

Washington, Nov. 14 (INS)—Edith Riley, the cupboard baby, will carry through life the effects of solitary confinement in a dark closet and other cruelties allegedly inflicted upon her during the four years by a jealous step-mother.

Mrs. Edith Sutherland Elmore, chief psychologist at Gallinger hospital, expressed this opinion.

Mrs. Elmore made the intelligence test which led Dr. Joseph Gilbert, psychiatrist of the hospital, to refute the stepmother's assertion that the child was feebleminded.

Mrs. Elmore said:

"Proper care and treatment may restore energy to the almost lifeless limbs and lift the clouded mind, but it does not appear likely the child ever will fully recover. She will probably be subject always to emotional disturbances."

Mrs. Elmore said her test convinced her the child was not feebleminded and there was nothing to indicate she had ever suffered from idiotic tendencies.

"She is sub-normal at the present time, but certainly not an imbecile," Mrs. Elmore added. "When I mentioned her home life she was strangely mute and she just stared straight ahead."

Mrs. Elmore said the child did not appear the type which would have to be locked up to prevent her injuring herself.

"She is extremely docile and obedient," she said. "She follows commands almost automatically, like a robot doll. This gives one the impression she has been subject to severe discipline."

Mrs. Elmore revealed the grand jury investigating the case asked the hospital for a psychological report. It is expected indictments will be returned against the father and stepmother next week.

Meanwhile relatives reveal that never in her youthful life has Louise Riley, pretty 20-year-old sister of Edith, the Bat Baby, had a beau or owned a pair of dancing slippers.

She was never allowed out with boy friends and knew not the companionship of girls until she left home two months ago.

Now with her uncle, Malcolm Annadale, she longs for good times and pretty clothes. One of the first things she is going to buy "when things are all right" is this pair of party slippers for which she has longed.

"Of course, I don't know how to dance, but I guess I can learn," she said today. "It will be wonderful having a real party dress and going to a real party."

NOT GUILTY, IS POWERS' PLEA

Clarksburg, W. Va., Nov. 14 (AP)—Harry F. Powers, "Bluebeard," pleaded not guilty today to charges of killing Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher and her three children of Park Ridge, Ill., and Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke of Northbridge, Mass.

The prisoner's counsel petitioned for a change of venue, averring that Powers could not obtain a fair trial in Harrison County.

WAR CHIEF ASKS ANTI-AIR GUNS

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—The army's chief of coast artillery believes "enormous demands will be made on our anti-aircraft forces in the event of a major emergency, for the defense of cities as well as military establishments."

This observation made today in the annual report of Maj.-Gen. John W. Gulick, to Secretary Hurley, was accompanied by a strong recommendation that additional aircraft defense measures be undertaken.

HUSBAND ACCUSED HER

Mrs. Emily Roberts Cobb, 26, charged with murder of her husband, is shown in photo taken before tragedy entered her life. She is now under guard in Ducy Hospital, Brockton.

'PIN' DOCUMENT GOES ON BLOCK

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—A hundred and eleven years ago a small boy and his sister in Salem, Mass., affixed their signatures to a very important little document and "conglomerated" themselves into a pin society.

The document went on view today at the American Art Anderson Association galleries where it will be auctioned and bid for in terms of thousands.

Nathaniel Hawthorne and his sister Louisa, though, weren't thinking in terms of money when they drew up their document. They were interested in pins. If one of them lost at battledore or shuttlecock he or she paid so many pins into the treasury.

The pin society loaned its capital to members of the household at the interest of one pin a day for every ten.

GANDHI FEARS ILLS FOR INDIA

London, Nov. 14 (AP)—If England does not grant complete self-government, India will be "plunged into turmoil and suffering" again, Mahatma Gandhi said today.

He made this statement to Lord Irwin, the former viceroy, who is said to have more influence with Gandhi than any other Englishman.

Lord Irwin was making a final effort to win the Mahatma over before the round table conference ends next week. Gandhi has said several times, and he said it again today, that he has no hope that the conference will grant any of the Indian Nationalists' demands, and that if he goes home empty-handed the civil disobedience campaign in India will start again.

MASHPEE BROKE OFFERS JOB

Mashpee, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Mashpee town treasury is empty, and the selectmen are looking for a tax collector "acceptable to the bonding companies."

No taxes have been collected in this little community of about 500 persons this year. Town officers and teachers have been without pay for three weeks, and even the poor have been cared for by orders on the board of public welfare.

Mashpee's troubles hinge about the office of tax collector. A recent collector was short in his accounts and his successor was asked by the selectmen on October 28 to resign.

LONGEST SPAN BRIDGE OPENS

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—Golden shears snipping a bright ribbon adds a new bridge today to the engineering marvels of the metropolis.

Aching the water between Staten Island, N. Y., and Bayonne N. J., it is a $16,000,000 single arch structure longest of its kind in the world.

Officials representing the two states were among the notables invited for the dedication.

The great structure, 1675 feet long is built over the Kill Van Kull, a strait north of Staten Island, through which pass yearly more ship tonnage than through the Suez Canal. The crown of the bridge is 227 feet above the water.

Wheat Sowings Cut

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—Russia's fall grain sowings to Nov. 1 were reported to the Agricultural Department today as 89,858,000 acres, or 84 per cent of the Soviet plan.

HOSPITALS FOR DEFECTIVES CROWDED

Victims Abandoned to Cruelty and Ignorance of Unsympathetic Families

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Hidden away from public glare, sheltered from critical eyes, misunderstood and probably maltreated by ignorant parents, close to 3000 mentally defective children throughout the Commonwealth are awaiting their chance.

But overcrowded conditions in the three state institutions keep the doors barred to them.

There must be neglect of these 2816 defectives if there are no institutions open for their care, Ernest Kavanagh, financial secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, said today.

NUMBERS INCREASE

Incidental to the horrible tragedies brought to light in the discovery of Irene Panno, seven-year-old girl who, tortured and abused, was found abandoned in Rutland, Vt., and Louise Riley, Washington's forlorn baby, the Boston Evening American has launched a campaign to publicize the care of needy children.

"Over 16,000 neglected children were reported to the society last year," Mr. Kavanagh began. "The ages of these children were less than 16. For the first nine months of 1931 a 7 per cent increase will be shown, bringing the number a little beyond 1000.

"Depression and unemployment, to some extent, are responsible, although if parents are cruel, they are cruel when times are good as well as bad.

"Massachusetts is in the first ranks in child welfare work. Yet there is still room for added appropriation and reform legislation. There is dire need of increased housing for mental defectives.

16,000 FEEBLE MINDED

"The institutions are over crowded. There should be more buildings. These schools should not be taxed to capacity and forced to send a defective back to the community because an emergency case must be taken in.

"The waiting list is close to 2000. With such a waiting list, it is obvious that only serious cases can be admitted. It is obvious that children are sent back into life and community activities when most likely they should be kept longer in the institution.

"It has been estimated that throughout the state more than 100,000 persons are feeble-minded. What percentage are children?

4 KILLED WHEN SCHOOL FALLS

Naples, Italy, Nov. 14 (AP)—Four persons, three of them children, were killed today in the collapse of a building, part of which was occupied as a parochial school. Thirteen, three of them children, were injured.

The accident trapped 100 school children on two floors where classes were in session, but the police under the personal supervision of Crown Prince Humbert, who is in charge of the Naples military area, brought most of them out unhurt.

The cause of the accident was not immediately determined, but it was raining heavily and it was believed that the building might have been undermined.

MA WILL PHONE GRANDI TOTS

Copyright, 1931, Associated Press

S. S. Conte Grande, Nov. 14 (AP)—The first thing Signora Donna Antonietta Grandi intends to do when she and Foreign Minister Dino Grandi wake in Washington Tuesday morning is reach for a telephone and ask the operator for "Prescati 82, Italy."

And within a few moments the two happiest children in Italy will be Franco Grandi, six, and his little sister, Simonetta, four. Their mother promised to call them right after reaching America and they will be waiting for their governess to tell them her voice is on the other end of the wire.

Get a good piece of real estate, buy it wisely, pay for it, keep it, and time it will keep you. See the sound values listed today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

News and Gossip of Greater Boston Society

JUNIOR LEAGUE DIRECTOR WILL SPEAK

BEACON HILL

—by—

Betty Arden

YES, WE HAVE NO ENGAGEMENTS! NO? HERE IT IS —Mrs. J. Mott Hallowell of Chestnut Hill is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Miss Anna (Nancy) Davis Hallowell, to Mr. J. G. Richard Heckscher of Strafford, Pa. This exciting news was really made known to family friends yesterday at a tea which Mrs. Hallowell gave in the happy pair's honor, at her home on Chestnut Hill ave.

Mrs. J. M. Hallowell

* * *

Miss Nancy is the charming and popular daughter of the late James Mott Hallowell. She is a graduate of the Beaver Country Day School, an event which took place in 1929, her debut coming off the following autumn at a never-to-be-forgotten dance (?) held at The Country Club the evening before the Harvard-Yale game. Her dancing talent was properly recognized by membership in both the Vincent Club and Junior League, and we have applauded her numbers in the V. C. shows ever since.

* * *

Mr. Heckscher is the step-son of Mrs. Stevens Heckscher of Strafford, Pa., and son of the late Stevens Heckscher and Henrietta Brown Heckscher. It is his sister who was married recently to one of the Whitneys, and his step-brother, Mark Hopkins, who was joined by the ties that bind last July, to Dorothy Rogers. He is a St. George's School and Harvard graduate, the latter having taken place last June. Among his clubs are the Fox and Philadelphia Racket. He is now engaged in studies at the Harvard Engineering School.

* * *

Wedding to Take Place Next June

A GROUP OF MISS NANCY'S FRIENDS SERVED AT the tea yesterday, including her cousin, Rebecca Hallowell, Elizabeth Wheeler and Elizabeth Hovey, that inseparable couple, Mary (Polly) Proctor, Elizabeth Loder, Laetitia Orlandini, Mary Frances McKey, Pauline de Friez and Elizabeth Stephenson. The wedding is planned for sometime during the coming June.

* * *

WE THOUGHT THE PRINCess De Lang a charming person, and an excellent speaker. We were completely fascinated by her stories of her life at the Manchu Court, and of the old Dowager Empress. Some people do have all the excitement in life. What fun to be a Lady-in-Waiting to a Queen. But now we think it over that's just what we are—to the Queens of Boston. Our queens don't drift lazily on bee-autiful lakes in gorgeous barges — but we think the Swan Boats in the Public Garden make a pretty good substitute, and at least are restful. The hair-dyeing episode amused us no end, and here we are not quite sure of our Boston comparison, but there are times when we wonder!

* * *

HOWEVER, WE ARE GLAD the costume that the Princess showed off to such advantage has not been taken up yet, as the NEWEST THING like the Eugenies, though of course, one never can tell. It is lovely worn by someone else, but could you see us traipsing around Beacon Hill in that headdress? Or those clogs? We gaze at our Orthopedics and sigh gratefully.

* * *

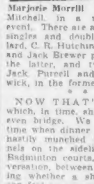
A VOTE OF THANKS TO the Princess for two hours of bliss in the Manchu Court. We came out of the Copley ready to step into our sedan-chair, hidden from the staring multitude by silken curtains, and what a comedown to have to climb unaided into the old Buick. Isn't that life?

* * *

MRS. RICHARD M. SALTONSTALL, Mrs. George S. Mumford, Mrs. Roger Scaife, Mrs. J. A. Lowell Blake and Mrs. Hamilton Osgood will be pourers at the tea to be given by the English-Speaking Union, at 33 Commonwealth ave., on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 19, in honor of H. E. M.'s Consul General George B. Beak, who has recently come to Boston from England. (H. B. M.?—what a mysterious title—Mis—Majesty's. What can His Majesty be now? We thought it should be R. for Royal, but then, of course he's always that!) To continue, though, Mr. Beak will speak informally at 4 o'clock, and another guest, Phyllis Boitema (Mrs. Ernan Forbes-Dennis), the well-known author of that fascinating book, "Windestrawa," will be introduced. Mrs. William A. L. Bazeley and Miss Charlotte Allen will be hostesses. We are dying to see the authoress, and we do love to meet English people. Such an extraORDNary accent.

* * *

SOME PERFECTLY GRAND Badminton matches have been planned for Monday evening, December 7, at the University Club, for the benefit of the Community Health Association. Play will be fast and furious, or it ought to be, with Mrs. Wightman and whoever is the lucky man for her partner, against Marjorie Morrill and Walter Mitchell, in a mixed doubles event. There are also to be men's singles and doubles, Jesse Willard, C. R. Hutchins, Newell Hurd and Jack Birney participating in the latter, and two Canadians, Jack Purcell and Harry Sedgwick, in the former.



Marjorie Morrill

* * *

NOW THAT'S A GAME which, in time, should transcend even bridge. We can picture a time when dinner parties will be hastily munched in the living rooms on the sideline benches of Badminton courts, the only conversation between mouthfuls being whether a short "pop-shot" can fool an opponent better than a high on the landing just inside the back line. Shades of Culbertson and Lenz! Even your great game will be o'er shadowed. Managing this fascinating tournament are Mrs. Gardiner H. Fiske, Mrs. Edward H. Warren, Mrs. Charles W. Cheney and Mrs. Francis C. Gray.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

MISS NANCY HALLOWELL with her fiance, Mr. J. G. Richard Heckscher, of Strafford, Pa., Miss Hallowell's mother, Mrs. J. Mott Hallowell, of Chelsea Hill, announced their engagement formally yesterday at a tea, given at her home. Mr. Heckscher is the step-son of Mrs. Stevens Heckscher, and son of the late Stevens Heckscher and Henrietta Brown Heckscher.

COMIC STRIPS KEY TO HUMAN EMOTIONS

When you romp with Skippy and let him confide his boyish problems to you, or cheer Popeye as he swings his mighty left through the enemy's ranks—

Do you know that you're a plaything of emotions and reactions that psychologists are trying to probe with all sorts of scientific charts and instruments?

CARTOON STRIPS STUDIED

Up at the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, for instance, Dr. F. L. Wells, head psychologist and instructor at Harvard, is giving a great deal of time and study to cartoons and comic strips just to show his classes that they depict mental reactions. He says that what appears to be merely a funny drawing by Percy Crosby, or John Held, Jr., is really an illustration of the way complexes and everyday human desires make themselves felt.

"Advertisers have long ago realized the importance of pictures and illustrations," said Dr. Wells. "I think that a picture of an idea always finds its way into the mind more easily than a lot of words and the impression made is more lasting."

The psychologist explained how certain drawings illustrate human desires and foibles.

STUDY ONLY FUN

"Take the drawing of the tardy man and woman standing on a pier, watching an ocean liner disappear down the bay. The woman says, 'Don't stand there —do something!' I find this illustrates the feminine reaction to almost any critical situation—she demands action whether the action makes any sense or not."

In his collection of cartoons clipped from magazines at home and abroad, Dr. Wells has classified most of the basic situations of the mind's workings. The truer the picture, the funnier the appeal, according to his study. Scratch a Krazy Kat and you find a human and pathetic case of frustration. That's why the staff of the Psychopathic has turned to this novel means of instruction, which really makes study a matter of fun.

Blanket Presented to Mayor Curley

A virgin wool blanket has been presented to Mayor Curley by the National Wool Week headquarters at New York, as a tribute of appreciation of his support in making wool week a success here.

The blanket was made from the 1931 clip of Andrew Little of Emmet, Idaho, largest individual wool grower in the country. He presented the wool free and the blankets were made without charge by Chatham Mills at Winston-Salem, N. C., so that Mayor Curley, with each governor and senator supporting wool week, might be presented with one.

Bridegroom, 70, Dies

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 14 (AP)—Carlton E. Hoadley, 70, well known in bankruptcy and formerly supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, died today. He was married four days ago.

PHOEBE HEARST SCHOOL STONE LAID TODAY

Washington, Nov. 14—Tiny tots from kindergartens and the capital's outstanding statesmen and educators today will join in tribute to Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst when the cornerstone of a public school, named in memory of her, is laid here.

The new school, designed to be one of the most beautiful in the capital's educational system, will be an appropriate memorial to the ideals toward the fulfilment of which Mrs. Hearst worked unsparingly. She founded the parent-teacher movement and originated kindergarten classes in public schools while residing in Washington during the tenure, in the Senate, of her husband, the late Senator George Hearst of California.

Two of Mrs. Hearst's grandsons, William, Randolph Hearst, Jr., and John Hearst, are coming from New York to set the stone in place.

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio and Senator Henry F. Ashurst of Arizona will speak. George R. Wales United States civil service commissioner, will preside.

A feature of the ceremony will be the tribute of a group of kindergarter children. They will be led by Miss C. R. Watkins, director of kindergartens in the District of Columbia public schools and one of the first graduates of Mrs. Hearst's kindergarten college.

Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of Washington schools, will tell of the invaluable contributions made by Mrs. Hearst to the district's education system.

Mrs. Joseph N. Saunders president of the District of Columbia Congress of Parents and Teachers and an associate of Mrs. Hearst, will tell of their work in Washington.

The Board of Education, which voted unanimously to give Mrs. Hearst's name to the new school, also will attend.

Lindbergh on Lone Flight to Florida

New York, Nov. 14 (INS)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, flying alone, took to the skies today and headed south for Miami.

He was flying the Lockheed Vega high wing monoplane, which he and Mrs. Lindbergh used to fly from Vancouver, B. C., to Newark, airport on the last stage of their return trip from the Orient. The plane was loaned by the makers.

Leonard Ceeley, Star of Stage, to Marry

Leonard Ceeley, known as one of the most unaffirmed bachelors on the stage admitted today that he had surrendered to matrimony.

When the permits in which he is now appearing "Marching By," now playing in Boston, opens in New York, November 23, he will be married to Miss Margaret Carlisle, Chatham Mills at Winston-Salem, N. C., so that Mayor Curley, with each governor and senator supporting wool week, might be presented with one.

Junior League Head to Speak

The second in the series of informal meetings of the provisional members of the Junior League will be held Monday, at 3:30, Mrs. Lyon Weyburn, regional director of the New England and Montreal Leagues, will tell this group about the organization and activities of the National Association of Junior Leagues of America.

The main object of the League is volunteer work, and, consequently they are trying to perfect this service. In the settlement group plans have been worked out where those members interested in drama are trained.

Miss Katherine Gilchrist,* who has studied professionally, leads a group of members in this field. During this instruction, the girls will go into the settlement houses and take the places of the club leaders among the children. The number of girls interested in doing this work include Miss Charlotte Rantoul, Miss Barbara Greenough, Miss Eleanor Parker, Miss Betty McGinley, Miss Barbara Bassett, Miss Elizabeth Shurtleff, Miss Emily Perkins, Miss Ellen Stone, Miss Eleanor Jones, Miss Mabel Hatheway. Miss Susan Bradlee, Miss Juliet Richardson and Mrs. Henry P. Pfieger.

Committee for Sale Named

Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, 2d, Mrs. Theodora G. Bremer, Mrs. Ernest Lovering and Mrs. Henry DuReis Tudor comprise the committee in charge of the exhibit and sale of needlework done by the foreign-born women and girls of the North Brighton Community Center, which is one of the departments of the Women's Municipal League of Boston.

The sale will be held at the home of Mrs. Everett Morss at 115 Commonwealth ave., on Thursday, Nov. 19, from 11 to 5. Tea will be served.

The North Brighton Community Center is located in Lincoln st., Brighton, and maintains 14 clubs and classes for children in that district. Mrs. Bremer is the chairman. The public is cordially invited to this sale.

Countess Ferdinand Colleredo-Mansfeld and her daughter, Countess Eleanore, are in New York, where they have taken a suite at the Ritz Tower for the season, starting Dec. 1. Between now and then they will be in Boston, staying with the I. Tucker Burrs who will later on introduce the young countess to society. The latter is the granddaughter of the late C. Oliver Iselin.

Hair Is Dressed Romantically

By ANN ARDEN

"BUT I would look silly with curls!" she protested. Yet the hairdresser calmly pinned a ringlet fetchingly behind her ear. And such, dear ladies, will be your fate if you consult the smart hair salons today. Sleek heads have been tabooed in the great wave of femininity. Heads are dressed simply but softly for daytime appearances —while for evening they become decked with pins, flowers and curls.

* * *

WE HAVE discussed this hair renascence tentatively before telling of chic Parisiennes who elaborate their coiffures for evening. But now we stress the importance of the coiffure to match the gracious fashion moods because every smart hairdresser is insisting upon it. Even bangs are back to veil the forehead and curls are sculptured in their conquest of modern heads.

* * *

ALLOWING YOUR head to once again become a "crowning" glory is rather delightful. Especially when the results actually enhance your best frocks as much as they do! You must bow your head to the edict—and you will not find it hard.

* * *

NEVER HAS it been so important to consider the arrangement of your hair in relation to your hat. And never has it been so easy to make a false step that will spoil the whole charming effect that might have been achieved.

* * *

THE COIFFURE pictured has been evolved to give prominence to the left side of the head, which truly is stressed this season by the almost universal tilt of our hats to the right. Wide waves follow the contour of the head, discreet curls soften the outline and puffs make a full neckline which may tuck under the brim, or add to the picture when the hat is a mushroom model. Both sides of this interesting coiffure are shown.

* * *

EVERYONE BELIEVES that she has a good and bad side to her face, and usually you find a clever woman emphasizing her best side to advantage. The arrangement of your hair can do the trick for you.

ANN ARDEN will answer questions concerning clothes, social customs or fashions generally. Address your questions to the Boston Evening American or the Boston Sunday Advertiser, or to Station WAAR.

Dahl Is Appointed

The Carpenter-Morton Co., manufacturers of Carmota paints, varnishes and enamels, announced today the appointment of Carl H. Dahl as assistant sales manager.

INDIVIDUAL COIFFURE

MODEL from WILFRED ACADEMY—American Staff Phto.

ANN ARDEN broadcasts latest style news over WAAB every Tuesday and Thursday at 11 a. m.

Monkeys Are Made to Resist in Infantile Paralysis Test

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—By making young monkeys no old for their age, two medical scientists at Columbia University have discovered a phenomenon which they hope eventually may lead to a powerful preventive weapon against infantile paralysis.

The scientists—Dr. Claus W. Jungeblut and Dr. Earl T. Engle—found during their experiments a promising link between susceptibility to the disease and a lack of the potent hormones that originate in the anterior pituitary glands of human beings as well as many animals.

Their results have been submitted in a preliminary report to the pediatric section of the New York Academy of Medicine.

Dr. Jungeblut and Dr. Engle injected extracts from the anterior pituitary glands of sheep and rats into immature monkeys of an age similar to the infantile period when children are most susceptible to the scourge. Then they inoculated the monkeys with a strong dose of infantile paralysis virus from human beings.

They resisted the disease entirely in some cases or developed only a passing attack of the paralysis in others.

Market Fish Bites Woman on Ankle

Baltimore, Nov. 14 (AP)—A 30-pound carp flopped from a fish stand in a market yesterday and bit Mrs. Tillie Levy on the ankle.

"Most unusual," said the attending physician at Johns Hopkins Hospital as he cauterized the wound.

True to Type

LET DREISER RETURN TO FACE HIS TRIAL IN KENTUCKY

By GILBERT SELDES

THE HAPPINESS of the Kentuckians of Pineville, who have clapped an indictment on the heavy sad shoulders of Theodore Dreiser, will not be diminished by an outcry in the newspapers. The country cutups have put one over on the city slickers and the best part of the fun is to watch the sophisticated squirm. More than that, the indictment is on a moral charge and the "evidence" was collected in the manner of cross-roads horseplay, with toothpicks leaned against the door behind which the offence was supposed to be committed. Because the toothpicks were not thrown down, the gleeful spies in the corridor assumed the worst. And nothing would please them better than the assertion that the morals of two individuals are as nothing compared with the organized brutality of a whole community which Dreiser went to Kentucky to investigate.

The Non-Sharer

In the first encounter, between Dreiser and Kentucky, Kentucky really came out ahead. Dreiser confessed that with an income of $35,000 a year, he contributed nothing to charity, preferring the pre-Christian virtue of taking care of his thirteen more or less unprosperous relatives. (A political leader in New York was mercilessly satirized for the same virtue.) It was of no avail to say that Dreiser contributed to causes, to projects which meant, in the end, to make charity unnecessary in a well-regulated world. The facts stared out of the headlines: in the day when every street corner blossoms with banners saying "I will share," Mr. Dreiser was not sharing. For the Kentuckians, this was admirable tactics.

The major strategy, of discrediting the Dreiserian investigation by accusing him of a breach of morals, is faulty. Candidates for the Presidency of the United States have been accused of adultery; one of them, at least, was elected in spite of the accusation, without ever sending out a contrary rumor. In Dreiser's case, the pointlessness is peculiar, for he has written the story of his own loves in such detail as to be tiresome, but with complete frankness. The Kentuckians are trying to put an elephant in jail because he isn't an antelope. I sincerely hope Mr. Dreiser will return to Kentucky to stand trial. It is a long time since Dayton, Tennessee, gave pleasure to the world.

A Certain Rich Man

The man who was called "the Morgan, Hill, Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, and Ford combined" of Japan, has just died, and in his obituary notice occurred an interesting item. On the day of each month, all his life, he devoted to religious matters, with passages of Confucius read to him. "He was one of the greatest authorities in Japan on Chinese classics, and was an ardent follower of Confucian precepts."

The monthly devotion to religions sounds both quaint and admirable, although it may have meant nothing more, in Japan, than a perfunctory Sunday morning in church means in America. Yet it sounds more impressive. The picture of this giant of industry and finance, reclining at his ease, listening to words of wisdom, refusing to conduct urgent business, is pleasing.

At the same time, I suspect that young Japanese radicals found this man as intolerable as Americans found the sanctimonious Daniel Drew. Distance lends not only pathos and enchantment, but a kind of paralysis of the critical faculties. After reading reports on the opening of Parliament, the other day, I went back in my mind to the time of the British electon. We thought of it, here, as a bitter struggle between men devoted to their principles; we believed that every man, in every party, was selfless and zealous. I don't think it ever occurred to me that any candidate was merely trying to hold his job, with its salary and its honors. Yet if we had an election here today, we would assume that nine out of ten candidates were in for the money and the privileges, and not for any principle whatever.

Naming Names

If a book is called Love Letters of a Living Poet, the only proper work for a critic is to criticize the poet's poetry; love letters are exempt from criticism and are usually exempt from publication, also. As no examples of Benjamin de Casseres' poetry occur in the volume, and I cannot bring myself to quote the letters of this extraordinary love affair which "defied Time (sixteen years), Space (three thousand miles) and Fate (a husband)," according to the flyleaf of the book, I will merely note down some of the salutations: Dearest, Dear Heart One, My Dream One, My Love-Urn, June Heart, Dear Heart of Love, Big Dark Eyes, Sacre Coeur, My Love-Dream, Honey-Hive (this one is, appropriately, signed The Bee), Brown-Bud of My Heart, and Crimson Love-Chalice. Also present are My Limpid Oasis of Love, Dolores, Mother of Pain, and Dear Dark Pet and Maty. Also Radiant Heart and My Wahneiah. And My Star-Bud.

As I said, criticism is an impertinence. But if Mrs. Dorothy Parker hasn't anything to write about . . .

The Engineer at Work

It occurs to me that future historians of our time may be able to say that President Hoover did a great service to humanity by discrediting utterly the idea of government by information, government by fact-finding, government by science. They may, of course, call it a disservice; that depends entirely on the course of government after we all are dead.

During the last election I ardently wished for Smith to be elected and feared that Hoover was the more appropriate man. We had become a highly organized society, based largely on technical processes, and it seemed to me that Smith should have been President in 1900 or so, when our simple era was ending, and Hoover, the engineer, should be President now. My heart and my head were divided.

So I take it as a personal relief that the engineer has not functioned as an engineer, and that after the Wickersham report and the Navy League Star-Chamber, we are back to the human, all-too-human.

Copyright, 1931.

Marriage Intentions

BOSTON

James M. Wood, Jr., 209 Randolph st., Milton, and Julia S. Glascoll, 114 Exeter st.

Robert J. Kirk, 7 Monument st., and Irene Purtell, 7 Monument st.

David Cohen, 61 College st., Chelsea, and Rose Berenson, 1011 Blue Hill ave.

Martin J. Whalen, 728 East 7th st., and Mary J. Doyle, 175 P st.

William S. Kramer, 773 Columbia rd., and Catherine Leary, 79 Liverpool st.

John F. Murray, 141 Vernon st., Wakefield, and Catherine E. Curley, 38 Woodward ave.

William T. Elliott, 24 Amsden st., Arlington, and Annie Brunn, 21 Sons st.

William J. Redgate, 197 Bunker Hill st., and Elizabeth E. McMullen, 233 Lawrence rd., Medford.

Angus W. MacAdams, 423 Center st., and Anna M. Richall, 856 Washington st., Norwood.

Nathan Rosen, 48 Grove st., Chelsea, and Anna Selkes, 58 Nightingale st.

Louis J. Prell, 293 Meridian st., and Josephine T. La Bella, 331 Eighth st.

John M. Londres, 1778 Commonwealth ave., and Evelia R. Nunez, 181 Laurel st., Malden.

Peter Keeley, 63 I st., and Catherine Egan, 112 Hillside st.

William D. Niven, U. S. S. Cassin, and Gladys Jordan, 10 Juniper st.

John P. Nolan, 34 Walnut pk., and Bertha P. Oglesby, 58 Walnut pk.

Chester J. Price, 15 Chaice st., and Laura G. Hunt, 14 Prince st.

CAMBRIDGE

Leo M. Kennedy, 30 Coakley st., and Julia M. Dwyer, 62 Huron ave.

Joseph F. McGinnity, 15 High st., and Marie H. Hammond, 176 Medford st., Somerville.

John J. McDougal, 12 Arnold Circle, and Celia M. Demic, 1 Parker st.

Charles A. Ratcliffe, 84 Blake st., and Rose Poirier, 10 Wyeth st., Lawrence.

18-YR.-OLD GIRL TO BE QUERIED IN SLAYING

Continued From First Page

had accused her, was withheld from Mrs. Cobb.

She is still under police guard at the Ducey Hospital, Brockton, suffering more from nervous shock and the effects of liquor, than from the minor injuries she claims to have sustained during a beating administered by her husband.

Chief Vickery and Detective Clemmey had planned to go to the hospital today and confront her with Cobb's accusing screed, but they decided to wait until tomorrow when informed she was still hysterical.

This charge of murder, buried from the brink of the grave by the victim, is counted on by police to blast Mrs. Cobb's alibi that her husband shot himself; it may send her to the electric chair.

WRITTEN IN BLOOD

Cobb started to write his grim accusation with his life's blood, dipping a finger in a pool beside him when his father asked him who had shot him.

Before he had finished tracing the first letter on the linoleum, his father handed him pencil and paper.

He was flat on the floor and gasping for breath as he wrote what the State considers its trump card against Mrs. Cobb.

His father, Justin L. Cobb, president of the First National Bank of Manahtan and head of the M. & J. L. Cobb jewelry plant, asked why she had done it, but his son at that time was unable to write any more.

COULDN'T SIGN PAPER

He did not sign the paper, but nodded his head twice to emphasize it and it was witnessed by his father and Chief Vickery.

The scene was melodramatic. Lying on a couch in the living room bleeding from a severe wound in the back of her head, hysterical and screaming, was the young wife but she was in no condition to be told then nor was she sufficiently calm and rational until today. The information stunned her.

In rambling, incoherent statements to the police and to doctors and nurses, Mrs. Cobb, who is binnae ami pretty, insisted that her husband shot himself.

DRANK FOR DAYS

"I know I will be charged with this, but I didn't do it," she almost screamed at times. "He chased me and pushed me down the cellar stairs. I didn't shoot him. He did it himself. Oh, why did he do it?"

Capt. Charles A. Van Amburgh, state firearms expert, visited the Cobb home and took fingerprints.

Mrs. Cobb was in frail health when she and her husband quarreled following a drinking bout that had lasted several days. She was under the influence of liquor the police said, when questioned by them at the hospital Thursday night a few hours after the shooting.

She had been a patient of the same hospital about six weeks ago, awaiting an operation, which was prevented by an attack of pneumonia. She had been home only a few weeks.

CHILDREN'S TOYS ON FLOOR

A sad touch in the home that was shattered by "moonshine" were the toys of the children, Justin, 3d, four, and Justine, two. Their dead daddy's parents are caring for the boy and Mrs. Steward, a neighbor, is caring, temporarily, for little Justine, who cries for her mamma.

A train of cast iron cars were near the couch, the pillow on which was stained with blood from Mrs. Cobb's head wound.

There was a neglected doll in a chair, a baby's sweater on the floor, a rug and an upset velocipede on the porch. On every side were tender marks of domesticity that had been sacrificed by the young parents' recent thirst for drink, mute symbols of the penalty and error of modern life.

Today little Justin and Justine have no daddy and their mama faces trial for murder. Empty fine and bottles in the cellar tell the reason why.

BROKEN JUG FOUND

Young Cobb was considered industrious and promising until shortly after his marriage, when he started to associate with men who spent much of their time drinking.

Supporters of his wife claimed today that it was he who taught her to drink when dining and entertaining friends in their home, and that after she had formed the habit he upbraided her.

Six feet from where Cobb was felled by that charge of buckshot, were the fragments of a gallon jug that gave forth fumes of cheap "hooch." Neighbors knew that the young couple were addicted to drinking, but did not realize they had carried it to such excess of late.

Young Cobb had begun to neglect his duties as junior member of his father's firm. His father, who lived a few doors away on the same street, had gone to his son's home at 5 o'clock Thursday evening to find out why he hadn't reported at the factory and was startled to find him on his hands and knees, bleeding, in the hallway leading from the kitchen to the cellar.

WIFE HIT WITH CHAIR

As reconstructed by Detective Clemmey and Chief Vickery, it appears that after a violent quarrel in the living room, in the course of which Cobb is thought to have struck his wife with a toy chair, found broken near a couch, he went to the cellar to attend to the furnace, as was his custom.

According to the police version, Mrs. Cobb, who had been severely handled and was in pain, went to his automobile in the rear of the house, got the shot gun which he had used hunting on the previous day, followed him into the cellar and shot him before he had a chance to defend himself.

The police say the weapon must have been within a foot or two of Cobb's face when fired. The reddtinted 12-gauge shell which had been automatically ejected was on the floor. On the floor of the cellar also was Cobb's new brown felt hat, tilted as if it had been blown off by the concussion.

In spite of the wound, which left him unable to speak, Cobb managed to crawl on his hands and knees up a flight of stairs to the entryway, where his father found him. His father helped him into the kitchen, but in order to escape suffocation, he was forced to lie first on his stomach, when he wrote the accusation against his wife, and later on his hands and knees. He crawled into the ambulance that carried him to Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, in Boston, where he died at 11:30 Thursday night.

He was shot at 4:45 Thursday afternoon. The time is fixed by Mrs. Susan Grebenstein, a school teacher, who lives up stairs in the double house which she owns. Mrs. Grebenstein said she had been back from school but a short time when she heard a report, which sounded stifled.

Dr. Frederick S. Griffin, the Cobb's family physician, was called. He said he got to Cobb first and that Mrs. Cobb did not come near her husband while he was in the house. He said she was lying on one of the twin beds in the bedroom off the dining room, hysterical and screaming.

RUSHED TO BOSTON

He said Cobb had been robbed of his speech by the ugly face wound but was strong enough to crawl into and out of the ambulance.

Dr. Griffin said he sent Cobb to Boston because he felt there were better facilities at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and that he considered the young man had a chance to be saved.

A warrant, charging Mrs. Cobb with murder, was issued by Senator James G. Moran of Mansfield, who is warrant commissioner for this section of Bristol County. The warrant was taken to Ducey Hospital by Sergt. William L. Currivan.

Officers George A. Ring and Arthur Conrad have been alternating as guards over the accused woman.

Mrs. Cobb, who looks younger than 26, was born in Quincy. At the age of five she was taken to the home and adopted by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Roberts, who live on Main st. Emily was never legally adopted, but when married to Cobb on April 4, 1925, she gave the names of her foster parents as her real parents. She said she was 19 at the time.

IN DEMAND AS DANCER

She was graduated from Mansfield high school in 1922 and later took a course at Emerson School of Oratory in Boston. She became so proficient in public speaking that she won a gold medal in a local contest. She was also prominent in amateur theatricals and conducted a dancing school. She was in demand as an amateur to the dancer before her marriage.

Cobb, who was of medium build, has been an athlete at high school and at Peddie Institute in New Jersey. He was president of the Lambda Sigma Fraternity at the Institute. Finishing his college course, he became a traveling salesman for his father's firm and recently was made a junior partner. He was popular in business and social circles.

SANDMAN VISITS LITTLE BAT GIRL

Unafraid of awakening to new cruelties and aching bones from a bed on the hard floor of a closet, little Edith Riley, who, police say, was kept in a living tomb four years, is pictured sleeping peacefully in her crib at the Gallinger Hospital in Washington, while her doll watches over her through the night. Often a smile flickers over the child's face and the kindly nurses wonder what new happiness the little "bat" girl is discovering in dreamland. If Dolly knows she can't tell. (International Newsreel photo.)

4 Teams Left in Battle for Vanderbilt Bridge Cup

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—Four strong contract bridge teams moved into the finals of the Vanderbilt cup tourney today.

The qualifying teams were: Harold S. Vanderbilt, donor of the cup, R. J. Leibenderfer, Gratz M. Scott and Edwin H. Wetzlar; Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson, present holders of the cup; Baron Waldemar Von Zedtwitz and Theodore A. Lightner; Philip Hal Sims, Willard S. Karn, Oswald Jacoby and David Bruenstine, and the Cavendish club team consisting of Walter Malowan, John Waltheys, Howard Schenken and Sherman Stearns.

The Culbertson team won its semi-final match by 3300 points from the Brooklyn Bridge Club team. The Vanderbilt team beat Mrs. Philip Hal Sims, John Rau, Philip Farley and Louis H. Watson by 2380 points to reach the finals. The team headed by Malowan defeated the Knickerbocker Whist Club team by 300 points. The team headed by Philip Hal Sims defeated Leroy Slater's team by 2310 points.

In interesting hand which played a part in their victory follows:

NORTH
Spades—A K Q 10 x x x
Hearts—None
Diamonds—10 9
Clubs—Q J 6 3
EAST
Spades—J x x
Hearts—Q x x x x x
Diamond—x
Clubs—K 10 x
SOUTH
Spades—x
Hearts—J 10 7
Diamonds—A K J x x x x x x
Clubs—None
WEST
Spades—x x
Hearts—A K x x
Diamonds—x
Clubs—A x x x x x

First Winter Snow Sweeps Over Spain

Madrid, Nov. 14 (AP)—The first snow storm of the winter swept out of the northern mountains today and sent the temperature down below freezing. Several small villages in the Aran Valley were reported snowed in, with telegraph lines down.

Parkers Robbed

A bandit robbed a parked couple of $22, near the home of Mayor Sinclair Weeks in West Newton, according to a report made by Adolph Pearson of 627 Calvert st., Medford.

RASTUS COMING TO WHITE'S

Rastus, a live chimpanzee of "Our Gang," is shown above, ready to take the highway for his morning drive, mounted on a tricycle. Children of New England are invited to welcome Rastus to Boston, on Sunday afternoon, when he arrives at the North Station, for his appearance at the R. H. White Company's store, beginning Monday. (Photo by Brayton.)

Watch Your Kidneys!

Don't Neglect Kidney and Bladder Irregularities

If you have trouble with bladder irregularities, getting up at night and nagging backache, heed promptly these symptoms. They may warn of certain disordered kidney or bladder conditions.

For more than 50 years grateful users have relied upon Doan's Pills. Praised the country over. Get Doan's today.

Doan's Pills A Diuretic for the Kidneys

Safeguards Put on Pension Letters

Pension letters must be delivered to the addressee or his authorized agent and must not be put in a letter box or through a door slot, according to a regulation of the Boston postoffice, to be enforced by carriers in the Boston postal district.

Hundreds Die in Battle Over Pig

Lisbon, Nov. 14 (AP)—The theft of a pig started a violent conflict between two tribes at Bissa, Portuguese Guinea, in which hundreds of natives have been killed, news dispatches received today said. Bodies of the victims were found in heaps under burned native huts.

WIFE CHARGES WHITNEY TORE RING OFF HAND

Testimony that her husband seized her as she was getting out of the bathtub, knocked her down, beat her and tore a diamond ring from her finger, helped Mrs. Francis Clark Whitney, Boston society woman, to get her divorce from Harold O. Whitney, it was revealed today.

Mrs. Whitney was granted a divorce by Judge Leggat in Middlesex probate court late yesterday in a hearing so swiftly conducted that it was the antithesis of the long-drawn-out highly sensational and indecisive divorce battls between the pair a few years ago.

SHOWS INJURED THUMB

The society matron, was under the terms of her decree ran remarry in six months, whereas he must wait two years, also displayed a distorted thumb to Judge Legal, blaming her clubman husband for it. She testified:

"Everything was all right until last month. At that time Mr. Whitney cut off all support and beat me.

"On one occasion he came up as I was getting out of the bathtub. He knocked me down and beat me and tore a diamond ring from my finger. I haven't seen the ring since.

"The cruelty continued and I

REGARD FOR CHILDREN

"After our suits were dismissed in New Hampshire, Mr. Whitney and I decided we ought to try all over again for the sake of the children," said Mrs. Whitney.

A stipulation, filed with the decree and bearing the signatures of both parents, calls for $4200 annual alimony with maintenance of the children, Pamela Ann, 8, and Russell, 7, and sharing of their custody.

MOVIE CHIMPS DUE TOMORROW

When the famous Hollywood chimpanzees, Rastus, Betty, Jane, Gussie and Jackie, arrive at the North Station tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for a month's stay at the R. H. White Co. New England will be treated to one of the most novel features ever shown in any store.

Children and parents will have an opportunity to see the famous "chimps" when they detrain prior to going to R. H. White's store, where things are in readiness for their reception. They will arrive in a special club car with special dining accommodations.

By special arrangements with the Boston & Maine Railroad, the "chimps" car will be switched to the track facing Causus st., directly back of the Hotel Manger at 3:30 o'clock.

The Wax House of Angel Guardian Band of 65 pieces will play while the street parade via Causus st. the "chimps" will be driven in heated automobiles, forms. Then they will lead the parade via Nashua st., Charles st., Cambridge st., to Bowdoin sq., into Scollay sq., Tremont st., to Avery, to Washington st. and the R. H. White Co. store.

"Our Gang chimpanzees' will be caged in a specially constructed playroom in Toyland on the third floor of the store. Beginning Monday morning the program will be on, with Rastus, Betty, Jane, Gussie and Jackie out-clowning the famous clowns of the circus.

They will ride tricycles, play on gym sets, undress themselves, set their table for meals, and entertain generally with their antics.

Canada Is Preparing to Deport All 'Reds'

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 14 (AP)—The Toronto Mail and Empire today carries a dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent saying:

"Indications multiply that the Dominion Government and the provinces other than Ontario will proceed with further action against Communism. It was intimated that swift steps would be taken to report as many of the convicted Toronto Reds as are not native-born."

Man Held in $1500 in Strike Attack

Lowell, Nov. 14 (AP)—Arthur Remillard, 32, of Lawrence, was held in $3000 bail, today charged with assault with intent to murder Louis B. Dimon on Oct. 16. Dimon, a textile worker, had been on strike but had returned to work.

Pension of Foreman

After devoting 44 years to the service of the city, Coleman Fisherty, of Norwood ave., Newtonville, a mason and working foreman in the department, will be retired on a pension.

DAUGHTER OF MYSTIC

Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, daughter of the famed author of "Anna Karenina," shown with Prof. Henry W. L. Dana of Harvard in the Longfellow garden, Cambridge. They are reading a quotation from Dante on the sun dial. The countess will speak at Ford Hall, Boston, tomorrow night on "My Father and the Russian Revolution."

What Autoists Pay in 1932

	W	W	X	X	Y	Y
	1931	1931	1932	1931	1932	1931
1. Chelsea	$87	$84	$92	$87	$114	$80
2. Revere	75	57	77	60	96	72
3. Boston	67	53	68	57	87	66
4. Everett	62	48	65	54	83	63
5. Cambridge, Somerville, Winthrop	46	43	49	44	61	58
Malden	46	32	49	37	61	44
6. Lynn, Lynfield, Saugus, Peabody	43	33	45	37	56	44
Nahant	43	25	45	30	56	38
7. Brookline	39	32	42	37	52	44
8. Medford	41	32	44	37	54	44
9. Billerica, Dracut, Lowell, No. Reading, Tewksbury, Wilmington	37	28	40	30	49	38
10. Arlington, Belmont, Bedford, Melrose, Milton, Newton, Quincy, Salem, Wakefield, Waltham, Watertown, Winchester, Woburn	34	32	36	37	45	41
11. Chicopee, Fall River, Holyoke, Somerset, Worcester	30	23	32	28	40	34
South Hadley	30	16	32	23	40	27
12. Abington, Avon, Braintree, Brockton, Burlington, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Framingham, Hingham, Holbrook, Hull, Lexington, Lincoln, Natick, Needham, Norwood, Randolph, Reading, Rockland, Stoughton, Wayland, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth	30	23	31	30	39	34
Stoneham	30	32	31	37	39	44
Ashland, Bedford, Concord, Franklin, Hollliston, Hudson, Marlboro, Medfield, Medway, Milford, Millis, Norfolk, Sharon, Sherborn, Sudbury, Walpole, Whitman	30	16	31	24	39	27
13. Lawrence, Methuen	29	23	31	30	38	38
14. Beverly, Danvers, Marblehead, Swampscott	27	25	29	30	36	36
Gloucester, Middleton, Rockport, Wenham	27	16	29	25	36	27
15. Agawam, East Longmeadow, Longmeadow, Springfield, W. Springfield	26	23	28	28	35	34
Ludlow, Wilbraham	26	16	28	23	35	27
16. Andover, Haverhill, No. Andover	25	23	26	30	33	38
Amesbury, Groveland, Merriman, Newburyport, Salisbury	25	16	26	25	33	27
17. Acushnet, Auburn, Boylston, Dartmouth, Fairhaven, Grafton, Holden, Leicester, Millbury, New Bedford, Paxton, Shrewsbury, West Boylston	23	23	24	28	30	34
18. Chelmsford, Tyngsboro	16	23	21	30	27	36
Rest of State:
(231 Cities and Towns)	16	16	21	23	27	27

Listing of Cars

Under the automobile insurance rates for 1932, private passenger cars are classified as W, X and Y. The W cars are the smaller, X medium and Y the large cars.

Ajax	X
Auburn	WX
Buick	WXY
Cadillac	Y
Chandler	X
Chevrolet	W
Chrysler	WXY
Cleveland	X
Cole	X
De Soto	XY
Dodge	WX
Durant	WX
Essex	WX
Flint	X
Ford	W
Gardner	WXY
Hudson	XY
Hupmobile	WXY
Jewett	X
Jordan	XY
Kissel	XY
La Salle	Y
Lafayette	Y
Lexington	X
Lincoln	Y
Locomobile	Y
Marmon	XY
Moon	X
Nash	WX
Oakland	X
Oldsmobile	X
Overland	WX
Packard	Y
Paige	XY
Peerless	XY
Pierce Arrow	Y
Plymouth	W
Reo	X
Reokenhaker	XY
Rolls Royce	Y
Stearns Knight	XY
Star	WX
Studebaker	WXY
Stutz	Y
Velie	X
Willys Knight	WXY
Wills St. Claire	Y

Do You Know

How to get the correct time when you have no clock—or when the clock has stopped? Call Capital 1000 and a pleasant voice will immediately announce the correct time.

The only charge made by the Telephone Company for this service is that for an ordinary telephone call to down-town Boston.

HOOVER GIVEN BEARS' NAMES BY BROWN

A direct charge that "two big bear operators and some others were at it again on the New York Stock Exchange was telegraphed to President Hoover today by A. S. Brown, Jr., publisher of Brown's Letters, 185 Devonshire st. Brown for some time has led a campaign to stop bear operations, and professional raids on stock prices, which he claims, have been leading causes in continuing the business depression.

Following the dispatch of the telegram to the President, Brown announced he had talked with the White House secretary, Theodore Joslin, and had given him the names of the two bear operators mentioned anonymously in the wire.

The Brown telegram to Mr. Hoover follows:

"A number of Boston brokers informed me yesterday that two big bear operators and some others were at it again. One man gave me their names. I was requested to try to have Mr. Richard Whitney make public the amount of short selling during the past three days, including sales covered the same day. I wrote him yesterday, but do not expect him to comply with my request, and I would suggest that you wire him early today for this information. For the next few months I believe that keeping watch over the New York Stock Exchange is one of your most important duties.

"A. S. BROWN, JR."

COUNTESS SEES REVOLT IN U. S.

Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, who is to speak at Ford Hall Forum tomorrow night on "My Father and the Russian Revolution," is the house guest of Henry Longfellow Dana, at 105 Brattle st., Cambridge. She is the youngest daughter of Count Leo Tolstoy, greatest of the 19th century Russian writers, and sought refuge in this country about three months ago when she traveled steerage and penniless to San Francisco.

The countess thinks America is fast approaching a revolution similar to that of Russia.

State Workers Vote Cash for Jobless

Springfield, Nov. 14 (AP)—Western Massachusetts Unit, Commonwealth Service Association, consisting of state officers and employes, voted a percentage of their salaries toward unemployment relief. It was made known today by President F. C. Hinkly. The contribution will be one per cent for those earning $1200 to $2000 a year and two per cent for those receiving more than $2000.

Engine Kills Horse, but Driver Escapes

A horse was struck by the locomotive and instantly killed, and the driver, Henry Morris, of 36 Gorham st., Cambridge, narrowly escaped by leaping for his life, in a grade crossing crash on the Boston & Maine near Fresh Pond, Cambridge, today.

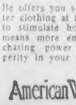
Morris, an employe of the water department, was driving to the pumping station at Fresh Pond with a load of coal.

LIDO PALACE

76 WARRENTON ST.
THE SMART PLACE

DINE AND DANCE
20 PEOPLE REVUE
Chinese and American Food
Special Luncheon, 45c and Up
Special Dinners 5 to 8 P. M.
Harvard and Holy Cross Football Night
PERLEY STEVENS
RECORDING ORCHESTRA
Res. Call "Ted" Liberty 9139

An Obvious Reason



The local merchant who displays and sells clothing made from the fine fabrics of the American Woolen Company, is worthy of your patronage.

He offers you smarter styles and better clothing at less cost and he helps to stimulate home production. This means more employment, more purchasing power and increased prosperity in your community.

American Woolen Company incorporated
Executive and Sales Offices,
214 Fourth Ave., New York City

DRAMA DISCUSSED By Nicholas Young ◆ Harleigh Schultz REVIEWS MET

THE VOICE OF Broadway
By Louis Sobol

Soliloquy!

Long, grim silhouettes against the busy shops,
Footsteps, footsteps, hurrying,
As though to run away from night.
A truant zephyr, harmonic of the North Wind,
Moving, drunkenly, between saddened farms.
Sullen, morbid night.
Figures darting between the shadows,
LIFE.

Wan, white spectres,
Billions of them.
Souls of dead humanity in weird processional,
Endless—stretching into eternity,
DEATH.
There is no difference!

—Tom Brown.

Out of an Envelope!

Dear Louis:—I guess you thought you wouldn't hear from me and had sort of given up hoping, but you've been on so many papers and I've been on so many papers that it makes it pretty hard to get together. Of course, if you called up some day and said, "How about having lunch together?" and I thought you'd pay for it, why then we might see more of each other. But I suppose you don't eat lunch, you rogue, what with your gallivanting around nights and cocking an ear here and cocking an ear there (and what big ears you have, Louis!) you never eat a drop before sundown.

So I'm writing you now (as who doesn't) because I thought you might print a piece in your paper about how the Morning Telegraph is going to move on Saturday night and all the people that ever worked on the Morntelly are invited back to a reunion on that last night and I am on the committee and everything. I've had more fun, Louis, being on that committee. There is Whitney Bolton on it who still works for the Telly and is to be congratulated, and Philo Higley who doesn't, and your correspondent.

And Saturday night, Louis, they're all coming back and Gene Fowler is going to bring his accordion and Heywood Broun is going to carry copy and Jim Barrett is going to sing baritone and we're all going to have just a lovely time. And we want you to come and kibitz, because you're practically the only working (hey! hey!) newspaperman in New York who never checked in at the old car barns at Fiftieth and Eighth Avenue— and if I'm getting nostalgic, please stop me!

Ah Down Memory Lane! . . . T'hell with it! Memories never get you anywhere, Louis. How about a lane where you can forget? That's the Lethe you can go. Roll on, Lethe, roll on. There's a river for you! You dive in and come up with your memory washed away. Reaching for a waiver to sign. Oh, a life on the bounding waiver and a home on the rolling deep! Down to the Seabury in ships. I'd like to roll to Rio some day before I die.

That was a Rio good party you gave last night, said the Brazilian, the nut. I can use Brazilian in a sentence, Louis. Want to hear me? You'd have a better figure, my dear, if you had your Brazilian. Do come in and meet the family. What a grand pampas you have! Oh, but you should meet my California poppy!

Now let's not get horticultural. I could use horticultural in a sentence but you wouldn't print it. And where would they get with larnin' anyway? Where do any of us get? Just wearing our heads to the bone trying to think up gags for you.

Umm-mmm-mmm, have you got a nifty gag?
Ummm-mmm-mmm, howja like a little dirt?
Umm-mmm-mmm, this has got to be a showdown:
Well, I'll give you the lowdown—
Nothing good will come of that!

You must get a lot of rebuffs in your business. Yes, sir, but I get plenty dirt! Well, one man's gossip is another man's lawsuit. Please don't ever check up on me, Louis. Of course, my life is an open book, but some of your customers aren't old enough to read it.

And how is your life, Louis? Ah, well, don't blush so. And please stop squirming. It's an early squirm that gets the bird. It's not even becoming to you. Stop squirming and straighten your tie and just tell all the boys who ever worked on the Morntelly that the party commences at 10 o'clock Saltty night at the old car barn.

Yours, etc.
Howard Cushman.

O Yeah!

According to Ray Perkins, after it closed they changed the title of that Arno show from "Here Goes the Bride" to "There Goes the Bank Roll."

O Hum!

From the Nov. 7th issue of Sales Management (pg. 194) . . . "Mr. Wrigley sleeps every night with a wad of gum in his mouth so that he can chew a bit right handily if he awakens in the night—and has never swallowed a cud."
For your tut-tut col'm—and mine!

How True!

Italy, insists Mac Haber, is the only place where Duce is higher than an ace!

Playgoers Pick the Winners

By NICHOLAS YOUNG

With the season's first quarter completed, it is plainly, if not painfully, manifest that the playgoer prefers to distribute his own laurels upon a favorite drama rather than toady to the decisions of Those Who Know. If the season, so far, settles anything at all in the affairs of the theater, it is that the customer picks his own shows.

* * *

How clearly this is made evident is found in the results of the last 10 weeks. There have been bright spots, of course; also drab ones. Of the latter, one might mention "Alison's House," endorsed by the learned judges of the Pulitzer Prize Play commission. This was their selection as the best play of the lately departed semester. It lasted a week at the Wilbur, and the blow was enough to drive the Shuberts out of that excellent playhouse for all time to come. At least that is the report. The famed and always militant Theater Guild also had its experience with what might be politely termed bitter medicine.

* * *

The Guild, with its firmly established subscription list, drew upon friendly neighbors for plays to fill local obligations. John Golden came across with "As Husbands Go"; Gilbert Miller winds up two weeks of moderate business at the Colonial tonight with "Tomorrow and Tomorrow." The Guild itself might not have done better with plays of its own making, for each of these attractions paraded into the Colonial with considerable fanfare predicted upon exhilarating prosperity in Manhattan. While in no sense more than disappointing, neither of these attractions reaped the full benefit usually accorded the Guild's hitherto unfailing subscription list.

* * *

But somewhere the sun is always shining. At the moment its golden rays are falling upon the Shubertian "Marching By" at the Shubert and upon Channing Pollock's "The House Beautiful" at the Plymouth. The former, a new musical affair from Europe, is really on its second test in entertainment value. This time it has caught public fancy with excellent spirit, although a year ago under the title of "Arms and the Maid"—and badly miscast — proved a first-class flop. In its new investment of voice and personality, "Marching By" gives every indication of being just what the doctor ordered for those who like romantic operetta.

* * *

There are many reasonable, though perhaps unauthorized, critics and observers of the drama who still believe Mr. Pollock's "The House Beautiful" should have been awarded the late Mr. Pulitzer's shining medal for drama pre-eminence. My own opinion is that Mr. Pollock, if he has suffered any pang of disappointment in this regard, may well dismiss the lapse with the air of a philosopher. He has profited rather than lost. His play still continues; it is setting up new records at the Plymouth and is being warmly greeted wherever its several road companies manage to reach port for the night. As a prize play "The House Beautiful" might have followed the usual course; it might have been put upon the drama's stormy reefs and at this very moment be commiserating with "Alison's House."

* * *

Incidentally, and with no trumpets to sound a clarion call, Mr. E. E. Underhill's Copley Players have quietly entered the drama's arena and seem to be getting along very well on their own account. Possibly this is because Mr. Underhill has discovered what the people want. Customers have their own inclinations, and follow them—all the way from the Copley to the Boston Garden's galloping Rodeo.

DRAMA PERSONALITIES IN THE WEEK'S NEW VENTURES

Virginia Curley, a charming suburbanite in "The House Beautiful," at the Plymouth.

"Now you tell one," you can almost hear Jean Dixon demand of her seated companion, who, as it turns out, is Robert Barrat. The scene is from "Once in a Lifetime," at the Majestic.

Elizabeth Dana, whose talents will find full scope in "Meet the Prince," at the Copley.

WONDERMENT

Sally Blane, talented filmster in "A Dangerous Affair," current at the Boston.

BLITHESOME

Helen Hayes, appearing in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," new film at the Orpheum.

Youth Cuts Its Wide Swath on Screen in Keith Photoplay

By HARRIS MORGAN

"Are These Our Children?" introduces to the flapper fans a comely juvenile in the person of Eric Linden, and to movie theater patrons in general an attractive and rather capable lassie in Arline Judge. These two do the honors excellently on behalf of the younger generation in the photoplay now featured at RKO Keith's, while Beryl Mercer turns in her usual perfect characterization as the representative of age.

* * *

Wesley Ruggles, remembered for his fine direction of "Cimarron" and other pictures, professedly set about the making of "Are These Our Children?" in order to present the problem of jazzy youth. Its story is out of his own brain, and this he has proceeded to direct. He frankly laid the acting burden upon boys and girls, most of them unknown to the fans. Young Linden is his hero, turning from the straight and narrow to fall among evil companions and bad ways. The hip flask and dancing and his pals bring him to thievery, and in the end to murder. After a rather stirring courtroom scene, in which liberties are taken with courtroom methods as we know them, the lad is left gripping the bars and facing an early doom. He preached the sermon as he tells why he is where he is—at the end of the crime trail.

Beryl Mercer

The Ruggles direction strives most ardently with the difficulties raised by the Ruggles plot. Director snaps his cameras sharply for frequent changes of scenes and attains a commendable pace. He most expertly skips time periods by lens trickery, and suggests his hero's swift pace downhill similarly. Author, unfortunately, pads in too much talk, swings to tearfulness too frequently, and seems too much inclined to preachment. Thus he has hurt his own handiwork.

In addition to the clever Miss Mercer, grownups William Orlamond, as the delicatessen man who is the murder victim, and Ralf Harolde, as the prosecutor, are convincing. Linden most of the time handles his role with poise and speaks his lines superbly. Plainly, he has had the advantage of stage training. Sometimes he reminds us of Phillips Holmes; probably he will be heard from later in pictures. Of the girls, Miss Judge is an easy leader in the movie.

Vaudeville on Bowdoin Bill

At the Bowdoin Square the management offers another top-notch talking picture program, together with seven acts of vaudeville. One of the big features is "New Adventures of Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production that is alive with comedy and wholesome romance. Another is "Convicted."

On Thursday the bill changes and the film features will offer Mary Astor, Robert Ames and Edward Everett Horton in "Smart Woman," and "In the Line of Duty," with Sue Carol and Noah Beery, and vaudeville. On Friday night there will be a midnight show, the proceeds of which will be given to the Boston Unemployment Fund.

A souvenir photograph of William Haines will be given to all patrons on Monday night.

Special "Movie Fan" Night for the Drama

Believing that the talkie fans may be greatly interested in "Once in a Lifetime" as it deals with Hollywood and the film industry, Sam H. Harris, its producer, has arranged for a movie fan night for the opening of this comedy at the Majestic Monday night. For this night only the entire first balcony will be sold at one dollar per seat.

Week's Bills

MAJESTIC—(Opening Monday) "Once in a Lifetime," a comedy of Hollywood by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The story of three vaudevillians who propose to revive fading fortune by a foray into the "talkies." Forty people are required to tell the story, which ranges from Manhattan to a West Coast film studio. The principal players are Jean Dixon, Hugh O'Connell and Grant Mills. Settings by Cirker and Robbins; staged by Mr. Kaufman.

* * *

COPLEY—(Opening Monday) "Meet the Prince," a comedy by A. A. Milne. An amusing tale of a prince, who was not one at all, and his adventures as the guest at an English country house. Included in the cast are Mary Wall, Amy Loomis, Joseph Cotton, Francis Compton, Elizabeth Dana, Raymond Jones, Helen Ray, Aldrich Bowker and Jean Poindexter.

* * *

SHUBERT—(Second week.) "Marching By," a musical play of martial character. The scenes are on the Russo-Austrian front during the World War, and Guy Robertson, Leonard Ceeley and Nady Christians sing it out to a smashing finish.

* * *

PLYMOUTH—(Third week.) "The House Beautiful," a play of suburban life by Channing Pollock. The pathetic but inspiring story of a young couple that will not be swerved from their own high ideals of home and of community interest.

Great Picture at Orpheum

An engrossing story acted to perfection by a brilliant cast, led by the Broadway stage star, Helen Hayes, makes "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," now at Loew's Orpheum, one of the best talking pictures of the year. The picture marks the first appearance of Miss Hayes on the screen and her outstanding performance leaves little doubt but that moviegoers will see a great deal more of this fine actress.

The comedians, Joe Wilton and Rex Weber, headline the entertaining stage bill. They offer a merry melange of quips and repartee and gather a host of laughs. Dances of a distinctive appeal are presented by the Lee Gail Ensemble, with their repertory of unusual steps. The Wilton Sisters, Mae and Rose, offer a program of excellent harmony. Other acts on the bill are Jack Janis and Estelle Jayne in an amusing comedy skit and the Four Danubes, thrilling aerialists.

Only English Spoken Here

"The Immortal Vagabond," a German production with English dialogue, to be seen at the Fine Arts, deals with a musician who, after many disappointments, finally wins fame with a new opera, only to find the girl for whom he has been working has in the meantime married another.

The photography of this film and the superb art which has gone to its composition makes it entirely notable. There is a subtle beauty in every sequence. Gustav Frohlich is a romantic hero and Liane Haid appears as the sweetheart who is coerced into marriage with another.

South Station Theater Attracts Film Lovers

Ralph Morrison, experienced theater manager, formerly with the Winter Garden and Strand in New York, has assumed the managerial post at the New South Station theater, which opened to the public this week. Capacity audiences have availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting South's newest theater, located in the main terminal at the South Station. The program is devoted to the showing of the latest newsreels and short film features, and is open from 8 a. m. until midnight.

Gala Event Is the Met Birthday

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

The Metropolitan celebrates its sixth birthday this week with a generous bill of varied entertainment. On screen is a football picture, "Touchdown," with stirring "grid" sequences; on stage the theater offers color, pep, class and talent. The flesh-and-blood folk go over big, and leave the audience in happy, satisfied mood, which is perhaps the proper caper after the natal cake is cut and liberally dispensed. It's a good show.

* * *

"Touchdown" has glory above most films of its type in that its football is the real thing, excellently placed here and there, and calculated to delight the lover of the sport and excite the patrons generally. One forgives the sight of Richard Arlen trying to follow in the footsteps of Jim Thorpe and Howard Jones and the rest of the gridiron moguls who helped Paramount make this movie the honest-to-goodness article. It is just that insofar as it bows to the yard-liney it is one of the very best of the kind we have ever seen. On the romantic angle, it follows the familiar pattern, and its lovers and studio retainers do little more than weave the warp and woof for a sugary yarn to hold the football sequences together. Excepting J. Farrell MacDonald, who, for all we know, may never have played a game, but who acts the coach to the life.

* * *

One can get enthusiastic about the footlight program. Lavishness is the word. For one big feature there is a birthday special, "The Concert," beautifully staged by Frank Cambria, with Miriam Lax, Henri Therien, Harrison and Fisher and a nicely trained group of girls taking part. Fabien Sevitzky leads the Met Orchestra in its accompaniment for this setting.

For a full hour later the revue, "Happy Returns of the Day," keeps the audience seeing, listening and applauding. Among the stars are Kathleen Kay, Lee and Ralph, Three Jacks and a Queen, and Zelda Santley. The adagio dancers are a special treat. At the organ Del Marsh performs with his usual result of winning his auditors' acclaim.

RESPLENDENT

Dolores Costello smiles gayly through in "Expensive Women" at Remick and Modern.

CALCULATING

Otis Skinner, with Maude Adams in "The Merchant of Venice." (Colonial, Nov. 23.)

Hinda Wassau the Big Hit

At the Old Howard beginning Monday matinee, Hinda Wassau and her "Hinda Belles," an outstanding show on the Columbia Circuit, will be seen. Miss Wassau is one of the dancing beauties with a wealth of ability and a charming personality that wins favor.

Jack Rosen and his side-partner, Roy Kinslow, Frances Knight, Rosemond May, Dorothy DeHaven, Tom Fay, Maurice Saer and Bert Saunders, are bright stars.

In addition to the burlesque the management provides a program of high class vaudeville and talking pictures. The young Kam Troupe are from the Orient. Kruger and Robles have "Glorified Nonsense." The Three Gobs too, have a most amusing specialty. The pictures are Constance Bennett in "Sin Takes a Holiday," and Ben Lyon and Racquel Torres in "Aloha." The Knute Rockne Series, "Two Minutes to Go," will also be viewed.

On Wednesday night there will be a midnight performance, the entire proceeds of which will be given to the Boston Unemployment Fund.

CONTENTMENT

Hinda Wassau, platinum-tressed damsel with "Hinda Belles," at the Howard.

SOLDIER'S SWEETHEART

Meet a new comer to the American singing stage. She is Mady Christians, late of Germany's fanciest film colony; now with "Marching By" at the Shubert. Sketched by Charles Schmidt.

Movie Clock

Featured photoplays in the picture theaters and their approximate starting times today are as follows:

GAYETY—"Bought"; a. m., 9:30; p. m., 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 9:30.

EXETER — "The Star Witness"; p. m., 2:15, 5:05, 8.

RKO-KEITH—"Are These Our Children"; a. m., 10:11; p. m., 12:34, 2:57, 5:10, 7:33, 9:56.

FINE ARTS—"The Mystery of the Yellow Room"; p. m., 1, 3:00, 5:10, 7:21, 9:30.

PARK—"The Dreyfus Case"; a. m., 9, 11:38; p. m., 2:16, 4:54, 7:04, 9:35.

WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA—"Sob Sister"; a. m., 9:15, 11:30; p. m., 1:35, 3:35, 5:40, 7:45, 9:50.

SCOLLAY—"The Cisco Kid"; a. m., 11:43; p. m., 2:27, 5:44, 9:47.

ORPHEUM — "The Sin of Madelon Claudet"; a. m., 9:15; p. m., 12:15, 3:30, 6:30, 9:45.

HOWARD—"Big Money"; p. m., 12:48, 6:40.

FENWAY—"Riders of the Purple Sage"; p. m., 2:34, 5:06, 7:38, 10:10.

RKO - KEITH - BOSTON—"A Dangerous Affair"; a. m., 9:31; p. m., 12:38, 3:51, 7:05, 10:05.

UPTOWN—"Sob Sister"; p. m., 1, 3:10, 5:22, 7:40, 9:55.

MODERN—"Riders of the Purple Sage"; a. m., 9:28, 11:58; p. m., 2:28, 4:58, 7:28, 9:58.

LOEW'S STATE — "FLYING High"; 12 o'clock, 2, 4, 6, 8, 10.

BOWDOIN—"Murder at Midnight"; a. m., 9:10; p. m., 1:10, 3:10, 9:15.

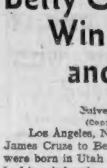
METROPOLITAN — "Touchdown"; a. m., 10:50; p. m. 1:13, 3:36, 6:06; 8:35, 10:32.

CRUZE READY TO PRODUCE EPIC OF MORMONISM

Betty Compson Likely to Win Lead in "Hell and Hallelujah"

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor
(Copyright, 1931, by Universal Service, Inc.)

Los Angeles, Nov. 13—One of the things that first attracted James Cruze to Betty Compson was the fact that both of them were born in Utah of Mormon parentage. Jim Cruze has always had in mind a plan to produce a Mormon epic. Now it seems as if that were going to come to pass. He is calling this big number "Hell and Hallelujah," and it's very likely if Betty can be spared from other contracts she will play the lead. Not only will there be a Mormon theme but there is Mormon capital back of the picture. Charles Furthman is to write the scenario, and it is to be a drama of more than passing interest.



Louella O. Parsons

* * *

Sometimes I think production news is only of interest in Hollywood, yet after the death of Robert Williams we had hundreds of letters asking us who would take Mr. Williams' place opposite Constance Bennett. Many names have been honored, but Charlie Rogers let the rumoring go on while he looked at test after test. It's a great compliment to Ben Lyon that out of all these actors he has been chosen to take Mr. Williams' place in the cast of "Lady With a Past." He was chosen principally because of the work he did in "Bought," another Constance Bennett picture.

* * *

Happenings of Interest

An accident that might have ended seriously and that gave several onlookers palpitation of the heart occurred at a flying field this week. Hoot Gibson and Ben Lyon were in planes side by side. Ben Landed safely, but when Hoot landed the mud was soft and his plane turned over and cracked up. He escaped with a few minor bruises, but the plane is a wreck. Lionel Atwill, who has been in our midst playing in "The Silent Witness," will return here after he ends his engagement in San Francisco. Mr. Atwill may go into motion pictures. What with the Academy prizes going to George Arliss last year and Lionel Barrymore this year this is certainly the day for mature, experienced actors. Mrs. Atwill is the daughter of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia social leader. She has been here with her husband and she has made a host of friends.

* * *

Our film people are generous. Marie Dressler said that when she said they couldn't even have a war without us. Some times I wonder if there is a realization of how much these people do for others less fortunate than themselves. Tomorrow night there will be another entertainment program on the radio and stars who have steadfastly refused to appear on the radio for enormous sums, will give their services free. Norma Shearer, Maurice Chevalier, Bebe Daniels, John Boles, Tom Mix, Ann Harding, Irene Dunne, Conrad Nagel and Will Hays are a few of the headliners. The stations are both N. B. C. and Columbia and the time is 7:45 Pacific Standard time. So tune in, and listen to your favorite.

* * *

A list of veterans, and I might say pioneers, are to have parts in "Fifi 11K" M. H. Hoffman's story featuring Law Cody, Clara Kimball Young, who looks young and better than I have seen her in many a day, plays one of the feminine leads with pretty little June Clyde as the ingenue and Mary Nolan as the juvenile lead. Of course, Miss Clyde and Miss Nolan aren't old-timers, but Roy D'Arcy of the gesticulating forefinger is in the picture with Buster Collier and George E. Stone. Chester Franklin directs.

* * *

Snapshots of Hollywood

MRS. JOHN McCORMACK in white with diamonds, a guest of MR. and MRS. RICHARD BARTHELMESS at the opening of "Private Lives." MRS. BARTHELMESS wearing a smart frock of red lace. FLORENCE ELDRIDGE'S black velvet pajamas with white blouse, admired on the stage. LAURA LA PLANTE, who made her stage debut wearing a blue suit trimmed in leopard in one act. MRS. CLARK GABLE wearing a stunning black velvet and lace combination. GRACE MOORE in black with a jaunty red hat and red purse to match, looking unusually attractive when she sang at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer luncheon for VICE-PRESIDENT CURTIS. MRS. RICHARD DIX, an unusually pretty young woman, guest of honor at a tea given her by her mother-in-law. CHARLES PETTIJOHN, famous Indianapolis lawyer, with the Hays organization since its inception, in LOS ANGELES. His wife, formerly ELLEN BRUCE, motion picture actress, here with him. That's all today.

Gayety Theater

The double feature bill at the Gayety next week will be "The Lightning Flyer," with James Hall and Dorothy Sebastian, and "The Sea Beneath," with George O'Brien. The vaudeville will be Gleason & Allen, Alton & Wilson, Kirby & Duval, Paul Bauer Revue, and William Quiggin.

Fenway and Modern

At the Publix Fenway and Modern is "Expensive Women," starring vehicle for Dolores Costello. The companion feature is Zane Grey's "Riders of the Purple Sage."

Gertrude Lang, petite songbird with "The Student Prince," at Shubert on Nov. 23.

Busch Debut Is Feature

By MOSES SMITH

A remarkable program is offered for this week's concerts of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Adolph Busch, renowned German violinist and teacher, present master, indeed, of Yahudi Menuhin, in soloist in the Brahms concerto.

In yesterday's matinee performance, which constituted his American debut, Busch justified his reputation as one of the classical school, for his playing was marked by purity of tone and an almost Olympian calm. Many in the audience might have criticised his playing as "cold." But it was not so much the lack of "warmth" which disappointed this writer—for one can have his fill of hot-blooded playing—as it was that fine violinist as Busch is, he seemed, on one hearing at least, to be set so much back and shoulders above the herd as enthusiastic advance notices indicated.

As foil to this thrice-familiar music Mr. Koussevitzky devoted the remainder of his program to works with most of which the audience was unacquainted. Heading the list was an arrangement by Respighi of five of Rachmaninoff's "Etudes-Tableaux," ingenious and beautiful little piano poems.

A Carnaval Scene from "Casanova in Venice," by Pick-Mangiagalli, was played for the first time in this country. It seemed to us to shed no new light on the character of the notorious cavalier, nor to be intrinsically fine music. It serves admirably, however, as a brilliant closing showpiece. Far more significant is Florent Schmitt's Suite drawn from his "Salome," not heard here in a dozen years.

Park Theater

So enthusiastically has "The Dreyfus Case" been received at the Park Theatre, that this much talked of film will continue on for a second week. The capital acting of the long list of players, even in the minor roles, is an important factor.

Waldron's Casino

New faces will greet the spectator at Waldron's Casino the coming week when the offering is Gertrude Rook and her "College Girls" Burlesquers.

"Flying High" Is Just That for Zooming to Mirth's Heights

Hilarity rises to its peak in "Flying High," uproariously comic picture now on the screen at Loew's State. Two outstanding funsters make the film a mirthquake, one of the gayest seen in a long time.

Sufficient plot there is to hook together merry sequences that romp side-splitting laughter. The story deals chiefly with a queer new kind of airplane a dumb inventor, and a waitress who has a "yen" to marry an aviator. The picture is, of course, a talkie adaptation of the sucessful stage musical comedy. The principal role is played by the same star who made such a hit in New York, the rubber-faced Bert Lahr, America's most imitated comedian. He is ably supported in a long succession of funny gags by long and lanky Charlotte Greenwood as the amorous waitress.

Miss Greenwood's continual pursuit of Lahr, and their final struggle in the queer aeroscepter, far above the earth, have been handled by the adept comedy director, Charles Riesner, to get a maximum of laughs.

Other players of the piece who turn in excellent performances include Pat O'Brien, Kathryn Crawford, Charles Winninger, Hedda Hopper, Guy Kibbee and Herbert Mundin.

The piece is M-G-M's first musical of the current season, and it bristles with tuneful numbers, including "It's the First Time for Me," "Dance Until Dawn" and "Happy Landings."

Stars Shine at the Scollay

Next week's bill at the Scollay will have Steve Freda and Johnny Palace, guitarist and harmonist, in "Ketch-On," containing new songs and new laughs. Late feature of Earl Carroll's Vanities, Josephine Harmon, is in it act with Georgia Sands entitled "Hitting the High Spots." The "Snappy Steppers" is a revue that is filled with youth and pep. Lew and Ruth Cameron are with Billy Howard in a fast comedy act, "Absurdities."

Two musical comedy stars, Harlan Dixon and Peggy Cornell, have teamed together and are presenting "Part Dance of 1931." Page and Class offer "Dance Eccentricities in the Air."

The screen attraction is "The Yellow Ticket," with Elissa Landi and Lionel Barrymore.

Amusements

HEARTSOME

LOEW'S STATE MASS. AVE. AT NORWAY ST.

THAT STAGE RIOT OF LAUGHS, GIRLS AND MUSIC, IS ON THE TALKING SCREEN AT LAST!

GEORGE WHITE'S "FLYING HIGH" with BERT LAHR
CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD • PAT O'BRIEN
A METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PICTURE...
FRIDAY, NOV. 20—Joan Crawford & Clark Gable in "POSSESSED"

Amusements

The Rushing Tide of Rampant Youth Sweeping Across a Startled World,... Red-Blooded, Selfish, Wild with Freedom!

ARE THESE OUR CHILDREN

Radio Picture by William A. Wellman
Director of "Cimarron" with ERIC LINDEN, BEN ALEXANDER, ARLENE JUDGE, ROBERTA GALE, ROCKCLIFFE FELLOWS, BERYL MERCER & Other RKO Screen Favorites
Daily 2 to 7 P.M.—35c—Eve. 75c

RKO KEITHS

RKO ACTS
"Good Times Show Week"
PETER HIGGINS
Arthur & Morton Havel
June Carr-Senator Murphy
Other RKO Stars
"DANGEROUS AFFAIRS"
JACK HOLT
RKO KEITH BOSTON

LOEW'S ORPHEUM
WASHINGTON ST. AND HAMILTON PL.
METRO-GOLDWYN MAYER PRESENTS
The SIN OF MADELON CLAUDET with HELEN HAYES
LOVELY CHARLES VALENTINE
Friday—Alfred Lunt—Lynn Fontanne in "THE GUARDSMAN"

PARK—2nd BIG WEEK
Owing to tremendous success continued for another week.
"THE DREYFUS CASE"
The Strangest Scandal in the World's History

COLONIAL MAT. TODAY 2:30
Evgs. at 8:30
LAST 2 TIMES TODAY
GILBERT MILLER Presents A Play by PHILIP BARRY
TOMORROW
ZITA JOHANN GLENN ANDERS
TOMORROW
2nd Offering of the 4-in-1 THEATRE GUILD SUBSCRIPTION SERIES

NEW GAYETY
CONSTANCE BENNETT in "BOUGHT"
BURLESQUE AND VAUDEVILLE
ALSO GRANT WITHERS in "FIRST AID"

GORDON CAMPBELL presents COL. W. T. JOHNSON'S RODEO
FINAL PAYOFF—TONIGHT!
LAST DAY! MAT. AND NIGHT 2.15 8.30
SEE WINNERS CROWNED AND $25,000 PRIZE MONEY AWARDED
CONTESTS STARTED IN CHICAGO, CONTINUED IN NEW YORK AND BOSTON, CULMINATING IN LAST AND MOST NERVE-TINGLING OF WORLD'S SERIES COWBOY AND COWGIRL EVENTS
BOSTON GARDEN 8000 SEATS $1
TICKETS AT RUBAN'S—JORDAN'S GILCHRIST'S AND WRIGHT & DITSON'S
"IF IT'S AT THE GARDEN IT MUST BE GOOD"

Today at YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATER

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY — ANN HARDING "DEVOTION" — CLIVE BROOK "SILENCE" — PORTER 4580 HARVARD 50

CHARLESTOWN
HOLLYWOOD — Clara Kimball Young "MOTHER AND SON" — JOAN CRAWFORD "This Modern Age" — GIFT NITE
THOMPSON SQUARE — WARNER BAXTER "The Squab Man" — CAROLE LOMBARD "Up Pops the Devil" — BIG GIFT NIGHT
EGLESTON SQ. — "Young As You Feel" — Will Rogers-Fifi Dorsay "CRAFT" — R.-Tenney-Sue Carol — Sat. Night—GIFT NIGHT

HYDE PARK
EVERETT SQUARE — Sally O'Neil-Frank Albertson "THE BRAT" — Ben Bernie-Chas. Rickford "East of Borneo"

MALDEN
CAMARA — 5th Anniversary Bill — JAMES DUNN in "BAD GIRL" — ANN HARDING in "DEVOTION"
STRAND — Edmund Lowe-Lois Moran in "THE SPIDER" — MARY ASTOR in "SMART WOMAN"

REVERE
REVERE AND CRESCENT GARDENS — SYLVIA SIDNEY in "STREET SCENE" — "RANGE LAW" with KEN MAYNARD

ROXBURY
ROXBURY HUMBOLDT CAR LINE — JOAN CRAWFORD "This Modern Age" "A Gyinnaz Lover" — SPENCER TRACY

SOMERVILLE
CAPITOL BALL SQ. — Walter Huston-Chas. (Chic) Sale in "STAR WITNESS" — Mary Brian-Jos. Cawthorn in "THREE RUNAWAYS"
DAVIS SQ. THEATRE — "ENEMIES OF THE LAW" — Ruby Keeler-Lee Tracy — At 2:10—7:55 — Newsreel—Comedy—Movies of the Planet—No. 8
TEELE SQ. SOMERVILLE — "SPORTING BLOOD" — Clara Bow-Lane Chandler Evans — CHILDREN OF DREAMS" — Margaret Sullivan-Paul Cavanagh and Tom Patricola

SOUTH BOSTON
STRAND AND BROADWAY — Evelyn Brent-Conrad Nagel "PAGAN LADY" — AILEEN PRINGLE "CONVICTED"

WATCH THIS DIRECTORY
PATRONIZE YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATRE

Advertise Your Wants in the Boston Evening American.

Amusements

SHUBERT THEATRES & HITS

MAJESTIC—Mon. Night—8:30—Two Weeks Only
EVES. LOWER FLOOR (EXCEPT SAT.) $2.50 FIRST BAL. $1, $1.50, $2. SECOND BAL. 50c-75c FIRST MAT. NEXT WED. 50c, $1.50. SAT. MAT. 50c-$2.
Another Sam H. Harris Hit by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman
"ONCE IN A LIFETIME"
IT IS STUPENDOUS ENTERTAINMENT
401 TIMES IN NEW YORK CITY
ORIGINAL CAST OF 40 PEOPLE
With JEAN DIXON, HUGH O'CONNELL, CHARLES HALTON
EXTRA! MOVIE FAN NIGHT—OPENING—MON. NIGHT ONLY! ALL FIRST BAL. SEATS $1.00 OF A LIFETIME

SHUBERT LAST WEEK
POP. MATS. WED. 50c to $1.50 SAT. 50c to $2.00
Look at the Prices! NIGHTS (Inc. Sat.) 50c to $3.
ALL BOSTON CRITICS AGREE MARCHING BY
THE GREATEST MUSICAL HIT IN YEARS!
Read, and Be Convinced:
"Marching By" ranks like one of the smartest and smoothest of musical plays produced in the theatre in several years."—W. E. G.—Boston Herald.
"'Marching By' deserves to be one of the season's outstanding successes. It's good entertainment from every point of view."—(Boston Globe) Marjorie Gaffney.
"'Marching By' is sure to please. Last night it did. The well-filled and pleased audience had all the earmarks of a success."—Boston Transcript.
"'Marching By' never to abstain premiere. Leonard Conley and Gus Schilling are the comedians."—(Worcester Telegram)
"The scenery and costumes was up to Shubert standard, which means that it was elaborate."—H. T. Parker—Boston Evening Transcript.
"'Marching By' is a robust hit—by song, by dance, by the antics of Mr. Schilling and Mr. Conley."—(Worcester Evening Post) Mac Christians.
"Most Christians' finest to gather in a long time."—H. I. P.—Boston Traveler.
Look at the Cast of Stars
MADY CHRISTIANS • GUY ROBERTSON
SOLLY WARD • LEONARD CEELEY
Ethel Norris • Kathleen Edwardes
Hugh Millen • Frank Lanagan
See it Before New York!

COLONIAL—NOV. 23—ONE WEEK ONLY
MATINEES WEDNESDAY & SATURDAY
MAUDE ADAMS AND OTIS SKINNER in William Shakespeare's Comedy
"The MERCHANT of VENICE"
Under Management Erlanger Productions, Inc.
SEATS MONDAY | EVES. AND SAT. MAT. | ORCH. $3.00, FIRST BALC. $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 | SECOND BALCONY—$1.00 | WED. MAT.—$2.50, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00

SHUBERT TWO WEEKS ONLY Beginning MON. Night, NOV. 23
SEATS NOW SELLING
EXTRAORDINARY FAREWELL ENGAGEMENT!
BOSTON DEMANDS A RETURN VISIT
1931 PRODUCTION OF THE GREATEST LIGHT OPERA BOSTON HAS EVER KNOWN!
The STUDENT PRINCE IN HEIDELBERG
NOT A REVIVAL BUT A SURVIVAL OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL OPERETTA EVER STAGED. NEW YORK WORLD, 1931
COMPANY OF 100 — 1931 BROADWAY CAST COMPLETE including — FAMOUS STUDENT CHORUS — Enlarged Orchestra
GEORGE HASSELL-ALLAN PRIOR-GERTRUDE LANG
PRICES WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL!
NIGHTS: 500 ORCHESTRA SEATS $2. — MATINEES SATURDAY and THANKSGIVING 50c to $1.50 (NO WED. MAT. FIRST WEEK.)

PLYMOUTH MATS. THURSDAY SATURDAY
In spite of the enormous success of this play, the engagement ends Sat., Nov. 28th. LAST TWO WEEKS!!!
The Professional Players—Crosby Gaige present CHANNING POLLOCK'S Thrilling and Swiftly Moving Play
Evgs. 50c to $2.50 — THE HOUSE BEAUTIFUL — Mats. 50c to $2.00
By the Author of "The Fool" and "The Enemy" with MARY PHILBIN—JAMES BELL—and APOLLO THEATRE CAST
"QUALITY STREET" BY MAT'L JUNIOR THEATRE—SAT. NOV. 21 10:15 A.M.—SEATS NOW ON SALE 50c—$1.50

Amusements Amusements

6th ANNIVERSARY
Paramount's Football Picture That Dares to be Different!
Touchdown with RICHARD ARLEN, PEGGY SHANNON, JACK OAKIE, Howard Jones, Jim Thorpe
FABIEN SEVITZKY Conducting Gorgeous Broadcasting Overture
"THE CONCERT"
Gigantic Birthday Stage Show
"Many Happy Returns of the Day" 24—Glorified Dunkin Beauties—24
"PLEASANT MEMORIES"—Arthur Hurtig at Organ
METROPOLITAN

WASH. ST. OLYMPIA AND UPTOWN HARVARD AVE.
Starts Today JAMES DUNN
Who stirred your heart in "Bad Girl" will electrify you with his performance as the sweetheart rival of SOB SISTER
with LINDA WATKINS
The Girl who got his goat and won his heart.
Extra Attraction! "Football for the Fan"
Actual Plays by College Players and Coaches

FENWAY MAIN AVE. KEN 1710 — MODERN MAIN ST. AND GOOD
New Double Bill
Zane Grey's "RIDERS of the PURPLE SAGE" with George O'Brien, Marguerite Churchill, Noah Beery STARTS TODAY
Peter Lorre, Sensation At Her Gorgeous Best
Dolores COSTELLO
in "Expensive Women" with H. B. Warner, Warren William

SCOLLAY SQ. BIGGEST-SHOW VALUE IN TOWN!
ENDS TODAY "THE CISCO KID"
Walter Baster, Edmund Lowe
STARTS SUNDAY! "THE YELLOW TICKET"
ELISSA LANDI—LIONEL BARRYMORE
Laurence Olivier
STAGE: "GREENWICH VILLAGE BLACK CAT REVUE"

PARAMOUNT NEAR HOME PUBLIX THEATRES

ALLSTON
ALLSTON 2-4-5-P-M — Stage Talent Tonight — Lionel Barrymore and Kay Francis in "GUILTY HANDS" — Ina Claire-Robert Ames in "REBOUND" — STA. 4410
CAPITOL PUBLIX — EDDIE CANTOR "FAINT DAYS" — Robert Ames-Mary Astor "SMART WOMAN"

BRIGHTON
EGYPTIAN PUBLIX BRIGHTON — STA. 6800 — "GRAFT" — Ricardo Cortez-Jean Carol "Murder at Midnight" — Alice White-Hale Hamilton

CAMBRIDGE
CENTRAL SQ. PUBLIX CAM. 0812 — BUSTER KEATON in "Sidewalks of N. Y." — Anita Page-Lilyan Tashman — Adolphe Menjou-Lily Damita "Friends and Lovers" HARVARD NOW CAMBRIDGE — "Penrod and Sam" — Lew Jansen-Junior Coogan — HELEN TWELVETREES "BAD COMPANY"

DORCHESTER
FIELDS CORNER — TEL. 3200 — 4 Marx Brothers in "Monkey Business" — JOHN GILBERT in "THE PHANTOM OF PARIS" — GEN. 4300
MORTON — CLIVE BROOK in "SILENCE" — Jean Hersholt in "80 Fathoms Deep"

HYDE PARK
STRAND — COL. 2000 — "BAD GIRL" — Sally Eilers-James Dunn — WILLIAM HAINES in New Adventures of "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford"

JAMAICA PLAIN
JAMAICA — JAM. 5280 — Warner Baxter in "THE DEVIL'S OF THE DRAGON" — Ely Ounita — Mats. Exc. 7-11 — "Friends and Lovers"

MATTAPAN SQ.
ORIENTAL — "BAD GIRL" — Sally Eilers-James Dunn — WILLIAM HAINES — MIL. 1200 — "Tie Now Wallingford"

NEWTON
NEW ARO PARAMOUNT — Gen. 1:30 to 10:30 — WILL ROGERS in "STAR WITNESS" — ANN HARDING in "PERSONAL MAID"

ROSLINDALE
RIALTO PUBLIX — FIE. 0900 — Warner Oland in "THE DRAGON OF THE RAJAH" — Adolphe Menjou in "Friends and Lovers" — Conl. 1:30 to 11

ROXBURY
DUDLEY — NIG. 0041 — "PAGAN LADY" — Evelyn Brent-Conrad Nagel — "Friends and Lovers" — Mat. 1:00 Exc. 7-11 — "BAD COMPANY"
RIVOLI — NIG. 0100 — James Hall-Sally Eilers — "BAD GIRL" — WILLIAM HAINES — Mat. 1:00 Exc. 7-11 — "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford"
SAVIN HILL — SAV. 0100 — CITY NIGHT — Jack Holt in "80 Fathoms Deep"

WALTHAM
EMBASSY WALTHAM — PUBLIX — WAL. 3840 — 4 Marx Brothers in "Monkey Business" — EDMUND LOWE in "THE SPIDER"

WOLLASTON
WOLLASTON — RICHARD ARLEN — Secret Call" — 1:30-7:15-10:15 — INA CLAIRE — 2:15-8:30 — Free Parking

Watch This Directory and Patronize Your Local Theatre

SYMPHONY HALL
TOMORROW at 3:30
ZULALIAN
NEXT SUNDAY at 3:30
SANROMA
SUNDAY, NOV. 29, at 3:30
GALLI CURCI

BOWDOIN 7 — Vaudeville Acts In Person — "MURDER AT MIDNIGHT" with AILEEN PRINGLE — ANN HARDING in "DEVOTION" — Con. Sun.—"On Rich-Quick-Wallingford"—"Convicted"

EXETER — The place where you forget your troubles — Walter Huston in "Star Witness" — Evelyn Brent in "Pagan Lady"

WALDRON'S CASINO
"SITTING PRETTY" BURLESQUERS
Continuous 12:30 to 10:30 P. M.

THE OLD HOWARD — SACKS & BINDER — LONDON GAYETY GIRLS — COLUMBIA BURLESQUE — VAUDEVILLE & TALKING PICTURES — MIDNIGHT SHOW FRIDAY at 12:30

MAH JONG
"Lucky Bird"
TREMONT AT WARRENTON ST.
American and Chinese Food
Harvard-Holy Cross Football Night
BEST SHOW—NO EXTRA
SAM BITTELL and HIS ORCH.
No Cover Charge—Free Parking
Winton Bee, Mgr. Phone Hub. 4567

FINE ARTS — STATE THEATRE BUILDING — LAST 2 DAYS
"Le Mystere De La Chambre Jaune"
Reg. Mon. — UFA'S "The Immortal Vagabond"

CHENKIN
Character Singer
Tom'w Eve. — SYMPHONY HALL

Today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

Activities in Churches

LAYMEN PREACH TOMORROW IN BOSTON

Ministers in the congregation and laymen of the church conducting the service and preaching the sermon will be the order of the day tomorrow when Laymen's Sunday, sponsored by the Unitarian Laymen's League, will be observed in Unitarian churches throughout the country. As announced from headquarters of the league at 25 Beacon st., the custom was instituted "to help laymen to think clearly, feel deeply and express themselves adequately on the things of religion," and to build up a corps of lay preachers who can fill the pulpit when occasion demands.

Among preachers in Greater Boston Unitarian churches will be Roy M. Cushman, executive secretary of the Boston Council of Social Agencies, who will speak from the pulpit of his home church in Medford. The First Parish Unitarian Church in West Roxbury, the sermon will be given by Rev. Owen D. Davis of Needham, executive secretary of the American Unitarian Association. Edward A. Cantwell of Boston architect, will preach at the First Parish Unitarian Church in Dorchester on "Fabrics of Today." At the Unitarian Church in Lexington, the preacher will be Herbert Coryell, president of the Lexington chapter of the Laymen's League.

"The Real Man Is Spiritual, Immortal"

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 15.

The Golden Text is: "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord." II Corinthians 3:18).

The lesson-sermon includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The real man is spiritual, and immortal; but the mortal and imperfect, so-called 'children of men' are counterfeits from the beginning, to be laid aside for the pure reality. This mortal is put off, and the new man or real man is put on, in proportion as mortals realize the Science of man and seek the true model" (p. 409).

BAPTIST

Tremont Temple
'Church of Good Cheer' Attendance Contest
DR. BROUGHER

10:25 A. M., "The Centuries Christ." Great Artists Preached to Northern Lights." Solo, Miss Ruth Hall. 12 noon, Bible School. 12:15 P. M. Men's Bible Class. 6:30 P. M. Young People's Meeting. 7:45 P. M. Male Quartet, Jr. Chorus, 12 Voice, Sunday School, "15 Years in LATIN JAMES SMITH-Pres. Timothy Smith's MEMORIAL SERVICE. Big Thing. Hebrews' Business Mixed Quartet. "The Seventy Solemn Thoughts" and "Looking This World with Christian Eyes." Mrs. Brougher's Duet from Jesse Pease" SERMON: "WHAT IS THE MEANING OF 'AS MANY' Come early for a seat.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF BOSTON
Commonwealth Ave. at Clarendon St.
10 A. M. Bible School. Rev. A. W. Beaven, Pastor, will preach 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Nursery and Kindergarten. Prof. J. S. Christian Endeavor. Everybody Welcome.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
The Mother Church, Falmouth, Norway and St., Paul Sts., Boston. Hours: 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Subject of Lesson-Sermon: "MORTALS AND IMMORTALS." Sunday School at 10:45 A. M. Wednesday evening meeting every Wednesday evening at 7:30.

CONGREGATIONAL

Park St. Church
PARK AND TREMONT STS.
BROADCAST FROM WHDH
Dr. Conrad Preaching
10:30 A. M.
"When the Heavens are Studded With Stars and God Surges Into the Soul."

EPISCOPAL

CHURCH OF THE ADVENT, Brimmer St. The Rev. Sidney E. Sanford, Rector. Holy Communion, 7:30 and 8:15 A. M. Young People's Service, 9:30 A. M. Church School, 9:45 A. M. Matins, 10 A. M. Solemn High Mass and Sermon, 11 A. M. Choral Evensong and Sermon, 7:30 P. M.

FORUM

Dr. Haridas Muzumdar
Intimate Friend of Gandhi
"GANDHI"
"The Man and His Message"
Old South Meeting House
(Milk and Washington Streets)
TOMORROW AFTERNOON at 3:15
Concert—Questions—FREE

Will Report

The Rev. Kenneth MacArthur, who recently succeeded the Rev. S. Tatlmadge Root to the secretaryship of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches, he will be at the annual meeting of his organization held in Worcester next week.

Catholic News

The novena of Thursdays in honor of St. Teresa of Lisieux will continue next week at St. Aloysius Church, Hanover st., Boston, with devotions at 12:20 (noon-day Mass) 5:30, 6:30 and 7:45 p. m.

Rev. Francis V. Murphy, D. D., will conduct the novena exercises and preach at 2:30 p. m.

Dr. Muzumdar sity, where he was graduated in 1923 and received a master's degree in 1926. The following year he was appointed fellow in the department of sociology at the University of Wisconsin, where he took his Ph. D. in 1929.

Glenn Frank, recognizing that this lecturer's avowed mission in life is to interpret to America the gospel of India's struggle for freedom, has declared him eminently qualified to give an Eastern view of mutual trends. Dr. Muzumdar came to this country directly from attendance at the recent London Round Table Conference.

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 15, at 3 o'clock, the Very Rev. James A. Walsh, M. Ap. Superior General of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, will speak on "The Awakened Orient" at the Sacred Heart Country Day School, 785 Centre st., Newton.

The monthly meeting of the John Boyle O'Reilly Reading Circle will be held at the League House, 1 Arlington st., Boston, Wednesday evening, November 18, at eight o'clock.

The speaker will be Miss Lucile A. Harrington, who will give the first of a series of five lectures on "Dante and the Divine Comedy."

FEDERATION IN ANNUAL MEET ON MONDAY

In the Pilgrim Church, Worcester, will take place Monday and Tuesday of the coming week the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches. This is the first at which the Rev. Kenneth MacArthur will officiate as executive secretary. He has now grown accustomed to his new work and will give a report of his stewardship. His associates, the Rev. Ivan B. Nelson, Mrs. Ethel B. Ives and Chaplain Wallace E. Hayes will all tell of their special departments. There will be speakers from all parts of the state, including Gov. Ely and Dr. A. Z. Conrad.

"Gandhi, the Man," Lecture at Forum

Dr. Haridas Muzumdar, who speaks at the Old South Meeting House Forum tomorrow afternoon on Gandhi, has been unstinted for the task of interpreting modern India to the world not by dint of great self sacrifice reinforced by personal ability. He won his way through prep school and college in India and then came to the United States to attend western Univer-

CURTIS TO MAKE RADIO PLEA FOR DEFENSE

By JOSEPH TIMMONS

Los Angeles, Nov. 14 (US)—Respo ding to an appeal made to him by Hoover, a score of prominent wo en, Vice-President Charles Curtis told the delegation that after his return to Washington he would be glad to repeat in a nation-wide radio address his declaration here on Armistice Day in favor of an army and navy strong enough for national defense and against entangling alliances.

Van Hogan, commander of the department of California, American Legion, headed the delegation yesterday and was spokesman. He told the Vice-President that he and informed him that in the conviction that the people of the whole country would welcome the opportunity to hear him express them, he had made tentative arrangements for a nation-wide broadcast last night.

The Vice-President was deeply moved by the warm approval of the veterans, and told them that conditions of peace had never existed in the near future from Washington. He said that his time was completely taken up for last evening and that it would have been impossible for him to take the broadcast then.

Commander Hogan left last night for Indianapolis to attend the meeting of Legion commanders and adjutants with the national officers and executive committee.

"Veterans have come to their meeting," said the commander, "and urge that national headquarters of the American Legion sponsor a national broadcast by the Vice-President in the near future. We veterans who heard him at the Olympic Stadium were greatly impressed with the clarity and simplicity and true eloquence in which he expressed his adherence to exactly what we stand for—an army large enough and a navy strong enough for adequate national defense, a guarantee to the nation of peace with honor, and no entangling alliances.

"We are very much in earnest in our desire that the people of the entire country have an opportunity to hear this sentiment from the lips of our Vice-President."

Boston Curb

Sales		High	Low	Close
25	Appleton	2	2	2
35	Border City	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
100	Chief Con 7s '34	60	60	60
100	Cities Service Co	15	15	15
100	DeForest Radio	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
73	Shattuck-Denn	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
100	Silica Gel Co	15	15	15
70	Un Verde Ex M	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
200	Verde Central	.04	.04	.04

LEGISLATORS TO STUDY TAXES

Washington, Nov. 14 (US)—Canada's sales tax system will be studied at close range by nearly 100 members of Congress, who will leave here today by special train for a week's stay in the Dominion.

The expedition is being sponsored by William Randolph Hearst, publisher. In his invitation to all senators and representatives to make the trip he said it was for the sole purpose of affording "an educational opportunity to examine the operation of this tax plan in the Dominion."

Special interest is being taken by members of Congress in the trip in view of indications by the Treasury Department that it may recommend a sales tax plan to Congress.

The congressional party will leave here at 6:30 p. m., arriving in Montreal tomorrow morning. The delegation is to return to Washington November 23.

Sir Henry Thornton, director of the Canadian National Railways, and Hanford MacNider, United States minister to Canada, will tender dinners to the visitors.

BUICK WIZARD CONTROLSHOWN

The principles of "wizard control" are being demonstrated at all Buick showrooms the country over today, when the new Buick Eight is to be on being shown for the first time.

"Wizard control" results from a new method of car control featuring a button-controlled automatic clutch, with improved free wheeling, and a new "knee-action" transmission with silent second gear, said to represent the finest engineering triumph ever attained in a unit of this kind.

The presentation includes an exclusive line of five new models, the most complete line ever built by Buick, grouped in four series, with smart, modern bodies by Fisher and a score of brilliant engineering features.

There is a newly-developed ride regulator, easily operated while driving. It adjusts the riding qualities of the car to any type of road surface or condition. All instruments are grouped at the left, under the eye of the driver.

The new valve-in-head straight eight engines provide optional high compression, while improved starting, carburetion and fuel supply system, and improved oil temperature regulator, and a new vacuum pump pioneered by Buick, giving positive windshield wiper action at all speeds, are other important features.

SANTA IS DUE AT JORDAN'S TODAY

The Christmas season opened today at Jordan Marsh Company. Word from Santaland, North Pole, was received by Jordan officials late last night that Santa Claus had left his castle several days ago and would arrive at his headquarters, Jordan Marsh Company, on the first—9 a. m. today.

Directly after receiving the dispatch Jordan Marsh Company set to work constructing the famous Santason Castle on the second floor of the annex building. The Santason Castle this year will feature displays of mechanical toys.

No mention of Santason was made in the dispatch, but it is almost certain that he will soon follow his famous father, Santa, to Boston and will arrive probably on Thanksgiving Day. A big parade is being planned by Jordan officials in anticipation of Santason's arrival.

Ty Cobb, Jr., Starts New Fad at Yale

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 14 (INS)—Led by Tyrus Cobb, Jr., son of the Georgia Peach, students at Yale have taken to rolling up their trouser cuffs. The fad first began with gray flannel slacks and spread to trousers with coats to match.

Young Cobb, who started the new style, said that rolled cuffs were more comfortable. Last year he let baseball go by to become a star member of the freshman tennis team.

Fur Fashion Show at Somerset Monday

A fur fashion show will feature the Thanksgiving bridge of the Preparatory Club's department at the Hotel Somerset, Monday evening. Daytime and evening fur styles will be modeled by Misses Margaret Parsons, Dorothy Loughran, Josephine Fallon and Julia Canty, members of the club. Mrs. Margaret Walsh Benninghof is chairman.

Whiskey and Seltzer Hi-ball Red Signal

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—It is no secret that whiskey and seltzer have been found together before.

They were together again yesterday, in Ridgewood magistrate's court—Nathan Whiskey and Samuel Seltzer. Each was found guilty of running by a red light.

British Air Record Seeker Quits Athens

Athens, Nov. 14 (INS)—J. A. Molson, British flier, who is attempting to establish a new airplane flight record between England and Cape Town, arrived here at 9:45 a. m. today and took off an hour later for Cairo.

Queen Marie Arrives for Visit to Ileana

Munich, Bavaria, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania arrived today for an indefinite stay. The Archduke Anton of Hapsburg and his wife, the former Princess Ileana of Rumania, were at the station to greet her.

LIVE STOCKS IN WALL STREET

RESUMPTION of selling of the rails, tumbling of the Central to a new low, unsettled the weekend stock market. Recessions outside of the carrier group were moderate as a rule. Such leaders as American Can, General Motors and Bethlehem finished off only fractionally.

New Hoover Plan Aids Some Issues

Stocks of the building materials' companies and the mill order houses stiffened at the outset today on President Hoover's announced plan to stimulate home building in all parts of the country. Johns Manaville was a favorite, with a rise of over a point.

Auto Stocks Show Rallying Powers

Automobile stocks showed the best rallying tendencies in the closing hour today, General Motors scoring a comeback, while Studebaker closed higher.

Seasonal Pickup is Noted by Reviews

Weekly trade reviews were cheerful in noting some pick-up of seasonal demand, which is not an item of promise in the news that scrap steel prices have been showing some firmness of late.

Groups Opposed On General Foods

Bull group in General Foods has been finding itself actively opposed by a strong bear clique. To date, the bull operators have made no headway, though a bull pool commenced operations about a week ago.

Decided Pickup is Noted by Official

International Nickel's directors today took no act on dividends. The market believes the payment will be omitted. A high ranking official of the company is authority for tis statement that in recent weeks a decided pick-up has been noted in business. It is stated that demand came in the most active since June of 1930.

Short Selling of New Haven Seen

Some of the selling of New Haven stock was induced by widespread reports questioning safety of the dividend. Short selling accounted for a good part of the recent offerings.

Financial News and Comment

New York Curb

	High	Low	Close
Ainsworth	6⅝	6½	6½
Alum Co Am	81	77	79
Alum Ltd	34	34	34
Am Bak A	19½	19½	19½
Am Cit P & L B	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Am C Pow A	23½	23¼	23¼
do 5½ pf	21	21	21
do B	4	4	4
Am Cyan	8	8	8
Am Cyan B	3¼	3¼	3¼
Am Equities	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
Am & For P warr	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Am Gas & El	47	46	46⅜
do pf	95½	93½	95½
Am Light & T	28½	28¼	28¼
Am Nat Gas	5-16	⅜	⅜
Am Sup Power	6¼	5	6
do 1 pf	67¼	67¼	67¼
Am Ut & G B vtc	⅛	⅛	⅛
Anglo Chi Nit	⅛	⅛	⅛
Appalach Gas	1¼	1¼	1¼
da war	⅛	⅛	⅛
Ark Nat Gas	3¼	3¼	3¼
do A	3	3	3
Art Metals	3	3	3
As G & E Al	6¾	6⅝	6⅝
do war	⅛	⅛	⅛
As Rayon	2¼	2	2¼
Aut V M ev pr pf	8⅝	6⅝	6⅝
Aviation Corp	12	12	12
Bliss E W	4½	4½	4½
Blue Ridge	2¼	2¼	2¼
do cv pf	25	25	25
Bourjois	5	5	5
Braz Tr & L	11¼	11¼	11¼
Brill A	21¼	21	21¼
Cab R Tube vtc	1¼	1¼	1¼
Can Marc Wirel	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Carnation	18½	18½	18½
Carnegie Met	1¼	1¼	1¼
Cent Mud G&E vtc	16	16	16
Cent Pub S A	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Cent S' Ind A	3¼	3¼	3¼
Chain Stre Dev	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Chg Rivers	7¾	7¾	7¾
Cit Serv P 6 pf	60	60	60
Cleve El Ill	34	33⅜	33⅜
Colon Oil	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Colts P Fire	14½	14½	14½
Colum O & G vtc	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Comwith & So war	⅛	⅛	⅛
Comstock Tun	⅛	⅛	⅛
Cons Cop Mng	1¼	1¼	1¼
Cons G & E Balt	75	75	75
Cons G Ut A	3½	3½	3½
Cons G Ut	8¼	8¼	8¼
Corp Sec Chi	6¼	6¼	6¼
Courtaulds	7¾	7¾	7¾
Creole Pet	23¼	23¼	23¼
Cresson Gold	5-16	5-16	5-16
Cusi Mex	⅜	⅜	⅜
Dayton Airpl	⅜	⅜	⅜
Deere & Co	16⅜	16⅛	16⅜
De Forest	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Detroit Aircraft	1¼	1¼	1¼
Dow Chem	38	38	38
Duquesne Gas	3-16	3-16	3-16
Durant Mot	11¼	10¾	10¾
Du-Pont Texas	⅜	⅜	⅜
East' Stn Pow B	4¼	4¼	4¼
El Bond & Sh	19¼	19¼	19¼
El Bond & Sh pf	84	84	84
El Bo & Sh 5 pf	99½	99½	99½
El Pow A	10½	9¼	9¼
El P & L opt warr	9¾	9¾	9¾
Elec Bond & Sh	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
Europ El A	4	4	4
Fanstecl	3	3	3
Ford M Can A	13¼	13¼	13¼
Ford M Can B	22½	21	21
Ford Mot Ltd	7¾	7¾	7¾
Fox Theatre A	3¼	3	3
Gen Aviat Corp	3⅜	3	3
Gen Cap	23⅛	23⅛	23⅛
Gen El Ltd ret	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
Gen G & El cv pfB	24¼	24¼	24¼
Gen Th Eq cv pf	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Glen Alden	29½	28	28
Globe Underwr	5	5	5
Gold Seal Elec	⅜	⅜	⅜
Goldman Sachs	2⅞	3	3
Goldsmith Bab	⅛	⅛	⅛
Gt Atl & P nw	176	176	176
Gt Atl & P 1st pf	121¾	119	121
Gulf Oil Pa	48	48	48
Hir Walker	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Hudson Bay M & S	23¾	23¾	23¾
Imp Oil Can	11	10¾	10¾
Insull Util	12	12	12
Insuran Sec	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Interest Petrol	5-16	5-16	5-16
Internat Pet	10⅞	10⅞	10⅞
Inter Prod	1¼	1¼	1¼
Inter Util B	3	3	3
Inters Eq cv pf	14	14	14
Inters Pow Del pf	59	57	57
Isl Superpow A	2	2	2
Lehigh C & N	16¼	16¼	16¼
Long Is Lt	22¾	22¾	22¾
Long Is Lt pf	105½	105½	105½
Mexis Bott A	1¼	1¼	1¼
Mesa Johnson	59	58¾	58¾
Memphis N Gas	6	5¾	5¾
Mexhl Iron	⅛	⅛	⅛
Mid St Pet B vtc	2	2	2
Mid West Util	10⅜	10⅛	10⅛
Mo Ky Ut pf ww	63½	63½	63½
Mu Cans P L	2	2	2
Nat Avia	4¼	4¼	4¼
Nat Bond Sh	26	26	26
Nat Fuel G	15⅝	14⅝	15⅛
Nat Investors	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
Nat Pub C pf	53½	53½	53½
Nat Service	1¼	1¼	1¼
Nat St T Sec A	23	23	23
Nat Sug Ref	28¾	28¼	28¼
Neptune Met A	13	13	13
New Eng Pow pf	64¼	64¼	64¼
Nj Zinc	31⅝	31⅝	31⅝
Newmont Min	20	18½	20
N Y Steam	30½	30	30
N Y Tel 8½ pf	114	114	114
N Y Transport	18⅝	18⅜	18⅝
Niag Hud Pow	8¾	8¾	8¾
Niag Hud A war	1	1	1
Niag Hud B war	3¼	3¼	3¼
Niag Shares Md	4¼	4¼	4¼
Nlag Sh Bem P	31	31	31
Nitrate B	⅛	⅛	⅛
Nordon Ltd	3-16	3-16	3-16
Nor Am Av & war	3-16	3-16	3-16
Ohio Cop	⅛	⅛	⅛
Pac West Oil	5	5	5
Pandem Oil	3-16	3-16	3-16
Pantepec Oil	⅛	⅛	⅛
Parke & L pf	13⅛	13⅛	13⅛
Peterson-Sar	18	18	18
Pennroad	4	4	4
Perfect Circle	28	28	28
Permian Elec	¼	¼	¼
Petroleum war	⅛	⅛	⅛
Pilot Radio A	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞
Pitts Lake E	65	65	65
Pitts Pil Gl	21¼	21¼	21¼
Plymouth Oil	13⅜	13⅜	13⅜
Premier Gold	11-16	11-16	11-16
Pub Ut Hold war	⅛	⅛	⅛
Pub Ut P 6 pf	75	75	75
Quaker Oats pf	111	110	110
Rainbow A	¼	¼	¼
Radio-K-Or	1	1-16	1
Reiter Fost	⅛	⅛	⅛
Rep Gas	2	2	2
Reynolds Inv	¼	¼	¼
Rkofl L & P	12¾	12½	12½
St Regis Pap	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞
Seaboard Util	¼	¼	¼
See Allied Cp	⅜	⅜	⅜
Seeman Bros	27¾	27¾	27¾
Segal Lock	2¼	2¼	2¼
Selby Shoe	12	12	12
Shattuck Denn	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
Shenandoah	2¼	2¼	2¼
Shenandoah pf	12	11¾	11¾
Silica Gel ctf	2¼	2⅛	2⅛
Singer Mfg	187	187	187
Smith A O	68½	67¾	68½
So Penn Oil	14	14	14
So Nat Gas	⅛	⅛	⅛
Spieg May S pf	26⅝	26⅝	26⅝
St Oil Ind	21¼	20⅝	21¼
St Oil Ky	16⅛	16¼	16⅛
Std Silver Ld	⅛	1-16	1-16
Sunray Oil	⅛	7-16	7-16
Tampa El	31	31	31
Teck Hugh G	5	4¾	4¾
Transcont Air	4	4	4
Trans Lux	2¾	2⅝	2⅝
Tri Utilities	⅛	3-16	3-16
Unit Carr Fast	3½	3½	3½
Unit Corp war	2¼	2¼	2¼
Unit Founders	3	3	3
United Gas	3¼	3	3¼
Un Lt & Pow	⅛	⅛	⅛
Un Lt & Pow A	11⅛	11	11
Unit Molasses Ltd	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
U S & Int Sec	13	13	13
do pf	26⅝	26⅝	26⅝
U S Dairy Pr A	60	60	60
U S Elec Pow	2¼	2¼	2¼
U S Play Cd	24½	24¼	24¼
Unit Stores vte	⅛	⅛	⅛
Unit Verde	4½	4⅜	4½
Util Pow C & L A	5¾	4¾	5¾
Utility & Ind	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞
do pf	13	13	13
Weadon Cop	3-16	3-16	3-16
West Pow pf	96	95½	95½
Wil-Low Caf pf	24	22	24
Woolworth Ltd	8½	8½	8½
Y Oil & Gas	⅛	⅛	⅛

New England Power Earnings Bettered

Earnings of New England Power Assn. have always covered fixed charges by a generous margin. During the first half of 1931, due to decreased industrial demand, power, earnings were slightly behind 1930 figures, but well covered fixed charges. Conditions have since improved. September demand, for instance, was 10 per cent above output for that month a year ago and further gains are expected for October.

Boston Edison Co.'s takings under its contract stepped up from a 100,000,000 k. w. h. annual rate to 150,000,000 k. w. h. as of Oct. 1, 1931. For 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1931, fixed charges after depreciation were earned 1.7 times.

Middle West's Net in Year $31,072,549

Chicago, Nov. 14—Middle West Utilities Co. reports for quarter ended September 30 net of $8,412,932 after charges, but before depreciation, against $6,744,468 the preceding quarter and $8,054,006 in September quarter of 1930. For year ended September 30 net was $31,072,549 before depreciation, against $33,867,275 in 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1930.

STOCKS LOWER AT CLOSE IN BOSTON

Stocks finished the week lower in today's short session of dull trading on the Boston Stock Exchange. Changes ranged from fractions to 3 points or more, with utilities and rails leading the list downward. Edison Electric registered a decline of 5 points and finished at 215.

New England Telephone and American Telephone each recorded losses of 31.75 a share, with the former closing at 126 and the latter at 138. Eastern Gas & Fuel preferred closed the week at 81, down a point from its previous closing level.

In the rail group Atchison lowered 1½ to finish at 109½, and New Haven slumped over 2 points to close at 34¾. Pennsylvania eased fractionally. Textiles were soft and Pacific Mills dropped fractionally over a point. St. Mary's eased a major fraction.

After feeling effects of selling pressure which carried them down to 90 a few weeks ago, New England Power Association five per cent gold notes, due Dec. 1, 1932, have improved to 94¼-95¾, at the low point these short-term notes were selling to yield 15 per cent while current yield is about 10.60 per cent.

This contrasts with a price of 90¾ and yield of 5.25 per cent in last December when the $20,000,000 issue was offered, and shows the appreciation by the public now respecting early maturities, no matter how strong the issuing company.

Total Year's Corn Pack Tops Year Ago

Total 1931 corn pack amounted to 18,414,667 cases, as against 15,692,172 in 1930, based on cases of 24 No. 2 cans, according to the Commerce Department.

Of this year's pack 95.4 per cent represents actual canner's pack figures and remaining 4.6 per cent are trade estimates received from sources believed to be reliable.

Kentucky Standard Advances Gasoline

Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky has advanced gasoline price one cent throughout northern Kentucky, effective tomorrow. New price is 19 cents for Red Crown and 22 cents for ethyl.

New York Bonds

GOVERNMENT BONDS

	High	Low	Last
Liberty 1st 4½s 32-47	101.9	101.3	101.9
Lib 1st2nd 4½s 32-47	101.8	101.3	101.8
Lib 4th 4¼s 33-38	104.10	104.6	104.10
Treas 4¼s 47-52	107.2	106.24	107.2
Treas 4s 44-54	104.10	104.6	104.10
Treas 3½s 46-49	95.12	95.8	95.8
FOREIGN CORPORATION BONDS
Alleghany Corp 5s 50	42¾	42	42
Alleghany Corp 5s 44	42¾	42	42
Allis Chal 5s 37	95	95	95
Am Smelting 5s 47	99½	99½	99½
Am T&T 5s 46	102¾	102¾	102¾
Am T&T 4½s 33	99	99	99
Am W W & Elec 6s 75	91½	90½	90½
Arm & Co 1st 4½s 39	97¾	97¾	97¾
Arm & Co cv 4½s 39	75	74¼	74¼
Atl Coast L 4s 52	86¾	86¾	86¾
Balt & O ref 6s 95	85	84¾	84¾
Balt & O 4s 48	85	84¾	84¾
Bell T Pa 5s B 48	104	103½	103½
Beth Steel 5s 36	100¾	100¾	100¾
Bklyn Man Trans 6s 68	93½	91½	93½
Bklyn Un Gas 5s 50	100¾	100¾	100¾
C M&StP adj 5s 2000	12¼	12	12¼
C M&StP 4½s 49	12¼	12	12¼
Ch R I & P 4½s 34	58½	57	57½
Ch R I & P 4½s 60	57¾	57	57¾
Chile Co 5s 43	64¾	64¾	64¾
Chile Co 6s 61	74¾	74¾	74¾
CCC&StL rfg 4½s 77	75	75	75
Colo Fuel 1st 5s 51	100	100	100
Colo & S rfg 4½s 80A	70	69	69
Col Indust 5s 34	99¾	99¾	99¾
Col G&E 5s 61	88	87¾	87¾
Col G&E 5s 51	88	87¾	87¾
Del P&L 4½s 71	96½	96½	96½
D & H 1 & R 5s 37	93	93	93
Det Ed 4½s 61D	98	98	98
Erie 1st con 4s 96	73	73	73
Erie 1st cn gr ln 4s 96	73	71	74
Erie gen 4s 95	53¾	53¾	53¾
Erie ref 4s 53 B	53	52½	52½
Fisk T & T 6s 54	53	53	53
Gen Theat Equip 6s 40	10½	10	10½
Goodyear T&R 5s 57	100	100	100
Gr Trk Ry Can 6s 58	98¾	98¾	98¾
Gulf States 5s 56	104¾	104¾	104¾
Hudson Co 5s 49	54¾	53¾	54¼
Hudson R 5s 57	53¾	53¾	53¾
Int Hydro Elec 6s 44	67	65	65
Int Match 5s 41	70	70	70
Int Match 5s 43 ctf	70	70	70
Int Rys Cent Am 6s 47	58	55¾	55¾
Int T & T 4½s 39	57	56¾	56¾
Int T&T deb 4½s 52	57	56	56
Int T&T 5s 55	57	56	56
K C Ft W & R 4½s 61	100	99¾	99¾
Kan City Pr & L 5s 52	99¾	99¾	99¾
Lac Gas St L 1st 5s 34	99	98¾	98¾
Lautaro Nitrate 6½s 54	100	99	99
Lorillard Co 5½s 37	100½	100½	100½
Louisville & Nash 5s 60	104¾	104¾	104¾
Lou G&E 5s 52	101¼	101	101¼
Manati Sug 7s 42	43	43	43
McKeesn & Rob 5½s 56	65¾	65	65¾
Met Ed 1st 6s B 53	107¾	107¾	107¾
Mo Pac cv 5½s 49	45	44¾	44¾
Mo Pac 1st 5s 65	84	84	84
Mo Pac 1st 5s 81	84	84	84
Mo Pac gen 5s 76	61¼	61¼	61¼
Morris & Co 1st 4½s 39	70¾	69	69
Nat Dist Prod 5½s 46	100	100	100
Nat Ry Mex 4s 51 Asd	15¾	15¾	15¾
Newberry 3½s 46	85	85	85
N Y C&H 4s 98	85¾	85¾	85¾
N Y C&H 4½s 2013	85¾	85¾	85¾
NYC & R ref 4½s 2013	85	85	85
NYC&StL 1st 4½s A	94¾	94¾	94¾
NYC & StL 4s ex 34	94¾	94¾	94¾
NYC & StL 4½s 78	94¾	94¾	94¾
NY Ch & B L 4½s 74	47	47	47
NY Conn Rail 4½s 47	21¾	21¾	21¾
NY Edison ref 5½s 41	111¼	111	111
NY Edison 1st 5s 44	102	102	102
NY O & W ref 4s 92	45¾	45¾	45¾
NY Rys 1st 4s 42	40	40	40
Nor Am Co 5s 61	99¾	99¾	99¾
Nor Pac 1st & ref 4s A 2047	101	100	100¾
Nor Pac gen 3s 2047	69¾	69¾	69¾
Penn Pow & Lt 5s 52	98¾	98¾	98¾
Penn RR 4½s 84	98¾	98¾	98¾
Penn RR 4½s 60	98¾

STOCKS RALLY AFTER SELLING OF CARRIERS

New York, Nov. 14—Important shares managed to rally in late trading on the New York Stock Exchange today, after break selling of the carriers had been absorbed. Better support in the wheat market was a rallying influence.

Rails again dragged the list down, and Radio and Radio-Keith broke about a point to new lows, reflecting indications of a stockholders controversy over the proposed reorganization of Radio-Keith.

CLOSING ABOVE LOWS

Net losses in shares ranged from 1 ot 4 points in numerous issues at the finish, but final prices were generally from fractions to a point above the lowest of the morning. The closing tone was heavy. The turnover for the short session was around 1,100,000 shares.

Selling of the rails apparently reflected further discussion of the prospect of dividend reductions and fears that relief from the proposed rate increases and wage reductions would be deferred.

Whether the changes in the Interstate Commerce Commission's conditions for rate increases urged by the railway executives yesterday will hold up relief from that quarter remains to be seen. Although the executives have appointed a committee to confer with labor heads, no early agreement on wages is generally expected in Wall Street.

Wall Street's reaction to President Hoover's suggestion of a system of emergency discounts, if were generally favorable, but it had little influence on the share markets. Allied Chemical & Dye, Radiator, and Sears Roebuck, which do large businesses in building materials showed a little momentary firmness.

Shares closing about 2 to 4 points lower included New York Central, which again penetrated new low ground, New Haven, Union Pacific, Atchison, Norfolk & Western, American Telephone, duPont and Cyca Cola. U. S. Steel lost a point or two.

The coppers were again an isolated firm spot. Anaconda, Kennecott and Cerro de Pasco gained a point and a half. The issues are now hopeful of an early international agreement on production.

Weekend estimate of operating schedules in the Youngstown Steel area was again encouraging, indicating that next week's operations will be around 40 per cent of capacity, against 37 this week.

Bond market was irregular, but the Japanese issues were again firm, and the German's recovered.

In commodities, bar silver was a shade higher, but cotton turned a little heavy, losing 40 to 55 cents a bale.

In foreign exchanges, strength of the Argentine peso was a feature. The ogid posh rose 2 cents to 85¾ cents. Sterling also was firm, ruling at $3.76¾ for cables, up ¾ of a cent.

—SPECTATOR—

Says:

Strange, the psychology of Wall Street. One week ago, when the market was in the midst of a spirited advance, traders were tempting to outdo each other to fall in line with the bandwagon. Yet now, when stocks have declined sharply from their best levels of the recovery, the speculative element is shrouded in pessimism and predicting all sorts of dire happenings to the market.

Dividends

While admitting that the probabilities of further dividend reductions exist somewhere, I am now over unbridled bullish enthusiasm at this time, still to the unbiased observer it seems that the pendulum has gone to decided extremes to discount such developments.

Take the case of New York Central. It is generally conceded that the aggressive selling pressure against this investment favorite was one of the contributing causes to the market acttlement of the past two sessions.

True, there is the likelihood that because of currently unsatisfactory earnings and the necessity for new financing the present $1 annual dividend will be pared at the next meeting.

Central's Record

But how about the past record of this carrier? Does not such knowledge that it has paid dividends uninterruptedly since 1870, that its average common earnings in the past decade has been in excess of $3 a share, and the last year's road represents a tenth of the entire railroad business of the country count for anything?

Yet now, when the price of the stock has been battered to the lowest level in its history, and to a point where it is quoted at but three times its average earning record for the past 10 years, Wall Street is rushing pell-mell to sell the stock short.

True, the present speculative viewpoint may be temporarily correct. But the market has shown itself to rather capable of leveling itself to true values many times in the past, and it seems unlikely that this occasion will prove any exception.

Bar Silver Higher, 35½c. an Ounce

New York, Nov. 14—Trading in bar silver was quiet today. The close was ¼ of a cent higher at 35½ cents an ounce.

Approximate sales today, 1,160,000 shares
Week ago 2,000,000
Year ago 2,640,690

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

1931 to date 507,670,742
1930 to date 729,474,724
1929 to date 1,018,681,020

1931—High	1931—Low	Stk. No.	A	Sales Closing	Net Chge	High	Low	Close	Net Chge
14⅛	2⅛		Abitibi Power	300	4	4	4	4	+ ⅛
52	15		Abitibi Pw pf	100	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾	— ⅛
23⅛	7	1	Adams Ex	3200	7⅝	8⅛	7⅝	8	+ ⅛
20	18	1.60	Affiliated Prd	300	18¼	18¼	18	18	— ¼
109⅜	84	4.50	Air Reduct	3100	84¾	87	84¾	87	+ 2¼
10⅛	1¾		Airway El	200	3	3	3	3	— ⅛
6	2⅛	.40	Alaska Juneau	2200	14	16½	15½	16½	+ 1½
12⅜	3¼		Alleh Corp	3200	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	— ⅛
182⅜	68	6d	Allied Chem	28200	88½	89¼	86½	88	— ½
125	44	7	Allied Stk pf	100	120	120	120	120
47	14	1	Allis Ch	1800	18	18	17⅞	18
3	1	2	Amerada	300	16½	17	16½	17
23	4⅝		Am Ar Chm	300	8¾	8¾	8¼	8¼	— ¼
124⅝	94⅛	7	Am Bk Note	500	20⅜	20½	20⅛	20⅛	— ⅛
129⅜	71⅛	4	Am Br Sh pf	200	92¼	92½	92½	92½
129⅜	71⅛	4	Sh Can	22700	81½	81½	80¼	81	— ¼
86	40	7	Am Car & F	100	51½	51½	51½	51½	— ½
86	40	7	Am C & F pf	110	55½	55½	50½	52½	—4¼
45⅝	31¼	2.25	Am Chicle	100	35⅝	35½	35½	35½	— ⅛
21⅞	14½		Am Cinemtone	100	15	15	15	15	— ⅛
14½	5		Am Com Alco	4200	9	9¼	8¾	9¼	+ ½
10⅜	3		Am & F Pw	14300	4¼	4¼	3⅞	3⅞	— ⅛
100	45⅞	7	Am & F P pf	100	53	53	53	53	—2
29⅜	8		Am&FP 2nf A	1800	27	27	27	27
26	6		Am Inter	300	8¾	8¾	8½	8½	— ⅛
129⅜	71⅛	4	Am Loco	200	13	13	12¾	12¾	— ⅜
84⅜	60⅜	5	Am Rolling	1200	22½	22½	22½	22½
43⅜	21	1.40	Am M & Fdv	1500	25½	25½	24¾	24¾	—1½
23⅜	7		Am Metal	100	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	— ⅛
89½	21		Am Met 6nc pf	20	36	36	36	36	—3
39⅜	9		Am N Gas pf	70	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾
57⅛	33½	3.50	Am News Co	10	33½	33½	33½	33½	— ⅛
64⅞	14½	1d	Am Pw & Lt	300	19½	19½	19	19¼	— ⅜
14⅜	4	.60	Am Pr & S S	2200	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾	— ⅛
37⅜	10		Am Rad & S	3200	13¾	13¾	13¼	13¼	— ⅜
28	5		Am Safety R	400	35⅜	35⅝	35	35	2¼⅛
42	20		Am Shipbldg	100	22½	22½	22½	22½	— ½
18⅛	19¼	1.50	Am Smelting	10200	30⅜	31⅜	29¾	31⅜	+1⅛
129⅜	71⅛	4	Am Snuff	100	33	33	33	33	— ⅛
99½	21		Am Sol & Ch	900	½	½	½	½	— ⅛
37⅛	7⅜		Am Sol & C pf	200	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	— ⅛
31½	7⅜		Am Steel & Fd	100	7¾	7¾	7¾	7¾	— ⅛
60	34½	5	Am Sugar	1300	49½	49½	48¼	48¼	—1¾
201⅛	112½	9	Am T & T	7100	127⅜	127⅜	126¾	126¾	— ⅝
128⅜	71⅛	5	Am Tob	100	85	89	87⅞	87⅞	—1¼
132⅜	74⅜	5	Am Tob B	6100	90¾	90¾	86⅝	87	—1¼
83⅜	23¼	3	Am Water W	3700	36	36	35	35	—1
11⅞	3¼		Am Woolen	1100	6¼	6¼	5⅝	5⅝	— ⅛
28	5		Am Wool pf	200	26	25¾	25¾	25¾	— ⅛
43⅛	12½		Anaconda	11300	16¾	17⅛	16¼	17⅛	+ ⅛
18	8		Archer Dan	200	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾	— ⅛
72	20	7	Armr D Ind	100	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾
24	7		Armour Ill B	200	7	7	7	7	— ⅛
42	20		Armour Ill pf	100	39¾	39¾	39¾	39¾	— ⅛
28⅛	3⅛		Asso Apparel	200	3⅝	4	3⅝	4
28⅛	3⅛		Assn D G	2100	3⅛	3⅛	2¾	2¾	—1½
203⅛	97½	10	Atchison	2700	110½	111½	108⅛	109	— ⅝
120	52		Atchison pf	100	92¾	92¾	92¾	92¾	— ⅛
120	52	7	Atlantic C	300	55¾	55¾	55¾	55¾	—1
23⅞	9⅛	1	Atl Refin	1200	13⅜	14	13¼	13¾	— ⅛
65	17		Atlas Pow	200	29¾	29¾	29¼	29¼	— ½
13⅛	5	1	Atlas Stores	100	5¾	5¾	5⅝	5⅝	— ⅛
25⅜	14⅜	4d	Auburn Auto	10200	127	127	122	124¾	—2½
6⅝	2⅛		Avia Corp	2200	3	3	2⅞	3

1931—High	1931—Low	Stk. No.	B	Sales Closing	Net Chge	High	Low	Close	Net Chge
94	37⅛		Baldwin Loc	500	9	9	9	9	— ⅛
71⅜	26⅞		Balt & Ohio	7400	33¾	34⅛	32⅝	33⅛	— ⅝
68⅜	26	3.50	Bangor & Ar	200	32	32	38	39	— ⅝
6	2		Barker Bros	150	3	3	3	3
14⅜	3⅞		Barnsdall A	1200	7¾	7¾	7¼	7¼	— ⅛
33	19⅜	3	Bavuk Cigar	20	19⅜	19½	19½	19⅜	— ⅛
81	37	4	Beatrice Crm	100	48¼	48¼	48¼	48¼	— ¼
62	37½	3	Beech Nut Pk	100	47	47	47	47	—1
26	11		Bendix Avia	8600	18⅛	18½	18	18⅜	— ⅜
46¼	24⅜	2	Best & Co	1200	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾	— ⅛
70⅜	22⅜	2	Bethlehem Stl	600	29¼	29¼	28⅜	29	— ⅛
25⅜	8		Bigelow Alum	100	25⅜	25⅜	24¾	24¾	— ⅜
66⅛	40	5b	Bonami	100	56⅛	56⅛	56⅛	56½	+1
33⅛	14⅜	1	Borden	7700	49¾	49¾	48¾	48¾	—1
109⅜	61		Borg Warner	3200	13⅜	13⅝	13¼	13⅜
22⅜	8⅛	1.60	Briggs Mfg	3400	11⅛	11⅛	10⅞	10⅞
30⅜	11⅜	4	Bklh Man Tr	700	35½	35½	35½	35½	— ⅛
64⅜	50⅞	6	Bklh Gunn pf	100	55⅝	55⅝	55⅛	55⅝	+ ⅛
13⅜	3⅛		Brunswick Rk	100	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	— ⅛
13⅜	3⅛		Brunswick pf	700	3¼	3¼	3	3
20⅞	6		Bucyrus Erie	100	6	6	6	6	— ⅛
23⅛	4		Bullard Co	100	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
5⅜	2		Budd Mfg	100	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	— ⅛
31⅜	4¼		Budd Wheel	400	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
10⅜	6⅛		Burroughs Ad	400	14⅛	14⅛	13¾	13¾	— ⅜
22⅜	8⅛	1.60	Bureau Mfg	3400	11⅛	11⅛	10⅞	10⅞
30⅜	11⅜	4	Bklh Man Tr	700	35½	35½	35½	35½	— ⅛
64⅜	50⅞	6	Bklh Gunn pf	100	55⅝	55⅝	55⅛	55⅝	+ ⅛
13⅜	3⅛		Brunswick Rk	100	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	— ⅛
13⅜	3⅛		Brunswick pf	700	3¼	3¼	3	3
20⅞	6		Bucyrus Erie	100	6	6	6	6	— ⅛
23⅛	4		Bullard Co	100	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
5⅜	2		Budd Mfg	100	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	— ⅛
31⅜	4¼		Budd Wheel	400	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
10⅜	6⅛		Burroughs Ad	400	14⅛	14⅛	13¾	13¾	— ⅜
22⅜	8⅛	1.60	Bureau Mfg	3400	11⅛	11⅛	10⅞	10⅞

1931—High	1931—Low	Stk. No.	C	Sales Closing	Net Chge	High	Low	Close	Net Chge
7⅞	2⅜		Can Am Tnv	100	4	4	4	4	—⅛
7⅜	2⅜		Can Am In pf	100	72½	72½	72½	72½	— ½
73⅛	38½	4	Can Pac Rail	7300	44¼	44¾	44	44⅜	— ⅛
47	9¾	2	Can Asphalt	1200	15¾	15¾	15¼	15⅜	— ⅜
37⅜	5⅞		Can Breweries	100	8	8	8	8
67	19⅜		Can Cable 7 nf	60	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾	— ⅜
46½	25	4	Can Car	100	35⅛	35⅜	35⅛	35⅛
54⅜	24⅜	1.60	Can Cem	11100	31⅛	31¾	30¾	31	— ⅛
8⅞	2⅜	1	Can G & E A	100	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾	— ⅛
56	22½	2.50	Can Ind Alc	2100	24¾	25	24¾	25	+ ⅛
48	22⅛	3	Can Motors	24900	27¼	27⅝	26¾	27⅛	— ⅜
40	10¼	2.50	Can Print Ink	200	17	17	17	17	— ⅛
23	4⅝		Can Pwr Sug	600	6½	6⅝	5¾	5⅞	— ⅛
84½	22¼	5	Can Rv Sic	600	31	31	30¾	31	— ⅛
84⅜	22¼	5	Can Realty	100	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	— ⅛
57⅜	15	1	Can Refrac	700	18½	18½	18½	18½
12⅜	3		Can Thesaurs	200	4	4	4	4	— ⅛
38⅝	9¼		Gillette	3700	14½	14½	14	14⅛	+ ⅛
3	1		Ginebel Bros	300	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
87	30		Glidden	300	8	8	7¾	7¾	— ⅛
87	30		Glidden pf	70	66	69	65	65	—1
24⅜	7		Gobel Corp	1100	7⅞	7⅞	7½	7⅝	— ⅛
82	21⅜	2.50	Gold Dust	5500	21¾	21⅞	21⅛	21⅛	—⅛
82	21⅜	2.50	Gold Dust pf	100	101¼	101¼	101¼	101¼	+3¼
37⅜	6		Goodrich Rub	1200	7	7⅛	6⅞	6⅞	— ⅛
20⅝	3		Goodyear	2400	26¼	26⅝	25¾	25¾	— ⅝
52⅜	16	3	Goodyear 1 nf	200	23	23	23	23	— ⅛
11⅜	3¼		Gotham S Hos	600	8	8	8	8
11⅜	3¼		Graham Paige	2600	4⅜	4⅜	4⅛	4⅛	— ⅛
37⅜	16		Grand Un nf	100	36	36	36	36
42	25⅜	1	Grant W T	200	34⅜	34⅜	34⅜	34½	— ⅛
46	2		Gt Nor pf	1100	25⅛	25⅝	25¼	25⅝	+ ⅛
67⅜	20	5	Gt Nor pf	1100	25⅝	25⅝	25¼	25¼	—1⅛
6⅜	1⅛		Grigsby Grun	2500	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼
37⅜	6		Gulf Stl Steel	100	8¼	8¼	8¼	8¼	— ⅛

89	18⅜		Hahn Dept S	100	3¼	3¼	3¼	3¼	— ⅛
8⅜	2⅜		Hahn Inc pf	100	6½	6½	6½	6½	— ⅛
37⅛	16		Hall Printing	100	18	18	18	18
37⅛	16	2.50	Holland Fur	100	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜	— ⅛
131	5⅜	7.80	Hollander F S	4500	7	7	6¾	6¾	— ⅛
131	81		Homestake M	100	120	123	120	123	+1
8⅜	2⅜		Hou Hers	400	4	4	4	4	— ⅛
68½	19		Houston Oil	2000	27	27⅛	26½	27⅛	— ⅛
46	3		Houston O inl	300	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾	— ⅛
37⅜	6		Howe Sound	100	19	19	19	19	— ⅛
78⅛	55	5	Hud & Man pf	100	60	60	60	60
37⅜	6		Hudson Mot	300	12¾	12¾	12¼	12¾	— ⅜
13⅜	3⅜		Hupp Motors	1400	5¾	5¾	5¾	5½

400	19¼	19¼	18½	18¾	— ½
300	31½	30¾	31½	31½	—1½
700	50½	50¾	50¼	50¼	— ¼
100	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾	— ⅛
4000	10¼	10¼	10¼	10¼	+ ⅛
100	4	4	4	4
600	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
100	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
1400	125	125	122½	123¾	+1½
200	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	— ⅛
100	24¼	24¼	24	24
1200	31¼	31¾	30¾	31¼	— ⅛
400	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾	— ⅛
200	25½	25½	25¼	25¼	— ⅛
100	4	4	4	4
4000	10¼	10¼	10¼	10¼	+ ⅛
100	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
200	20	20	20	20	— ⅛
400	8⅝	8¾	8⅝	8⅝	— ⅛
600	1½	1½	1½	1½
100	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	— ⅛
100	19¼	19¼	19¼	19¼
700	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
100	33¾	33¾	32	32½	—1¼
100	30	33¼	28½	30½	—1
51	18	18¼	17¾	17¾	— ⅛
1600	51¾	53¼	51¼	51¾	— ⅛
200	61½	61½	61½	61½	— ⅛
200	3½	3½	3½	3½	— ⅛

100	33	34	34	34	— ⅛
6000	32¼	32¾	30½	31¾	+ ⅛

300	19¾	20	19½	20
400	67¼	67¾	67	67	—1
400	11⅜	12	11⅜	12	+⅛
100	7	7	7	7	— ⅛
100	41	41	41	41	—1½
1000	14¾	14¾	14	14	— ⅜
100	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼	— ⅛
100	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼	— ⅛
200	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛	— ⅛
400	27	27	26¾	26¾	—1
400	32	32	31¾	31¾	— ⅛
200	7⅞	8	7⅞	8
200	25	25	25	25	+1⅛

300	13¾	20	19½	20
400	67¼	67¾	67	67	—1
400	11⅜	12	11⅜	12	+⅛
100	7	7	7	7	— ⅛
100	41	41	41	41	—1½
1000	14¾	14¾	14	14	— ⅜
100	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼	— ⅛
100	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼	— ⅛
200	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛	— ⅛
400	27	27	26¾	26¾	—1
400	32	32	31¾	31¾	— ⅛
200	7⅞	8	7⅞	8
200	25	25	25	25	+1⅛

| 300 | 19

Marry-Go-Round

CHIEF AIM OF MAN IS TO DODGE MARRIAGE

By HELEN ROWLAND

IT IS BEGINNING to look as though the chief aim of the modern man's life is to dodge marriage. He may fall for gold-diggers, promoters, bond-salesmen, book-agents, bootleggers and racketeers—but not for a "marrying-girl"! HE knows the marriage-racket!

• • •

Oh yeah? But woman knows better. She knows that while there are lots of things in this world that a man can live without—WOMAN isn't one of them!

• • •

I don't mean "women"—I mean ONE WOMAN! I mean old-fashioned love and companionship. (Don't strike me!) I mean "the" woman!

• • •

A man may be strong enough to bear his own burdens, and even to keep his own sorrows and troubles to himself. He may be able to do his own cooking, take care of his own clothes and even take his own cough medicine.

• • •

He may not need any woman's shoulder to weep on—but he's GOT to have somebody with whom to share his triumphs, his joys, his brilliant ideas and his illusions about himself!

• • •

He MUST have somebody to help him ADMIRE himself, believe in himself, and amuse himself!

• • •

He's got to have SOMEBODY to whom he can go home and say "Cock-a-doodle-do!" when he has won the fight or the deal or the medal or the glory. He must have somebody to pin the Indian feathers in his hair and do the dance of Victory around him!

• • •

Lots of women may flatter him, but their songs of praise will be full of false notes—until he meets the woman who really understands him, believes in him, sees through him, yet glorifies him.

• • •

Life, without a companion who understands, is like chatting over the telephone with nobody at the other end of the wire.

• • •

Any man will listen to his troubles and sympathize—but only a woman who loves him will sit all evening and actually rejoice while he talks about his triumphs!

• • •

A man may work, play, eat, drink, achieve, succeed—but he cannot really LIVE without woman! Isn't Nature wonderful—and kind?

(Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.)

Eyestrain May Induce Ill Health

By Dr. R. S. COPELAND.

A COMMON experience of those who are specializing in eye examinations is to be told, "My eyesight is perfect. Certainly I don't need glasses, because I can see everything."

The fact is this is the person who may be in greater need of lenses than one who has very defective sight. Naturally you will ask, "How can this be?"

If one has such defective vision that he just cannot see, of course he won't try, and therefore there is no strain. But if one has a quality of vision which makes it possible by an effort, even though that effort is unconsciously made, of course, he will go on using his eyes, flattering himself that these organs are normal because he can see even the finest type or the tiniest stitches.

The constant expenditure of such effort is damaging to the nervous system. It results in constant drainage of nerve energy. It tires the delicate muscles of the eyes. It causes too much blood to flow into the parts. It lays the foundation for serious disease of the eyes. Without enlarging upon this phase of the thought that you are incompetent to judge whether or not your eyes are normal. It is only by a careful test by one who has scientific training that the true condition of your eyes can be determined.

This is the reason why many persons have headaches and backaches and the symptoms of what is called "nervous indigestion." Nature re nts such improper demands upon her. It stands to reason that if you use up your nervous energy in order to see perfectly, you have not left enough nervous energy to carry on the other functions of the body.

Answers to Health Queries

"Incognito." Q.—What do you advise for perspiring feet?

A.—Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.

Let Love Wait, Best for Girl

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My problem is that I have been going very steady for one year with a young man just recently divorced. He loves me and I love him, yet he says he has no definite plans for the future. Maybe in two or three years he will feel differently about marriage, he says. Would you consider going out with other men? Nothing could be less interesting to me, as I find in this man everything that is desirable. I am 24 and he is 30. He does not believe in engagements.

A ONE-MAN WOMAN.

Dear One-Man Woman: Since the young man does not believe in engagements, it seems to me that you should consider yourself at liberty to be equally free. I would tell him this. Why don't you adopt his point of view, and regard the friendship as not binding either of you. You are 24, and in three years you will be 27—do you think that is too long to wait?

Daily Pattern

By MARIAN MARTIN

Exquisite Simplicity

PATTERN 9245

Illustrated Step-by-Step Making Instructions Given With Model.

A FASHION idea enthusiastically endorsed by Paris and accepted by all smart women is this simple frock with separate scarf. Unlimited possibilities are presented for fabric and color. An ideal model for chiffon velvet, or in brown or rust sheer wool with self scarf, or contrasting.

Pattern 9245 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 18 requires 3¾ yards of 39-inch fabric.

To get a pattern of this model, send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred). Please write very plainly your name, address, style number and size of each pattern ordered.

Send for our winter fashion catalogue. It features an excellent assortment of afternoon, sports and house dresses, exquisite lingerie and pajamas and adorable kiddies' models, also delightful accessory patterns. Price of catalogue, 15 cents. Catalogue and pattern together, 25 cents.

Address all orders to Boston Evening American Pattern Department, 232 West 18th st., New York city.

The Beauty Box

WHEN USING an eye pencil for darkening the lashes, extend the line slightly. It's a slick trick. Makes eyes look larger, more alluring.

SLEEPING on the side with a hand under the cheek pushes the flesh up toward the eyes and creates criss cross wrinkles. High pillows put two chins where one should be.

BASHFUL GIRL

Lady With a Past

By Harriet Henry

Venice Gay at Lola's Party

Continued from Yesterday.

HER MIND in the days before Lola's house-warming played about all sorts of contradictory pictures.

One moment she was her shy gauche self, struggling for bright conversation with one young man who sat with her interminably. The next she was crowded on a sofa between a dashing pair of males, another standing before her and still another at one side. She even visualized herself stimulated by the situation to brilliant talk.

Lola's was crowded when she arrived.

"Hello, darling, come into our humble bedroom and dump your coat."

Lola left her in the doorway of a charming room made helter-skelter by innumerable wraps, bags and gloves on beds, chairs and chaise longue. Venice dropped hers with the rest and stood a moment powdering her nose with all the old misgivings and embarrassed qualms. She went toward the living room and stood uncertainly in the doorway. Voices at a hundred parties as of yore, Jerry was passing cocktails and did not see her. Roland Wainwright sat on a sofa between two pretty girls. He glanced up and gave her an indifferent nod. Lola was occupied introducing some people over near the window. The old humiliation swept her, turned her cheeks to deep pomegranate. I'll be just where I was if people haven't heard, she thought.

"Hi, Venice. When did you get back?"

It was Donny Reese. She summoned a quick bright smile.

"Hello, Donny. A week ago tomorrow."

"Seems pretty flat, doesn't it, after Montmartre and Ciro's and the good old Ritz Bar?"

"It certainly does." She must do better than this. "I—"

"Oh dit you set some hearts afire in Paris, Venice?"

She smiled. Everything was going to be all right now. Donny had heard.

"It was greatly exaggerated," she said evasively.

"You can't fool the Press," Donny protested.

"But the Press can fool you."

"I will say your triumphs haven't spoiled you a bit, Venice."

"Why, Venice, you haven't had a cocktail!"

It was Jerry before them with a laden tray.

"Because of this woman," Jerry laughed to Donny Reese. "She admitted to Lola that the best part of her Paris holiday was—"

"Oh, dear," protested Venice, quite insincere in her resentment, "did Lola repeat that?"

"The truth is always valuable," said Donny. "Come on, let's sit down, Venice." They threaded their way to a window seat.

"You're an enigma," said Donny as they made themselves comfortable. "You've always seemed so shy."

"I am. I haven't changed a bit."

"Then how did this French fellow penetrate your reserve?"

"He took pains."

At that moment Lola brought up two young men who wanted to meet Venice. They had both been at Harritz at the time of Rene's suicide. They joined at her with ill-concealed admiration. She gave them a gay smile.

"And we had to come all the way to America to meet," she laughed.

"It's just as well," one of them retorted. "We probably shouldn't have got a look in with all the titles that were on your heels."

"D-Rese, American caveman stuff is ever a treat in the midst of decorous European hand kissing."

What had happened to her? She gave quick repartee for repartee. There was laughter in the little group about her. This new attention crept subtly to her head. It made her bright and carefree. Suddenly her eyes strayed to Roland Wainwright. She was astonished to see that he was staring at her. She allowed herself to smile.

"Did you meet Lita Chase?" asked one of the new young men.

"You mean did I listen to her?" "Your answer is a perfect commentary," he said and every one laughed. It was with this little flurry of mirth that Roland Wainwright left his place on the sofa and approached.

"How are you, Venice?" Roland Wainwright somehow insinuated himself into the little group. She was surprised that he knew her first name.

"Hello, Rolle." She shook his outstretched hand with that surprising grip of hers.

"Make room for a bloke," he laughed and squeezed in on the window seat between Donny and Venice.

"Is that nice?" protested Donny. "It's all right," said Venice. "I have to speak to Lois, anyway."

She hurried over to where Lola is consorted with Jerry in a corner.

"I have to go home," Venice said.

"Why?" Lola protested. "Please stay."

"I can't, Lola. Thanks so much."

The situation had grown too big for her. She could not cope with it gracefully and she wanted to leave before her own natural lack of vivacity gave her away. Had she but realized, her fleeing was a masterpiece of strategy. Roland Wainwright was disgruntled at her quick disappearance. Donny Reese was annoyed. He had wanted to take her home. And the two new young men were left wondering whether she was very clever or very stupid or just merely spoilt and superficial.

Gradually but surely Venice began leading that life of which she had once longed so poignantly to be a vital part.

She was happy with the diminishing of that panicky feeling at each party, but she realized that the people who danced with her continually and invited her here and there were just uncaring play-fellows in a giddy game. It was curious. Was popularity really like this? A showy gloss, a surface veneer.

The Philip Mannings gave a dinner in late October and started a new wheel revolving in the machinery of Venice's popularity.

(Copyright, Harriet Henry.)

Who is the man whom Venice determines to capture? She tries out her skill on Monday.

WOVEN BLACK JERSEY

Fancy Model from Jane Regny

SKETCHED IN PARIS

Fancily woven black jersey is used for this interesting model from Jane Regny. As the material is light weight it lends itself readily to the pleating which forms the gilet and skirt panel. The guimpe and under sleeves are of white lingerie and the belt is of white patent leather with a large bow of black patent leather.

Lipsticks, Sweethearts and Cocktails at Fourteen!

By WINIFRED BLACK

THEY'RE going to parties now—the pretty twins.

And they're just exactly fourteen years old.

I know because I went to their birthday party the other day.

It was a great big party with a lot of pretty little girls and well-dressed little boys—well the boys weren't so very little after all.

Some of them were freshmen in the high school—and there was one exalted being, a senior, if you please.

And at the party both of the little girls had their lips painted, and their round cheeks rouged.

There were flirtations and love affairs and jealousies and heart burnings—it was like a strange, tragic farce, somehow to me.

What on earth are those girls going to have to live for when they get to be eighteen years old.

By twenty—life will be a sucked orange to them.

They'll be little, old, sophisticated creatures with withered hearts and poor little jaded brains.

Grown-up parties and lipsticks and sweethearts and cocktails—at fourteen.

And the twins weren't the only girls of fourteen at that party.

What do you suppose the mothers of such girls as those are thinking of?

Don't they remember their own youth at all?

Have they nothing simple and childish to think of at all?

A man I know told me something rather nice the other day.

Rich people and poor people he knows, clever people and dull people. He goes abroad when he feels like it, and he can choose the mountains or the sea for his vacation.

"I had a wonderful Summer this year," said the man I know. "I did what I wanted to do, and not what somebody thought I ought to do. I took my little girl back home to the little town where I was born and we went fishing in the old creek and camping in the old place and we made a fire down on the shore and we cooked weenies and sat around the fire and sang 'there is a tavern in this town,' and we played Indian one day. I haven't had such a good time in twenty years.

"We sit and talk about it every night, little daughter and I and we're going back and do the same thing over next year."

I suppose the pretty twins would be bored death at a vacation like that, don't you?

But somehow——.

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST
Grapes
Corn Fritters
Toast
Coffee

DINNER
Face of the Rump Roast
Franconia Potatoes
Stewed Cucumbers
Sweet Pickled Pears
Peach Ice Cream
Coffee

SUPPER
Rolled Sandwiches
Six-Layer Egyptian Cake
(Recipe on request)
Tea

Advertisement

SORE THROAT

FIVE minutes after you rub on Musterole your throat should begin to feel less sore! Continue the treatment once every hour for five hours and you'll be astonished at the relief.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets action because it is a "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation and helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

MUSTEROLE

KEENER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

Hot Breads All Day Sunday

By MARTHA LEE.

SIX DAYS in the week I'm very thankful for the wholesome and economical bread that my grocer delivers to me almost warm from the oven, but, because I want to keep the stars shining in my culinary crown, I like to "set" a batch of yeast dough every Saturday night to insure three sets of hot bread on Sunday—and painlessly.

It's really only the work of five or six minutes to scald 2 cups of milk and melt in it 3 tbsps. of butter or other shortening, 2 tbsps. of sugar and 2 tsps. of salt. When this mixture is just blood heat I add one yeast cake dissolved in ¼ cup of lukewarm water and then stir in enough flour to make a dough that can be kneaded—this will take 6 or more cups, according to the kind of flour you use.

The unbleached flour that we like so much here in the Martha Lee Cooking School takes up a considerable amount of water—which is one of the tests of a good flour. I knead this dough thoroughly, put it in a bread raiser or other container that will give it lots of room to raise, tuck a nice old-fashioned plaid table cloth around it, to keep it cosy and warm, and then forget about it until Sunday morning.

I'm the first one down for the morning dog-walking exercise, and before we set sail I knead the dough down and cut off a small piece which I roll out in a sheet about ½ inch thick. From this I cut strips about ¾ of an inch wide and 4 or 5 inches long, and place them side by each in a greased baking pan. I brush them with butter, sprinkle them with sugar and leave them to rise until light—which will only take about one-half hour.

After breakfast I shape some Clover Leaf Rolls—and we made them, by the way, this week in the Martha Lee Cooking School. To do this simply cut off small bits of dough and roll them in balls about the size of a small walnut. Drop three of these balls in each well buttered muffin tin and set in a warm place to rise. When they are light, bake them quickly in a hot oven, 425 F., about 15 minutes. They may be brushed with butter and sprinkled with sugar, if desired.

The balance of the dough I put in a bowl, after kneading it down, into the refrigerator to use either for Sunday night supper or to keep until Monday night to help dress up the left-overs.

Martha Lee

Daily True Story

Truth Triumphs

"TELEPHONE for you," said the maid.

Eileen Drayton rose from the comfortable position in the rose-and-blue scoop chair and stepped into the vestibule. Tom Graham's eyes followed her yearningly.

In a few minutes she was back, her face flushed and her appearance disturbed.

"What a strange call," she remarked: "It was Ben Crandall."

"That ex-convict," exclaimed Tom. "I didn't know you knew him."

"I really don't. Dad defended him in his last scandal. He had come to our home for consultation several times, and so I had met him. I don't believe we exchanged 100 words together. He had always acted very deferentially."

"What did he want?"

"He asked me to meet him at his hotel tomorrow before noon. He said it was very important."

"Did you agree to meet him?"

"Yes."

A red spurt of consternation showed on Tom's face. The answer obviously distressed him.

"Eileen, it's shocking," he declared. "Don't you know that merely to be seen with him is enough to ruin a woman's reputation? If I were you I would not go."

"Tom!" retorted Eileen angrily. "I'm amazed at you even daring to hint such a thing."

At noon the next day the patrolman walking his beat near the Crandall residence suddenly heard the report of a solitary pistol shot, followed by a woman's piercing shriek.

OFFICER BROKE IN.

Leaping the stairs three steps at a time, the patrolman broke into the apartment.

A man, elegantly dressed, with slightly greying hair, lay in the center of the room, with an ever-widening pool of blood around him. Standing close by him in dumb, terrorstruck bewilderment was a young girl with a pistol clutched in her hand.

"You're under arrest," growled the patrolman; "why did you murder that man? Was he your lover?"

The rudely-uttered words seemed to bring the girl back to consciousness.

"He was not my lover," she answered, "and I did not kill him."

"Oh, yeah," barked the patrolman; "what's your name?"

"Eileen Drayton."

"An relation to the famous defense lawyer?"

"To his daughter."

"Well, he'll have a good case on his hands."

It was late in the afternoon after the detectives had grown weary of trying to get anything more out of Eileen than the straight denial that she had killed him or that she knew anything about him, that her father managed to break through to see her.

"Dad," she cried, "I'm innocent. I never shot him."

"I believe you, Eileen. You don't even have to tell me that. But we will have to prove it. Tell me how it all happened."

"Well, you've probably learned about him calling me last night. I came up here and he told me of another mess he had gotten into. Then he suddenly asked me to plead with you to handle his case for nothing. He said he had lost all his money—and the little he didn't lose he had spent on doctors. He figured that because I had treated him so nicely the few times we met I would listen to him—and that it would be easier to win me over than you. He was quite frank about it.

STORY OF SHOOTING

"But how did the shooting happen?"

"Well, it was this way. I wasn't so anxious to make any promises to him. I really didn't think he had any right to ask such a thing of you. As I was thinking what answer to give him, he took out the gun.

"'See this,' he cried. 'Before I go back to prison—I'll finish it off, proper.' My life isn't worth a damn, anyways."

"And before I had a chance to say another word, he suddenly slumped. I tried to catch him from falling. In the sudden excitement I seized the hand in which he held the gun and it went off at about the same time."

Her father kept silent for a few minutes, mulling over the facts.

"You say Ben Crandall slumped before the shot was fired," remarked Eileen's father, more to himself than to her. "I'll have to look into that."

The afternoon dragged miserably into darkness. Eileen's optimism began to vanish in the shadows. She was still merely locked in a room in the police station, with a matron nearby, but night brought visions of prison cells.

Suddenly, she heard Tom's step up the stairs. I a moment the room was unlocked.

"Come along," cried Tom. "You are a free woman."

Eileen could hardly believe him.

"How is that," she cried.

"Well, remember telling your father about how Crandall slumped and you tried to catch him. Your father went straight to the medical examiner and made him make a most careful autopsy. And do you know what it showed? That Crandall had died of a blood hemorrhage. As to the shot that was fired—it didn't even strike him. The bullet was found imbedded in a chair.

(All names of characters in this story are fictitious.)

Buddy and Mary Start Their Collection

This shows Buddy and Mary starting their Boston Sunday Advertiser Comic Stamp scrap book. All they had to do was to buy the Boston Sunday Advertiser, get out their scissors and begin cutting away.

Boys and Girls, Start Your Collection of Comic Stamps Tomorrow, Save the

31 RARE, NEW, COLORED COMIC STAMPS

in Tomorrow's Comic Weekly of the Boston Sunday Advertiser

Paste them in a scrap book. Arrange them neatly. Watch for these 31 Comic Stamps in Tomorrow's

Boston Sunday Advertiser

Largest Sunday Circulation in New England

Later, an important announcement will be made by this newspaper concerning your collections.

H. C.-HARVARD, N. Y. U.-FORDHAM TILTS STAND OUT

FANNING

—By GEORGE UNDERWOOD—

Football, Wet or Dry? Weather Man, Factor. Gridiron Broadcasts.

The Sam-Andy Shindy. Bruins Start Season. Sweets for Athletes.

SPORTS SHORTS FROM VARIED ANGLES

What's the weather throughout the country? . . . There's a vast difference between a dry gridiron and a wet gridiron. . . . The Weather Man will play a prominent part in the day's doings. . . . For instance, Harvard's chance of defeating Holy Cross would increase on a wet field and shrink on a dry. . . . Teams featuring a fast, tricky, forward passing attack are handicapped on wet fields. . . . Still Holy Cross beat Harvard on a wet field, last season. . . . Weather and field conditions would not figure so prominently at Hanover for both Dartmouth and Cornell will be equally effected. . . . A team like Notre Dame is good on any field. . . . Yet the wet field raised Ned with Notre Dame in last year's Army game and many think Northwestern never would have held Notre Dame to that scoreless tie early this season if the field had not been a quagmire. . . . There are few sports where the weather and playing conditions play more prominent parts than in football. When you're looking over this afternoon's upsets consider the Weather Man. . . . He won and lost many a game, today.

Sports world seems divided on the Harvard-Husing mixup... All agree Ted injected a bit too much vitriol into his criticism of Barry Wood...Some of the sports announcers know so little of sport they are ill equipped to tell others about it...But isn't it rather arrogant for a college to step in and sell a broadcasting station who it should employ?...The freedom of the air is, or should be as sacred as the freedom of the press...We once sat beside a famous sports announcer at the ringside and heard him tell the world that a fighter had just "led with an overhand right uppercut"... Same announcer was sending out "blows to the jaw" that missed by a mile . . . For many of the big sporting events broadcasting companies have assigned announcers who do not know the difference between a golf ball and a baseball . . . You've all heard 'em.

Ted Husing is a good sports announcer. . . . He makes his mistakes the same as all of us do. . . . But he is far and away superior to many of the ones who send air sports reports. . . . Many of Husing's air reports have been classics. . . . But speaking of sports announcing it is beyond us why any broadcasting company should send any outside announcer to Boston, when the best sports announcer in the country is a Bostonian. . . . You all know we refer to Fred Hoey. . . . He is in a class by himself as a sports announcer. . . . Fred both knows sport and knows how to tell it. . . . There is no sports announcer in the country who combines those two prime essentials to so remarkable a degree as does Hoey. . . . Fred tells it to you truthfully, graphically, colorfully. . . . He makes you "see" what is happening. . . . Ted Husing announces the Army-Pitt game today. Graham McNamee and Benny Friedman handle Navy-Notre Dame and Billy Munday covers Vanderbilt-Tennessee . . . For one of the big games today, Fred Hoey should be at the mike.

It will matter little to the Xmas Fund Boxing Show in the Boston Garden next Thursday night what kind of a fight next Monday nights bout between Andy Callahan and Sammy Fuller turns out to be . . . The great Schaaf-Dorval fight, a charity fight at charity prices of $1, $2 and $3, with the hardest hitter in the ring meeting the one man who he is most likely to stub his toe on, will be a sellout, anyway . . . But we do hope that for the good of the game in general Fuller and Callahan will put up a battle that will send the fans away in a different frame of mind than the patrons left The Arena in after the recent Leonard-Livan and Sekyra-Swiderski affairs . . . Bouts like Leonard-Livan and Sekyra-Swiderski hurt boxing as much as bouts like Sharkey-Carnera and Broulliard-Thompson help it . . . Here's hoping Fuller and Callahan put up a real fight on Monday night . . . If the other four fights they fought can be taken as a criterion Sammy and Andy will . . . The other four Callahan-Fuller duels were cockle-of-the-heart warmers.

Our Bruins throw out skirmishing lines in their first hockey league battle of the season tonight in Montreal and then return to Boston for the local hockey blowoff next Tuesday . . . Les Canadiens, two-time winners of the Stanley Cup, largely due to the weird system of championship play which the magnates still insist on retaining, got off on the wrong foot and were beaten by the Rangers . . . Despite loss of the Stanley Cup the Bruins have been hailed as the greatest team in hockey . . . Save a couple of minor changes Art Ross starts the season with practically the same lineup as last . . . This may be the Bruins year . . . But with Ottawa and Philadelphia quitting all of the other teams have been strengthened . . . The Montreal Maroons have a new manager, and a good one, in Sprague Cleghorn . . . The Chicago Black Hawks also have a new pilot, one Godfrey Matheson, former hockey coach at the University of Manitoba.

The sweets that used to be tabooed for an athlete now are openly advocated . . . Eddie Casey lets the Harvard football players have plenty of candy . . . Sugar is necessary to anyone engaging in strenuous exercise . . . Knute Rockne used to have his Notre Dame players breakfast on candied figs, wheat cakes with plenty of maple syrup or molasses . . . Refuelling, Rockne called it, putting back some of the energy burned up in games and hard practice . . . Speaking of Rockne, this is Rockne Day on many of the gridirons of the country and fitting tribute will be paid his memory . . . Notre Dame itself will celebrate Rockne Day one week from today when it entertains Southern California at South Bend.

Col. Jake Ruppert's purchase of the Newark Club is supposed to be the first link in a chain store baseball system the Yankees wil form in competition with Sam Breadon's great St. Louis chain . . . The amateur Olympic Club of San Francisco, first team to beat the great little St. Mary's outfit, has been invited to play the professional Giants in a charity football game in N. Y. on Dec. 13 . . . The Olympians play in Honolulu, Nov. 28 and return to San Francisco on Dec. 8 . . . That's a good idea of Billy Ames, a young heavyweight novice elimination tourney . . . Offers budding heavies the right start and may unearth some real fighters.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

"Whoop-e-e!" Roar Football Fans, "Give It a Ride!"

LET'ER RIDE, BIG BOY, AND MAKE IT GOOD!
BOSTON
SKING FOOTBALL
HARVARD-HOLY CROSS CLASSIC
HURRY, CHIEF! THE STADIUM'S AFIRE!!
HOLY MOSES, SON! THAT'S JUST THE H. C. JUNCTION LIGHTING UP CROSSMAN'S BUNNY CIGARETTES!
IF H.C. WINS THERE'S GOING TO BE A 4-ALARM TURNED IN UP WORCESTER WAY.
FROM ALL THE TALK OF INJURIES THE SPORTING THING WOULD BE FOR HOLY CROSS TO ALLOW THE CRIMSON CRIPPLES TO CARRY THEIR CRUTCHES!
IF HARVARD GETS THROUGH THIS ONE—AND FORDHAM CORNELL AND SYRACUSE DO NOT (WHICH MIGHT WELL HAPPEN)—THERE'LL BE NO DISPUTING THE EASTERN TITLE!!!

PURPLE FROSH EDGE EAGLETS

The Holy Cross freshmen triumphed over the Boston College freshmen 13 to 6 at University Heights when J. O'Connor, Purple halfback, captured a 50-yard forward pass on the B. C. 30-yard line and scampered for the touchdown. Britt dropkicked the goal.

Holy Cross eleven, outweighing the Eaglets by many pounds, drove its opponents down the field after the opening kickoff of the game and Joseph repulsed on the B. C. 30-yard line came back after a few plays in the second period to make the opening score of the game.

Fullback Britt dashed through tackle from the 18-yard line and crossed the goal. A different spirited Maroon and Gold eleven opened the second half and took the kickoff on its 15-yard line The Eaglets made four successive first downs and pushed the ball 80 yards before they were finally stopped on the Holy Cross eight yard line as the quarter was ending.

In the last period Curran piled around his end for about five yards during the scene at six all. N.A.A. attempt to forward pass for the extra point was unsuccessful.

H. C. '35		B. C. '35
Ricardi, Blanchfield, qb		Andersen
Harvey, lt		Dowling
Graham, Regan, lg		Jordan, Fraser
Morandos, c		Wise, Twomey
Kelley, rg		Duffey
Mann, Strahwitz, rt
Avery, re		Prendergast, Obernburger
Walsh, qb		Conway, Kane
J. O'Connor, rhb		Kirwan, Featherstone
T. O'Connor, rhb		Curran, Stocker
Britt, fullback		Jefferson, Smith

Score by periods:

H. C.	0	0	0	7—7
B. C.	0	0	0	6—6

Touchdowns—Britt, J. Curran. Point after touchdown—Britt. Referee—Murray. Umpire—Gallery. Linesman—Pendleton. Time of periods—Four 15-minute.

Middlebury Faces Vermont Eleven

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 14—Work against Middlebury plays, featured the final varsity practice session for the game against Middlebury today.

Larry Bowers, first-string center, Stew Manning, fullback and Perry Bove second-string quarterback are all in the fray today

Cooper Defeats Leetch in Cue Play

H Cooper defeated A. Leetch, 30 to 26, in a match of the State amateur three-cushion billiards tournament round robin played at the 20th Century Billiard room

On Monday night H Dave plays J Gusti at the 20th Century room in the first match of the concluding week of the series

Hockey List

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Canadiens at Toronto.
Bruins at Montreal.

Pawtucket Team Visits Boston

With Dave Priestly and Charlie O'Hare on the injured list the Boston pro soccer eleven will be the underdog in today's game against the Pawtucket Rangers, a Lincoln Park. The Rangers are at full strength with Bob McIntyre back after being out of the game with a broken leg.

McIntyre, winner of scoring honors last season, will be at center for the Rangers and the Hub defense will have trouble stopping the former Hub sandlotter.

The Hub team, minus Priestly and O'Hare, has been on the losing end in their last three starts and unless it improves greatly today against the Rangers it is due for another defeat.

The elevens have played three games this season, with each winning one and the other ending in a tie, which makes today's tilt a rubber affair.

Jimmy McAuley, Johnnie Harvie, Bob Fleming, Tommy Martin, Neil Tate and Andy Auld will all be in the visiting lineup and this bunch are certain to make the Hub team travel.

Manager McDonald may shake up the Boston front rank by playing Tommy Ratchford at center, Ewen at outside right and Gordon Burrows at outside left.

The kickoff is slated for 3 p. m. with George Lambie as referee and Neil Turner and Archie Hair as linesmen.

The only other game scheduled will be a Boston and District title at Needham between the Clan McGregor and Needham elevens.

Williams-Amherst in Grid Title Clash

Williamstown Mass. Nov. 14 (AP) Williams and Amherst tuns aals since the late 80s, clash here this afternoon in a "little three" series. Victory for Williams would give them the championship in the group while defeat would mean a three-way tie for the title. Both teams take the field with full strength.

ROTELLI O. K. FOR LION FRAY

LINE-UPS AT PROVIDENCE

BROWN		COLUMBIA
Caito, le		rr, Van Voorhees
Ferrebee, lt		rt, Michiore
Lezelle, lg		rg, Nobiletti
T. Gilhane, c		c, McDuffee
Kinner, rg		lg, Grenda
Markesky, rt		lt, Sherwood
Sawyer, re		le, Matal
Marsan, qb		qb, Rivetti
Hargrove, lhb		rhb, Mowry
Gilmartin, rhb		lhb, Rivero
Chase, fb		fb, Hodupp

Officials—Referee, G. S. Wheeler; umpire, G. C. Eckles; linesman, G. N. Bankart; field judge, E. M. Miller.

Providence, Nov. 14—The Brown athletic association has o. k.d Andy Rotelli to play against Columbia today.

Injured in the Tufts game four weeks ago, Rotelli got into uniform and jogged a mile around the field to convince the team doctor of his recovery.

Brown and Columbia have only one defeat in seven games on their records.

Neither squad will be at full strength. The Lions enter the game a favorite over the Bruins

Jamaica Defeats Brighton, 13 to 6

Jamaica Plain H. S. won a 13-6 victory over Brighton high at Fenway Park.

JAMAICA PLAIN		BRIGHTON
Leonard, Boyd, Condon, le		le, Hession, MacLean, Wilson
McCarthy, Peterson, lt		lt, Carter
Forcia, Graham, Ryan, lg		rg, McCarthy
Nixon, Geran, c		c, Mandell
MacGregor, MacLellan, Sullivan, rg		lg, Aiello lt, Kempton
Morley, rt
Low, Jenness, re		le, Murphy, Kelley, Lydon
H Kelliher, Richards, qb		qb, McKenney, O'Connan
Hour, Larkin, J Kelliher, lhb		rhb, Mallard, Ryan
Hogan, Brevilotte, Redfield, rhb		lhb, Pirsig, Berkeley
Moriarty, Kenale, fb		fb, Mahoney, Mooney

Score—Jamaica Plain 13, Brighton 6. Touchdowns — Kelliher 2, McCarthy. Points after touchdown—Hour (placement). Referee—Gus Rosner. Umpire—Maberly. Linesman—Paton. Time—Four 12m. periods.

ELI FROSH FACE CRIMSON '35

Harvard and Yale Yearling elevens meet at Soldiers Field this afternoon in the Stadium today.

The Crimson youngsters coached by Rufe Bond are favored for the first time in three years to turn back the Eli yearlings.

Harvard in earlier games turned back Exeter 7-0 and held Dartmouth freshmen and Andover to ties. Worcester Academy and Harvard second varsity elevens both forced the Crimson cubs to bow.

Yale's frosh grid season has been poor, and while the Elis have several promising varsity stars, the team has been unable to click this season.

Tickets for the game may be purchased at Soldiers Field.

Hagen Wrecks Auto, Then Loses Match

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 14 (AP)—It was a bad Friday the 13th for Walter Hagen Canadian open and former American golf champion.

First he wrecked his 16-cylinder automobile in a crash with another as he tried to pass a truck yesterday. Then he and Joe Kirkwood lost a golf match to Paul Runyan at White Pass N. Y. and Julius Asselbaum of Little Rock.

"But it might have been worse," Hagen sighed.

After all he was injured the accident was not serious and the golf game was only an exhibition match.

Sea Fishing Possible in Southwest State

Cherokee Okla (AP)—Salt water fishing in the heart of Oklahoma.

It sounds foolish yet state game department officials say it will come to pass if the Federal government impounds the proposed artificial lake on the prairie near here.

Because the lake would cover the Great Salt Plain, officials assert fresh water fish could not thrive in it and only the salt water variety could be propagated.

Punts and Passes

By the Associated Press

New York—If Fordham can beat New York University today, things will be just about "all right" for Capt. Jim Murphy. Last year Murphy scored the only touchdown to defeat the Violets 7-0 the year before he led the way to a 26-0 triumph. A victory today would give the ram star a clean sweep for his three years.

Worcester, Mass.—Holy Cross has brought a revamped backfield against Harvard, but the Crusaders do not feel downcast about it. Tony Rovelli, sensational reserve quarterback, is filling in at right half for Les Griffin, moved to fullback. And if this doesn't work, Don Kelly, regular fullback, is out of the hospital and may be able to play for a while.

But more Mr. If Navy's coach could pin the last Notre Dame to win the mythical mess probably would. Hunk, a lot more of their chances. Coach Ron Mc er was one of the Seven Mules who cleared the way for the Four Horsemen in 1924 and knows just how Notre Dame does it.

New Haven Conn.—Yale has plays before sixteen crowds this year that will see the Harvard game next week but it will be the team's first appearance in a full stadium. All the 70,000 seats at Cambridge have been sold while the Bowl in the Fens could do before was in the Army game when the attendance fell a little short of the 57,000 capacity of the Yale Bowl.

Middlebury Faces Vermont Eleven

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 14—Work against Middlebury plays, featured the final varsity practice session for the game against Middlebury today.

Larry Bowers, first-string center, Stew Manning, fullback and Perry Bove second-string quarterback are all in the fray today

Cooper Defeats Leetch in Cue Play

H Cooper defeated A. Leetch, 30 to 26, in a match of the State amateur three-cushion billiards tournament round robin played at the 20th Century Billiard room

On Monday night H Dave plays J Gusti at the 20th Century room in the first match of the concluding week of the series

Hockey List

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Canadiens at Toronto.
Bruins at Montreal.

Maccabee 'Pure' Bouts Wednesday

A large number of out-of-town boxers' entries have been received for the Maccabee-Jewish Olympic boxing tryouts to be staged at the Boston Arena, next Wednesday evening, Nov. 18. Classes in this tournament will include four for Jewish boys only, 126, 147, 175 and 118 pounds, while the open classes will be at 135, 160 pounds and heavyweight.

Gymnasts Invade Home of Wildcats

Durham, N. H., Nov. 14—University of New Hampsire is out to retain the New England conference title when Springfield invades Memorial field today.

For three years New Hampshire has not lost a football game on its home field.

Coach Cowell will start McGowan, 200-pound fullback.

HARVARD-H. C., N. Y. U.-RAMS IN BIG FRAYS

The Holy Cross-Harvard engagement looms as large on the football battlefield today that it almost shuts out the view of other important contests which will be waged with the same interest, and with results that are just as much in doubt, in other parts of the country.

The fact that Harvard has yet to meet defeat and the fact that Jesse Hawkins, a powerful marksman, is the prime threat in Crimson-Crusader clash one of the outstanding games in the country.

From all reports, Harvard is ready to shoot the works against the Worcester club, leaving the Yale game a week from today to take care of itself.

Coach Eddie Casey's personal popularity makes it hard for fans to take sides. Holy Cross followers naturally hope to see the Crusaders win although they would like victory better were it to be scored over a rival other than Harvard.

A Holy Cross victory would not be a startling upset, although an overwhelming verdict for Harvard would

Down in New York, New York University and Fordham, perennial powers of old pals with fine records pull to-day to play before 70,000 persons, the championship of New York.

The most ardent Fordham Alumni have made an iron mold of Coach Chevigny's iron hat. Fordham will have to win to put the major hat can be preserved as a token of victory over Chick Meehan's violent Violets.

Columbia Choice Over Brown Eleven

Columbia is meeting Brown in the Providence that should find Columbia favorite. Some time ago Columbia discovered that football was a professional racket and the Lions must prove they are good amateurs if they are to get used as good professionals fall on.

The somewhat erratic Dartmouth eleven meets its traditional rival, Cornell, at Hanover. After tieing Yale and losing by one point to Harvard in two of the most spectacular games of the season, Dartmouth is about ready to defeat someone, and it might just as well be Cornell. Maybe it will.

Notre Dame will help expedite President Hoover's work of demolishing the navy when the Irish and the Middies clash at Baltimore. Of recent the first three Notre Dame teams may be in a train wreck or something, but otherwise the Navy's job will be primarily to keep the Irish score under 60 points.

Syracuse vs. Colgate and Lafayette and Penn State will provide plenty of excitement for their components. Princeton plays Washington and Lee and Cornell if Coach Wilmers's be of that a team improves with age a nine win.

Georgia, Tulane in Big War in South

In the south Georgia and Tulane will battle for the championship of the south. Neither team has been beaten and the winner will claim the championship of all the territory below the Mason and Dixon line.

In the midwest, Northwestern having practically clinched the Conference title the battles listed will be for whatever honors are left. Purdue has the call over Iowa and Ohio State looks better than Wisconsin. Michigan and Michigan State play for the championship of all colleges bearing with the word Michigan.

Boston University will play Manhattan at Weston and Tufts plays Bowdoin at Medford to provide an afternoon's entertainment for those who can't get into the Harvard-Holy Cross game.

Lion Heads Ignore Boy's Challenge

New York, Nov. 14 (U.S.)—The office of Ed Harris, sports editor of the Columbia Spectator, to go before a committee and prove his charge that collegiate football is a commercialized racket fell on deaf ears today so far as Columbia authorities were concerned.

Dr. Frank D. Fackenthal, secretary of the university and chairman of the committee on student activities, said:

"I am not accustomed to guiding my actions by the newspapers. I shall not take any action."

Judge Fuchs After Freddie Lindstrom

New York Nov 14 (INS)—Following a conference with officials of the New York Giants, Judge Emil Fuchs, owner of the Boston Braves, said today he would like to make a deal for Freddie Lindstrom New York's versatile star. Fuchs would not admit, however, that he had made an offer.

BROOKLINE, B. C. H. TIE

Brookline high and Boston College high fought to a scoreless tie at Brookline field.

Brookline's march was halted in the end zone of the first half. Keenan of B. C. H. kicked to his own 25-yard line.

A run by McGrail and a lateral from McEldrick to Kaplan brought the ball to the 20-yard line. McGrail passed to Swartz for a first down on the B. C. high three-yard line as the half ended.

Boston College high had two chances to score in the second half.

BROOKLINE H		B. C. H
Swartz, le		le, Kelley
Sperry, lt		lt, Sweeney, Foley
Marcella, Miller, lg		lg, Hogan
Lapple, c		c, Talbot, Dineen
Sweeney, rg, Rotosa, rg		rg, Tracy
Kern, Soderberg, rt		rt, McKenna
Cahill, re		re, Sherman
McGrail, qb		qb, Kennedy
McEldrick, lhb		lhb, Farwell
Hill, rhb		rhb, Hickey
Kaplan, fb		fb, Morris, Farrington

Referee—J. T. Foley.

Brooklyn Choice Over Boston Eleven

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers will provide the opposition for the Boston Braves in the first game of a post-season series to be played here Sunday afternoon, Nov. 18, it was announced today by Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Braves.

Fuchs said that the Dodgers had been selected as the opponents of the Braves because they were the only team in the National League which could guarantee a crowd of 25,000 persons.

Harvard Beats Yale Polo Team

Boston, Nov. 14—Harvard defeated Yale, 8 to 5, in the first game of the annual polo series played at the Boston Riding and Polo club this afternoon.

Harvard's team was composed of Capt. Bill Post, Jr., Bill Post, Sr., Bill Hall and Bill Hall, Jr. Yale's team was composed of Capt. Bill Hall, Jr., Bill Hall, Sr., Bill Post, Jr., and Bill Post, Sr.

Harvard scored two goals in the first period, one in the second, two in the third and two in the fourth. Yale scored one in the first period, one in the second, two in the third and one in the fourth.

The second game will be played Saturday afternoon.

UNBEATEN MALDEN, EVERETT ELEVENS CLASH

MEDFORD IS HOST TO REVERE

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

Malden high school's undefeated slate for this football season of 1931 may be shattered when the likewise undefeated but twice tied Everett brigade marches into the Pearl st. stockade, Malden, today in the most important of a likeable array of school games

This Everett team of Dinny Gilden's is one of the best in many years because it is a team that refuses to submit to defeat no matter how great the opposition Everett has won three games by a scant 7-6 margin, from Lawrence and Revere

Malden will be a favorite to win because Warren McGuirk's boys have romped through all opponents with the exception of Melrose, which held Malden to a tie early in the season.

School Title May Go to Malden or Everett

This game may have something to do with the mythical title Malden will have a strong claim to the honors if it defeats Everett and it seems that Malden can after a hard fight

Dinny Gilden intends to alternate his light and heavy lines. The backfield of Gagliardi, Falcone, Tolinski and Schweirdt will probably see action during most of the contest and Gildea can rely on these boys to harass the strong Malden frontier.

Revere and Medford will clash in another important game at Medford. Revere will be a favorite to defeat Hubba Collins' boys but in other classy games should be even before Revere walks off with the laurels.

Andover, Exeter in 52d Conflict

Andover and Exeter clash in their 52d annual game at Exeter N. H., and many local schoolboy fans will make the trip to see the rival prepmen war in their yearly classic.

Salem high should continue along the unbeaten path by downing Rogers high of Newport, R. I., but the Salem team cannot let down even though Rogers is not considered easy opposition

On the North Shore the standout game is that between Peabody and Lynn English. English is still taking the bum, and Peabody is expected to nose out a win unless Tom Whelan's boys have found themselves and play better football than they have to date.

AT PEARL STREET STADIUM

Starts at 2:30 p. m

MALDEN HIGH		EVERETT HIGH
Riscofski, le	re,	Carnevilli
Spencer, lt	rt,	Sarno
Cronin, lg	rg,	Furness
Hoffman, c	c,	Moss
Springer (Capt.), rg	lg,	Dumas
Stanton, rt	lt,	Stein
Bitterbaum, re	le,	Quinn
Harding, qb	qb,	Polanski
Ransom, lhb	rhb,	Schwerdt
Marvin, rhb	lhb,	Bieller (Capt.)
Tupper, fb	fb,	Gagliardi

Referee—Howard Woodcock, Emerson. Umpire—J. Tilton, Linesman—Charles M. Frolio. Field Judge—Stephen Peterson. Time—Four 12-minute periods.

LINEUPS AT EXETER, N. H.

Starts at 1:30 P. M

ANDOVER		EXETER
Brown, le	re,	Mahoney
Breed, lt	rt,	O'Hare
Gardner, lg	rg,	Turner
Barr, c	c,	(Capt.) Bliss
Davis (Capt.), rg	lg,	Belden
Peterson, rt	rt,	Wilson
O'Neil, re	le,	Murphy
Bird, qb	qb,	French
Pitz, lhb	lhb,	Gibbs
Whitehead, rhb	rhb,	Hever
Graham, fb	fb,	Lane

Officials—Referee, Daniel J. Kelly, Springfield; umpire, Fred Lewis of Salem; linesman, Leo Daley, Boston College; field judge, Robert Guild, Harvard.

LINEUPS AT WAKEFIELD

Starts at 2 P. M

MELROSE		WAKEFIELD
Don Crosby, le	re,	Comee, Boland
Ma. o, lt	rt,	Bliss
Norris, lg	rg,	Sparks
Capt. Ellsworth, c	c,	O'Keefe
Carpenter, rg	lg,	Sam Crosby
Fallows, rt	rt,	Zeno, Bliss
Spadafora, re	le,	Robert Curley
MacKenzie, qb	qb,	Burbine
Sexton, lhb	rhb,	A. Curley
O'Neil, rhb	lhb,	Capt. Dulong
Fuller, fb	fb,	Mugford

Officials—Referee, Lawrence Corrigan, Boston University; umpire, Clarence Lombard, Bates; linesman, W. R. Dooling, Holy Cross.

AT MEDFORD

Starts at 2:30 p. m

REVERE		MEDFORD
Mallin, le	re,	Cassidy
Rabbolti, lt	rt,	McCorry
Catino, lg	rg,	Center (Capt.)
Destephno, c	c,	Keough
Shor, rg	rg,	Haze
Roberto, rt	rt,	Nichols
MacDonald, re	re,	Deale
Bechat, qb	qb,	Bimbo
Taber, lhb (l. pt.)	rhb,	Famiglietti
Corbi, rhb	lhb,	Laird
Foley, fb	fb,	Warren

Revere Substitutes — Gagan, Canavan, Treacy, Mitchell, Majewski, Stransick, Crivello, Stellatyk, Quinlen, Cowan.

Medford Substitutes—P. Forest, Mero, McGonagle, Bucci, Branch, Wilkins, Dinsmore, Carlson, Hudson, Bowen, Hashey, LaGrace, Colapipy, Farnum, Cangiano.

CHEESE IT, HARVARD, HERE HE COMES

Phantom PHIL O'CONNELL, dashing Holy Cross leader and quarterback. He's a great back, as John Harvard found, last year. The former Brockton high school boy will play a prominent part in the doings of the day. On him Holy Cross may stand or fall. If Harvard is wiped off the list of unbeaten elevens you'll find much of the blame will be on Phil O'Connell. Phantom Phil can make a football talk, jump through, roll over and play dead. In the Stadium today you'll find him doing everything, passing, running, kicking and making life miserable for John Harvard in general. The Crusader chieftain has a whole flock of brother annoyers, including "Spaghetti" Cavaleri and "Ravioli" Colluci,

TERRIERS ON SHORT END

Manhattan returns to Boston today after a lapse of four years to clash with Boston University at Nickerson Field Weston

Johnny Law, former Notre Dame star and now coaching the Jaspers for his second season has a powerful outfit and it will be interested to defeat the unbeaten Terriers.

The Boston University injury list which has been mounting steadily for four weeks, had three more regulars added this week, and to top this woe, Danny Fox has left school and the Terriers are without a veteran center

There was a slight hope that Fox would be persuaded to remain in school until the end of the football season, but he has decided to leave in order to enter business and resigned from the college of business administration yesterday

Gus Strainer, a newcomer in the line, will start at the pivot job. Gus has proven himself to be a good defensive center, but he is needs considerable work on offense.

The local backfield is riddled For the past two weeks, the Terriers have been weak in the backfield due to injuries and now Johnny Litman and Sully Bowers have been added to the list and Hal Leaves only six available backs

Manhattan has had a much more impressive season than Boston University. The jaspers have defeated Baltimore, 47 to 6; Ogelthorpe, 13 to 0; they tied Gettysburg of New York, and have lost to Colgate and Catholic University, with Phil Kline also good.

CORNELL 10-8 FAVORITE

Hanover, N. H. Nov. 14 Cornell invades Memorial Field here this afternoon to do battle with the spectacular Dartmouth eleven. A capacity crowd of 12,000 will jam every inch of the stands for this game

Cornell, with one of its greatest elevens of the past decade, is the fighting favorite to edge the Green but there were plenty of Dartmouth backers, and their willingness to back their team caused the odds to shift to 10 to 8 on Cornell

Both teams went through light pre game workouts.

The Green has been developing pass receivers. Wild Bill McCall, Ward Donner and Harold Mack have been working on the overhead game

Dartmouth will meet a team which has been primed for this contest.

Capt. Stan Tudicky ran signals with the second team yesterday.

Dartmouth has taken four games in a row from the Big Red. Dobie has not forgotten that Dartmouth scored 62 points on one of his teams not long ago

Cornell has in Ferraro and Vivanco a real backfield combination with Phil Kline also good.

Dempsey's Eye Cut in Two Tame Bouts

Moline Ill., Nov. 14 (INS)—Some disappointment was expressed today by the 6500 fans who last night saw Jack Dempsey whip two opponents on his comeback tour. Both opponents, George Nepon, a Chicago Greek, and Pete Wilson went the scheduled distance of two rounds with the former heavyweight champion.

Nepon opened a cut over Dempsey's left eye, but Jerry Luvadis, the ex-champion's trainer, stopped the flow of blood before Wilson got under way.

State Entertains Wagner Grid Team

Amherst, Nov. 14—Massachusetts State this afternoon entertains Wagner on Alumni field here

Gift Horse First in Pimlico Race

Pimlico, Md., Nov. 14 (US)—On Foot, a "gift horse," drove to a smashing triumph in the 23th running of the Walden Handicap, a test for two-year-olds, here

The trim bay son of On Watch showed the impress of quality by whirling past the judges a length in advance of the Edwards' Allenfern.

The son of On Watch was gift from G. W. Loft to Mrs. Louis Kaufman, the New York sportswoman who races under the nom-de-course of the Loma Stable, as a weanling. Sparingly raced by Trainer Max Hirsch, he came to the Walden in perfect condition.

first a good piece of real estate, buy it wisely, pay for it, keep it, and later it will bring you. Use the second values listed today in the real estate columns of The Classified Ads

TAD'S FAVORITE INDOOR SPORTS

MY DOPE IS TO PRINT A 56 PAGE PAPER DAILY AND RUN ALL THE STUFF
WELL, SO FAR THIS WEEK I'VE HAD 116 INCHES OF MY STUFF PRINTED— I GOTTA IDEA THAT CITY ED IS AGAINST ME
AW— I SLIPPED HIM THREE REPORTS GOOD THIS TO DAY AN' NOT ONE OF THEM GOT A TUMBLE
HE FINDS PLENTY OF ROOM TO STICK IN NOTICES ABOUT MAT DAMES DANCE PARTS BUT MY STUFF IS CHOPPED TO THE SIZE OF A WANT AD.
I GUESS A REPORTER IS ABOUT THE LEAST APPRECIATED BLOKE IN THE WORLD DONT YOU, ANGUS?
IF HALF OF THEM TYPEWRITER ADDA LETTES WOIKED AS HARD ON THE JOB AS THEY DO AFTER WOIK IN THEM POKER GAMES— THEYD OWN PAPERS
OH-BOY— IF NEVO ONLY CUT THE OLD INCOME TAX THE WAY THE COPY DESK CUTS COPY— OH-BOY
INDOOR SPORTS
SLIPPING A FEW OPINIONS OF THE CITY EDITOR AND THE COPY DESK AFTER LAMBING THE FIRST EDITION
AD

CRIMSON HAS 10-8 MARGIN ON PURPLE victory over the Brunonians, there will be a capacity crowd of 58,000 in the Stadium when the teams line up for the opening kickoff Although Harvard and Holy Cross are about a standoff, the Crimson rules a 10-to-8 favorite.

Continued From First Page

There are some uncertainties as to the backfield combinations of both teams. Rumors are that neither Jack Crickard nor Eddie Mayo will be in action for Harvard this afternoon. The absence of either or both of these stars will materially weaken the Harvard offense. Jack Crickard has been the Crimson's offensive ace this season. He has been called upon to do most of the ball carrying and therefore, has not been right since the Texas game

CRICKARD 'MARKED'

Crickard took terrible punishment at West Point. He was a marked player and suffered the consequences From the start of the game, Army went at Crickard hammer and nails and how he stood up under the punishment will always remain a mystery to those who witnessed that battle.

One week after Army, Crickard started against Texas, but was finally forced out of the game with a wrenched thigh, from which developed a "charlie horse." He was given a rest for a couple of weeks but had not fully recovered for Dartmouth, with the result that he was not up to his usual form

Eddie Mayo contracted an infected foot a week ago and did not dress for the Big Green. He has been working out this week, but needs some contact work before he will be fit for the heavy going he would encounter against Holy Cross.

As the Crimson has not entered a Yale game undefeated or untied since 1913, the players were anxious to equal the record of Bob Storer's eleven, but Head Coach Eddie Casey wisely figures that Jack Crickard's and Eddie Mayo' services against Yale next week are far more valuable than an undefeated season, as much as he would like to go through with a perfect record

Capt. John J. McEwan appears to be in somewhat of a quandary as to whether or not he should start Tony Rovinski at halfback The Holy Cross mentor is short a first-string fullback, for Don Kelly is on the hospital list, as was his first replacement, Bart Hanus Kelly is positively out of today's battle, but Hanus returned to the squad this week and may be called upon during the afternoon.

Also it is possible that McEwan may decide to start the big Bridgeport boy and assign Lea Griffin to his regular right halfback berth In the event that Hanus does not pass muster with Capt. McEwan it is still possible that Rovinski will be held in reserve, with Jim Donovan, another famous son of Natick, will get the call.

Phil O'Connell Is Durable Gridster

Capt. Phil O'Connell is a 60-minute player. He has been immune to injury and, as to a certain extent the Holy Cross offense has been built around the Brockton boy. Tony Rovinski might spend most of the afternoon on the bench, if he does not open the game at right half.

Rovinski is a powerful running back. He is especially effective on reverse plays, due to his speed, weight and power. Also, he is a capable receivar of passes in the flat zones and just about the best back Holy Cross can field to cut back off tackles, after starting either to his right or left, although he appears to be more effective cutting to his left outside his right tackle.

With Crickard, Mayo, White and John Dean out, Harvard is woefully short of backfield replacements, which conditions may force Casey to play one of his aces, whom he is trying to save for Yale.

Harvard Tackles to Bother "Opera" Twins

Just how effective Tony Colucci and Jim Cavaliere, the Crimson Opera twins, will be working on Dave Kopans and Ira Hardy, respectively, remains to be seen. Is Kopans and Hardy, Harvard has two great tackles. They are both big and fast and have given wonderful accounts of themselves this season, which is their first with the varsity.

Although the Harvard tackles may have the edge, the Crusaders have at least one lineman who cannot be matched by the Crimson. Jim Zyntell is one of the outstanding linemen in the Stadium this afternoon. Zyntell, who started his football at English high, is a real all American prospect. He has been playing guard for two years and during that time he has developed into one of the greatest ever developed in New England.

After three years fighting to reach the first team, John Balorunes, who matriculated at "The Cross" with Capt. Phil O'Connell, won the right guard berth this fall. He is about the same size as Zyntell and although not as proficient as the Worchester boy, is a very capable workman.

Eddie Bergin, a former all-scholastic center from Somerville High, will be the snapperback for the Crusaders. Bergin is also a senior and like Balorunes he did not make the grade until this season. Bergin weighs but 145 and stands less than five and a half feet, but he gave Dartmouth, Fordham and Brown plenty of trouble, as he will Harvard.

GOOD GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON, "Golf's Greatest Teacher"

Is a sliced ball the result of dragging your clubhead across the ball." For 500 years we have been told that it is. What I am about to tell you a doubtless will be astonishing knowledge—no such thing happens. As a result of the experiments and research conducted with John G. Jordan Chicago engineer, in which we learned definitely what the power of the swinging golf club is, we discovered at the same time something about the curving ball. In these tests we found that the clubhead which drove the ball 250 yards was in contact with the ball for a duration contact of sixteen thousands of a second, and for a distance of .73 of one inch This was a perfectly accelerated clubhead, swinging into the ball with bullet speed Your own clubhead would be in contact with the ball for a considerably lesser distance, and for a much briefer space of time—naturally so, because you would not hit so hard. You could hardly drag your clubhead across the ball in that space of time. The power generated by your swinging club and the manner in which you cause this power to meet the ball cause the ball to curve one way or the other.

Copyright 1931 P. Hale

EX-TEAMMATES TILT AT OVAL

Two halfbacks who teamed together at Medford high will oppose each other this afternoon at the Tufts Oval when Jit Ricker of Bowdoin lines up against Bud Canna of the Jumbos Canna is not the only one of Ricker's former teammates whom he will oppose, for Luther Child and Bump Spaulding are old rivals as well Cap Ole Knapman of Tufts resumes his berth at tackle having recovered from injuries which put him on the sidelines for two weeks

'PONY' BACKS SAVE DAY

Stillwater, Okla, (AP)—Romping to two touchdowns in 38 seconds, the "pony" backs of the Oklahoma Aggie football team have established what is believed to be a record for rapid scoring in the Missouri Valley conference

With 36 seconds to play in the game with Arizona University here, Bill Ingraham, halfback on Arizona's 23-yard line Ingraham's pass, Clarence Highfill to R. B. Sid Clark and Clark scampered 58 yards to score

The ponies are used by Coach Lynn O. Waldorf as an offensive "change of pace" He rushes them in after his heavy backs have battered opposing teams with straight football.

All four of the ponies are close to 10-second men and one, Clark, has done the century in 9.9 seconds. Their average weight is 157 pounds.

GRID INJURIES PROVE FATAL

Deland, Fla., Nov. 14 (US)—Injuries suffered Armistice Day in a football game for charity resulted in the death of C. V. Smith, star tackle for Millsaps College.

Doctors said Smith's back had been injured in two places as he was hit in two backs for Stetson College in a shift play which left him at end.

The youth's home is in Mississippi.

As a result of the tragedy, Dr. D. M. Kay, president of Millsaps, has cancelled a football game scheduled for tomorrow with Rollins.

La Salles Clash With Fenway A. C.

The strong La Salle A. C. of South Boston will play the Fenway A. C. at Columbus Park, South Boston, tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

HONOR 'ROCK' AT IRISH NAVY GAME

NAVY.		NOTRE DAME.
Born, le	re,	Mahoney
McCrea, lt	rt,	Klein
Reedy, lg	rg,	Hoffman
Harbold, c	c,	Yarr
Underwood, rg	lg,	Harris
Bryan, rt	lt,	Krause
Smith, re	le,	Kosky
Denny, qb	qb,	Jankwich
Tschirgi, lh	rh,	Schwartz
Konrad, rh	lh,	Sheckewski
Hurley, fb	fb,	Melinkovich

Baltimore, Nov. 14 (INS)—This was Knute Rockne memorial day throughout the land, with national ceremonies centered in the huge auditorium here, where the midshipmen from Annapolis were to meet football warriors from Notre Dame, the college which Knute piloted to gridiron glory.

The most concentrated drive to complete the $1,000,000 fund to build a perpetual memorial to the immortal "Rock" was entrusted to 4000 Boy Scouts, who will solicit donations from a crowd estimated at 63,000

The meeting between Navy and Notre Dame thus was transformed from a gala occasion, where riotous enthusiasm ran amuck, to a gathering where pathos was the real chord struck and where the focus of concentration was on a hero who moulders in the dust, rather than the heroes alive and vigorous and in the prime of youth

As a game it promised to be little more than a snappy workout for the great team from South Bend Even a miracle couldn't seem to give Navy a chance for triumph. It has been beaten by an ordinary Maryland team, was whipped 20 to 0 by Ohio State, tied by West Virginia Wesleyan and defeated William and Mary. Delaware and Princeton in its other three starts

The Westerners came here with a squad numbering about 35 And the slogan was "No more of the Navy." Knute Rockne's successor to Rockne, announced that he would start his first team against the Middies. His plan seems to call for the regulars to knock Navy lopsided in the first half and then permit the subs to finish up the annihilation.

'YELLOW JACKS' HAVE TARGET

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Yellow Jackets, Pittsburgh's International Hockey League Club, have something at last to shoot at.

Coach Charley Reid is one of those fellows who insist that a hockey player can't shoot than its aim. And so when the team assembled here to go into training for the season, he rigged up a contraption and told his stick artists to go to it.

The idea is to have the stickers shoot at the parts of the net least likely to be protected by the goalie Shots to the corners, Reid points out, particularly shots at the upper angles, give the goalies the least trouble. Therefore, it is the spot the jackets will be trained to hit.

The target is made of rough boards, set at the net, and holes mark the spots where the Jackets are asked to hit.

Bourne A. A. Tackles Tartar in Auburndale

The Bourne A. A. tackles the stiffest opponent met his year when they take on the Auburndale Cubs at the Melrose st. playground tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 The Auburndale team has not been defeated in three years, while the Bourne eleven had dropped but one contest over a period of two years

Today's Selections and Scratches

PIMLICO SCRAICHES

1—Bright Beauty.
2—Brother Rank, Signola, Squeeze Play, Sunaros, Hold Hard, Fair Reid.
4—Havfire, Step Six, Big Amerigo, Sandwrack.
5—Inception, Marine.
6—Attamart, Plain Dealer, Herendeen, Fine Comes, Sir Thorn, Jorico, Chattering.
7—Flying Mac, Tangier, Bub McFarland, Bold, Kadiak.
Weather clear, track fast.

PIMLICO CONSENSUS

1—Slambang, Habanero, Night Winter.
2—Squeeze Play, Sir Byron, Vimont.
3—Blue Damsel, Mrs. Sandwrack.
4—Ladino, Barcelona Pete, Eclipse.
5—Slate, Clock Tower, St. Brieaux.
6—Attax, Sun Thorn, Herendeen.
7—Syralso, Bub MacFarland, Kadiak.

Pimlico Mutuels

FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 13

Five Races	$308.70
Seven races	$386.40

(The figures on the seven mutuals at Pimlico were changed after track wires closed last night, and the correct figures for the seven races are $23.40, instead of $25.50 as published earlier.)

BRUINS OPEN SEASON AT MONTREAL TONIGHT

BARRY WILL START AT CENTER

By JOE CASHMAN

The Bruins and Cubs tonight begin a 20-week effort to swat enough elusive pucks into heavily guarded cages to win hockey titles and the gold that goes with them.

Since the bunch of cowboys and girls who have been holding forth at the Boston Garden for the past week won't clear out until tomorrow, both of our local sextets must open on the road.

The Bruins, our National League representatives, will make their bow at the Montreal Forum against the Maroons, while the Cubs will travel to Springfield to face the Indians in a Canadian-American League opener.

The Bruins have been practicing in Montreal since Thursday so as to be in the best of shape for their struggle with the Maroons. Manager Art Ross took a squad of 15 players with him and expects to use them all in the game tonight.

There will be one new face in the Bruins' starting lineup and four more newcomers are destined to see action before the final whistle blows.

Marty Barry Shifted From Wing to Center

The absence of "Red" Beattie, star center, who is recovering from a leg injury, has made it necessary for Ross to take Marty Barry from left wing on the first line and place him at center in the second trio and Bill Touhey, secured from Ottawa, will team with Cooney Weiland at center and Dit Clapper at right wing as the starting forwards.

Art Chapman, at center, will be the only veteran on the third line, Tank Boyd, promoted from the Cubs, will hold down right wing, and Alex Cook and Frank Jerwa, two Western rookies, will alternate at left wing.

The old reliables, Harry Oliver and Perk Galbraith, will flank Barry on the second line.

The fifth player who will make his debut as a Bruin is Joe Jerwa, purchased from the Rangers in exchange for "Dutch" Gainor. He will pair with Capt. Hitchman in protecting Tiny Thompson in goal when Shore and Ross are resting.

The Bruins are badly handicapped starting, inasmuch as all the other clubs have been on the ice from one to three weeks longer. It won't be long, though, before the natives are setting the pace, in Ross' opinion.

The Tigers open under the samt handicap as the Bruins and Eddie Powers, like Ross, isn't looking for any miracles from his team before Christmas, but he is hopeful that his Cubs will finish with a better record than last season, when they battled their way into the title finals and staged one of the most thrilling series ever before finally bowing to the Indians.

Powers will take a squad of 16 to Springfield. He will use three forward lines. One will be composed of Conn, Burke and Klein, another of Rungs, Southerland and Dowhay and still another of McGoldrick, Lyons and Koski.

Pratt and Foster and Lane and Hourihan will alternate on the defense in front of Goalie Jackson.

George Owen New Bruins' Captain

Montreal, Nov. 14—George Owen, Jr., former Harvard athlete, was elected captain of the Bruins at a meeting of the club here today.

The election of Owen took place at the Montreal Forum. Owen, because of the pressure of business, did not accompany the team to Montreal, but will arrive today and start against the Maroons.

Owen's name was placed in nomination by Hitchman and was seconded by Eddie Shore.

School Grid Slate

Phillips Andover Academy at Phillips Exeter Academy.
Everett High at Malden High.
Melrose High at Wakefield High.
Bridge Park at Lowell High.
Waltham High at Newton High.
Watertown High at Wakefield High.
Stoneham High at Lexington High.
Chelsea High at Revere High.
Norwood High at Natick High.
Clinton High at Framingham High.
Peabody High at Lynn English High.
Lynn Classical at Lynn Tech High.
Haverhill High at Lawrence High.
Revere High at Medford High.
Cambridge Latin at St. James High (Roxbury).
Brockton High at Manchester (N. H.) High.
Quincy High at Fitchburg High.
Rogers High (Newport, R. I.) at Salem High.
Newburyport High at Amesbury High.
Dean Tech at Tabor Academy (Marion).
Walpole High at Canton High.
Lawrence Academy at Groton Dummer Academy (South Byfield).
Mount Hermon School at Phayer Academy (South Braintree).
Weymouth High at Dedham High.
Gloucester High at Beverly High.
Medway High at Millis High.
Danvers High at Saugus High.
Hingham High at Norwell High.
Attleboro High at Fairhaven High.
Easton (N. H.) High at Smithfield (R. I.) High.
Mansfield High at Foxboro High (Fall River).
Bridgton Academy at Kennebunk Academy.
Northbridge High at Sutton High.
Middleboro High at Taunton High.
Bridgewater High at Abington High.
Hanover High at Rockland High.
Falmouth High at Marshfield High.
Acton High at Stony Brook (Manchester, Mass.).
Milford High at Wellesley High.
Leominster High at Gardner High.

PUTTING ON FINISHING TOUCHES

Here is the well known artist, JOSEPH GOSS COWELL, who painted the portraits of Admiral Byrd and other celebrities, putting the finishing touches to his painting of ERNIE SCHAAF, who is posing for him. Napoleon Jack Dorval says he will put on the finishing touches to Schaaf's boxing career when the Wrentham Dynamiter and the Allegheny Woodsman meet in the big Xmas Fund bout in the Garden next Thursday night.

Mr. Boston

By JACK CONWAY

When a rushing, tearing, two-handed fighter meets a boxer who can land a stinging wallop, the spectators get hundreds of thrills for their money.

The late Tex Rickard held to the belief, which is why he ran the receipts for his bouts up into the millions.

Dempsey vs. Carpentier and its $1,600,000 gate. Remember the second round? The rushing, crashing Dempsey, the clever Carpentier picking a spot for his right duke. Then crash. Carpentier nailed Dempsey on the button. The champion's knees sagged and he retreated to the ropes, his guard up around his jaw.

Mr. Boston

The Tiger later told me Carpentier's punch all but knocked him out.

Wide-open punchers like Dempsey and Ernie Schaaf are liable to knock anybody stiff, but they are also in danger of being tipped over themselves. These fellows who take daring chances in the ring are easy to hit. The fact they are rushing forward most of the time causes an enemy punch to cause them more damage than is the case when the ordinary kind of a sock lands.

I look for this kind of a battle when Ernie Schaaf and Napoleon Jack Dorval start shooting broadsides at each other at the Boston Garden next Thursday night.

Schaaf is the new Tiger of the ring. Ask Maloney, Campolo, Baer, Braddock, Odell and Daniels. How Ernie wrecked these men with his smashing punches!

Ernie has youth on his side and the urge that causes one to do great things. He doesn't intend to permit Dorval or anybody else to stop his wild advance.

Schaaf is daring when under fire. He has never been knocked off his feet and does not fear enemy punches.

Dorval Is Dangerous

Dorval is a master boxer like Carpenter. He hits well with each hand and from any angle. Furthermore he has power in his sock. Dorval has one advantage which Carpentier didn't possess when he battled Dempsey. He has the physical requirements for a great heavyweight.

Jack stands six feet three and a half inches in height, weighs 220 pounds and has a reach of 77 inches. Whatta man!

Dorval wasn't brought up with the proverbial silver spoon in his mouth. He comes from the mountains of Pennsylvania. He's one of the roughest, acting birds in the heavyweight division. He has outboxed and outfought 22 opponents in the row. He looks upon the Schaaf bout as just another fight. It is mighty hard to lick that kind of a right warrior.

He ridicules the Sharkey glare and tells the Squire he'll use it until they battle for the American heavyweight championship.

Fuller in Condition

Meanwhile don't overlook that lightweight jam between Andy Callahan and Sammy Fuller at the Arena one week next Monday night. This tussle will bring together a couple of local ring ace who have never disappointed the fans when they have opposed each other.

Fuller has been blasting away at a flock of sparring partners at Kelley & Hayes' Gym, while Callahan has been working at Arthur's. Andy has been taking off weight rapidly, and says this has not sapped his strength.

Moses Brown Wins Cross Country Meet

Moses Brown school ran away with the honors in the prep school division and Mt. Pleasant high school was the winner in its class as 300 schoolboy harriers raced at Soldiers Field today.

Larry Oskood of Lee Acad-emy was the individual winner among the prep school racers. He led Jimmy DeGomer of Dean Academy to the tape in a thrilling home stretch battle after they had raced neck-neck for four miles.

Moses Brown, with 43 points won the team winner, with Scott, Campbell and Tarkey of that school finishing in the above order. Lee Academy, with 47, Newark, with 80 and Dean Academy with 90 points finished in that order.

In the class A high school race, Mt. Pleasant was low scorer and winner. Sam Szumchowski won the race over 65 starters, beating Ed Kozwyck to the tape.

Kozwycki, a Medford High school boy, was running independently. La Salle, Houlton, Me., and Quincy High school were the next three teams to finish. Newton High and Arlington trailed Quincy home in point scoring.

Johnny Dellenger of Wakefield High won the class B high school race.

Strack Opens Work for Bout With Gus

Charlie Strack, strong boy from the Oklahoma A. & M. College, who by virtue of his decisive victory over the colorful Count George Zaryoff on Thursday night, won the right to meet Gus Sonnenberg on Thanksgiving Day night at the Arena, for the benefit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has begun intensive training for the bout.

Strack plans to be in the gymnasium every day and will take two or three tune-up matches to keep him in trim and also to prepare his defense against the flying tackle, of which he himself is a great master. Strack is anxious to beat Sonnenberg and get a crack at Henri Degiane for the title.

Italian, Belgian Lead in Bike Race

Chicago, Nov. 14 (US)—Franco Georgetti of Italy and his Belgian partner, Gerard Debaets were the leaders in the six-day bicycle race, at the Stadium, on points as the remaining field of 12 teams sprinted into the final day of the long grind at midnight.

The French red-devils, Al Letourner and Marcel Guimbretiere, were tied with them for the mile-age lead, however, one lap ahead of the pack.

BIG LEAGUERS BEAT JAPS

Toshiyasu Ogawa, Japan, Nov. 14 (AP)—A homer by Al Simmons, of the Philadelphia Athletics, which pierced the umbrella bleachers Jo center filled was the high spot of a baseball game between the touring United States All Stars and an all-Japan team today, played to a drizzle bofer 40,000 fans and won by the Americans 6 to 3.

Rabbit Maranville also entertained the crowd with his antics at shortstop for his American team.

Bruce Cunningham, of the Boston Braves, and Mickey Cochrane, of the Philadelphia Athletics, formed the American battery.

	R	H	E
U. S. All Stars	6	8	0
Japan	3	7	1

Batteries—U. S., Cunningham and Cochran; Japan, Sabro, Miyatake and Masao.

Roosevelt Eleven Downs Thompsons

In the feature contest of the Boston Intermediate Schools Soccer League the undefeated Theodore Roosevelt eleven defeated the Frank V. Thompson eleven, 2 to 0, at Franklin Park.

Only five of the eight games scheduled were played, three of them being postponed until next week.

The Henry L. Pierce eleven defeated the Bennet eleven, 1 to 0; Michaelangelo defeated Dorchester Lincoln, 2 to 0; Robert G. Shaw defeated George Washington, 1 to 0, and the William H. Taft and John Winthrop elevens played a scoreless tie.

Big Grid Clash at Ashmont Tomorrow

Our Lady of Lourdes football club of Jamaica Plain will be the attraction at Ashmont tomorrow afternoon when they clash with the Ashmont Wanderers at 2:30 o'clock.

Both teams have plenty of good material and a hard game is looked for when the game starts on the Mary Hemenway playgrounds.

College Grid Highlight Games

EAST
Boston Univ. vs. Manhattan, at Nickerson Field.
Coast Guard vs. Norwich, at New London.
Dartmouth vs. Cornell, at Hanover.
Harvard vs. Holy Cross, at Stadium.
Lowell Textile vs. Tufts, at Lowell.
Mass. State vs. Hoover, at Amherst.
New Hamp. vs. Springfield, at Durham.
Tufts vs. Bowdoin, at Medford.
Vermont vs. Middlebury, at Burlington.
Williams vs. Amherst, at Williamstown.

FAST
Fordham vs. N. Y. U., at Yankee Stadium.
Columbia vs. Penn, at Baker Field.
Rutgers vs. Lehigh, at N. Brunswick.
Syracuse vs. Colgate, at Syracuse.
Temple vs. Carnegie Tech, at Philadelphia.

SOUTH
Alabama vs. Clemson, at Montgomery.
Auburn vs. Sewanee, at Birmingham.
Florida vs. S. Carolina, at Tampa.
Georgia vs. Tulane, at Athens.
Mississippi vs. Louisiana, at Jackson.

Navy vs. Notre Dame, at Baltimore.
South Methodist vs. Baylor at Dallas.
Tennessee vs. Vanderbilt, at Knoxville.
Texas vs. Texas Christian, at Austin.
Virginia vs. V. M. I., at Charlottesville.

MIDDLE WEST
Butler vs. Marquette, at Indianapolis.
Detroit vs. Nebraska, at Detroit.
Illinois vs. Chicago, at Urbana.
Michigan vs. Michigan State, at Ann Arbor.
Minnesota vs. Cornell College, at Minneapolis.
Missouri vs. Oklahoma, at Columbia.
Northwestern vs. Indiana, at Evanston.
Oklahoma City vs. Haskell, at Oklahoma City.
Purdue vs. Iowa, at Lafayette.
Washington U. vs. Kansas, at St. Louis.
Wisconsin vs. Ohio State, at Madison.

WEST
California vs. Idaho, at Berkeley.
Colorado State vs. Utah State, at Fort Collins.
Creighton vs. Grinnell, at Omaha.
Denver vs. Colorado College, at Denver.
Iowa State vs. Drake, at Ames.
Kansas State vs. Nebraska, at Manhattan.
Oregon vs. Oregon State, at Eugene.
San Francisco vs. Santa Clara, at San Francisco.
South Dakota vs. North Dakota State, at Vermillion.
Southern California vs. Montana, at Los Angeles.
Stanford vs. Nevada, at Palo Alto.
Utah vs. Colorado, at Salt Lake City.
Washington vs. Washington State, at Seattle.

The Daily Dozen

—MYLES T. McSWEENEY—

In Harvard's bright Lexicon of football, there is no such word as putrid. Ask Ted Husing.

Ted has been barred at least forever from broadcasting Harvard games, for characterizing Barry Wood's playing in the Dartmouth game by this rotten word.

It is possible that Husing, realizing he was at the seat of culture, was only trying to use what he thought was an acceptable word for the low brow expression, lousy.

Words, however, must be as carefully chosen as clothes. You can't wear overalls at a debutante's party.

Unless you are the janitor

While maintaining an attitude of strict neutrality, we still think that Mr. Husing did not expect his unfortunate choice of a word to qualify the playing of a Harvard star would be taken literally.

Usage has made acceptable certain words in the vocabularly of some sport followers. The expression "That guy is a bum," is the equivalent of the English "That fellow's performance is hardly up to the accepted standard."

Well, anyways, as we say, there are more persons who know the meaning of the word "putrid" today than there were before Husing made his unfoxy pass.

The editor of the Columbia paper who termed football a racket has been affectionately dubbed "Columbia's Jeer Leader."

The pen may be mightier than the sword, but the typewriter is no defense against a punch on the nose.

Several members of the Columbia team intimated that their critical editor might discover the truth of this saying if he printed any more untoward comment concerning the eleven.

The next voice you will hear is that of a famous sports announcer who will give you a play by play description of the Harvard-Husing game.

Belmont Hill Team Spills Rivers, 19-0

Belmont Hill school won a 19-0 victory over Rivers school at Belmont Hill field, Belmont.

BELMONT HILL
Clement, g.	Clark, lg.
A. Fenton, lg.	Hoyt, lg.
A. Clark Dickson, lg.
Lawrence Barnes Mefeil, c.
Kirk, Caspin, Snelling, rg.
Rancroft, Tufts, Sawyer, rt.
Dewey, Bruce Mercer, re.
Francis Page, qb.
Lawrence Shaw, lhb.
Rondebush Page, Chadwick, Driskill, rhb.
Schreiner Tod, Gray Ames, fb.
H. Chadwick, Greene, Hall.

Score—Belmont Hill 19, Townsend E. Peterson 2, Page. Point after touchdown—Clark.

Harvard Soccer Team Battles M. I. T.

Coach Jack Carr's Harvard soccer eleven will clash with M. I. T. today on the soccer pitch behind the Harvard Business School the kickoff taking place at 12:30 p. m.

The Crimson eleven with only one victory to its credit that over Bridgewater Normal in the opening game when it won 4 to 2, has had a tough year, losing to the Graduates, Springfield, Army, and Pennsylvania and tieing Dartmouth and Brown.

BIG LIST FOR ST. JOE'S BOUTS

With an entry list which breaks records for weekly tournaments, B. J. Cuddy announced he would start the bouts at 7:30.

A big list of amateur fights is prepared for followers of the simon pures who attend the weekly affair. T. A. N. show at Mechanics Building tonight.

Competition is included in the 112, 126, 135, 147, 160 and 175-pound classes.

Among the 147-pound entries are Rick Mackey, champion of Quincy, King of Taunton and Tony Scarsia of Leominster.

In the 175 class will be Abbot Sonku of Taunton, Lefty Ridge of Nashua, N. H. Charley Pedrick of Worcester, Johnny Dyer and Bob Pickett of Everett, Dick Roulx of South Boston, Hugh McDonald of Roxbury and Billy Lanciani of Sterling.

Auburn Eleven Plays Rangers

The Auburn A. A. of Cambridge plays the Columbia Rangers eleven tomorrow afternoon at Cambridge field. Lickle and Griffin are back in the lineup for the Auburns.

Wrestling Results

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia—Ted London, Greece threw Rudy Dusek, Omaha, 12:58; Vander Richens, Tex Hancock, Texas threw John Kaye, Greece, 5:14; George Zaharias, Colorado threw Rene Ledoux, Canada, 11:30; Ben Davisecord, California, threw Al Piersall, 9:04.

Worcester, Mass.—Ernest Dreiano, Montreal, defeated Pat Mehall, Omaha two out three falls (Dreiano first, 1:14, and second, 1:10; Mehall second, 1:15).

Lowell, Mass.—George Zaryoff, 201, Russia, defeated Gus Sonnenberg, 240, Indiana, two straight falls 21:04 and 8:57.

Salem, Mass.—Joe Wolcott, 214, Boston, defeated Jean Shelhorn, Providence, 210, two out three falls (Wolcott first, 14:09; Wolcott second, 10:00; Shelhorn third, 9:04). Referee, Gus Sonnenberg, Three Rafter Arnold, Newport, R. I., 11:00.

Manchester, N. H.—Ed Don George, 205, Boston, threw John Regardi, 234, Poland, 45:14; Jim Merritan, 200, Fall River, threw Joe Wiener Waite Gillis, 198, Italy, 25:36.

Tonawanda, N. Y.—Ed Don George, 205, Boston, Mass., defeated Joe Devito, 215, Italy, two out of three falls.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Gus Sonnenberg, 235, Bethlehem, Mass., defeated Ed Don George, 218, New York, in straight falls, 28:08 and 9:30.

San Jose, Cal.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, 220, Omaha, Neb., defeated Ray Steele, Texas, by default after one 45-minute round. Ced was unable to return.

Bouts Last Night

By the Associated Press

New York—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, outpointed Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo, 10; Charley Retzlaff, Minn. and Clarence Bergeron, Italy, drew 10; Walter Cobb, Baltimore, outpointed Hans Birkie, Germany, 10; Ted Sandwina, Miss City, Ia., knocked out Matco Osa, 1.

Erie, Pa.—Leo Petrone, Worcester, Mass., outpointed Ray Collins, Erie; Harry Dolack, Erie, outpointed Walter Miller, Rich. Hill, Mo.; Frankie Pallet, Cleveland, stopped Steve Hogan, Erie (4); Johnny Jadick, Erie, outpointed Allen Whitlow, Phoenix, Ariz.

Cleveland—Charles Kaiser, Pittsburgh, outpointed Lawrence Rubano, Philippines (10).

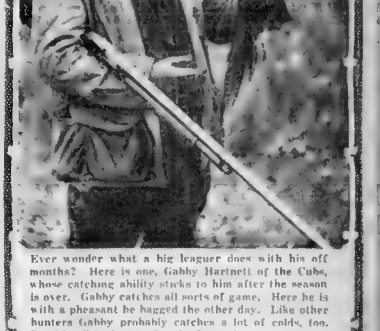
San Diego, Cal.—Prince Saunders, Chicago, knocked out Harry Forbes, Indianapolis (8).

San Francisco—Tom Patrick, Los Angeles, outpointed Tony Poloni, Reno, Nev. (10).

Philadelphia—Eddie Coad, Philadelphia, outpointed Alden Smith, Bridgeport, Ct. (10); Buddy Brennan, Cincinnati, outpointed Benny Schwartz, Philadelphia (10).

SPORTS REEL

Ever wonder what a big leaguer does with his off months? Here is one, Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs, whose catching ability sticks to him after the season is over. Gabby catches all sorts of game. Here he is with a pheasant he bagged the other day. Like other hunters Gabby probably catches a lot of colds, too. But it's all in fun, smiles the Nimrod. (Int'l Photo)



Lawrence football fans trekked to Providence today to watch Ralph Hewitt, former Lawrence high flash, captain and quarterback of the Columbia against Brown. Hewitt and his mates are favored to tame the Bear. Ralph is the Lions' best bet for an All American berth. He can do everything well on the gridiron

MATE ON WAY TO RECORD EARNINGS

Pimlico Race Track, Md., Nov 14 (INS)—There will be a new leader of the year on the American turf if Mate wins the $25,000 added Riggs Handicap at one and one-half miles here today.

The Riggs is the feature stake for the closing day of the fall season at this course. M. L. Schwartz's Clock Tower, a proved router and sensation of the Maryland autumn season, is among those present. St. Brideaux, winner of the Latonia championship is the lone reliance of the Green tree stable.

Rounding out one of the best quality handicap fields seen in many seasons, there are present Mrs. John D. Hertz's Valenciennes the lone mare of the pack, and Marine of the Canada Mount Royal stable. In all, there are 13 starters.

If as many as ten go to the post, the stakes will gross around $31,000. This would insure the winner no less than $23,000, which, if the size of victory should fall to Mate, that colt will go on to the Bowie meeting opening Monday, as the lead in money winner of 1931.

His total then would be about $226,000, a comfortable lead over Top Flight, $219,900, and Twenty Grand, $218,545, the leaders, as named, this morning.

Post positions, starters, their owners, weights and probable odds for the Riggs follow:

PP.	Horse	Weight	Pr. odds
1	Inception	109	20 to 1
2	Blenheim	116	20 to 1
3	Valenciennes	107	8 to 1
4	Marine	114	8 to 1
5	Plucky Pat	112	6 to 1
6	Sonny Grant	107	6 to 1
7	Clock Tower	114	3 to 1
8	Dr. Freeland	110	5 to 1
9	St. Brideaux	114	3 to 1
10	Mate	126	3 to 1
11	Rocky Knox	112	8 to 1
12	Tanorad	107	20 to 1
13	Mr. Monopole	107	20 to 1

Scene Grant and St. Brideaux, entered in A. Bartlett's entry.

U. OF PEABODY MEETS PERES

Pere Marquette and the University of Peabody football teams, champions of their ninth annual game tomorrow afternoon at Lynch's park, Mass. ave. and Southampton at 2:30. The game will start at 2:15.

Football rivalry between these two elevens was started back in 1923, when the Tanners were at the top of the heap in semipro circles. The Peabody eleven defeated the Peres that year, despite the fact that only O'Leary, Wenz and Sullivan of the Tanners were in the lineup.

Since that day the Peres have been on the edge of the heap, sometimes coming from pretty near the bottom to the top, only to slide back again.

Soccer Schedule

TODAY
Pawtucket vs. Boston and Lincoln Park Club McGregor vs. Needham at Needham.
Harvard vs. M. I. T. at Cambridge.
Northeastern vs. Worcester Tech at Worcester.

TOMORROW
New Bedford vs. New York Giants at New York.
N. Y. Americans vs. Mahsah at Brooklyn.
Rhode Island vs. Kearney A. C. at Providence.
Hyde Park vs. Dorchester Wanderers at Franklin Field.
Fall River vs. Louisiana at Cambridge.
Lawrence vs. St. Pius at Lynn.
General Electrics vs. Boston Rangers at Lowell.
St. Anthonys vs. Scandinavians at Worcester.
Brockton Americans vs. Swedish F. C. at North Brighton.
Canterburys vs. Riversides at Lynn.
Portuguese Clubs vs. Peabody at Peabody.

FITTONS PLAY TROJANS

[illegible] and champion [illegible] of Peabody [illegible] meeting since 1924, [illegible] ark up against the Quincy Trojans at Dilboy Field Somerville, tomorrow afternoon. Earlier in the season the two elevens clashed in the Fittons winning by one touchdown

The Trojans have the past few weeks added Zeus Wilgewski, Bud Walsh, "Tiger" Jack Young, and several others.

Charlestown Loses to South Boston

[illegible] Charlestown High opened a 7 to [illegible] South Boston High [illegible] Charlestown [illegible] yards [illegible] Charlestown [illegible] passing [illegible] Boston High [illegible] CHARLESTOWN H [illegible] Anthony [illegible] Pelosi [illegible] Pelosi [illegible] Kenyon [illegible] Barbera [illegible] Pierce [illegible] Lynch [illegible] Raffeal Sullivan [illegible] Silvera [illegible] Lee

RAILWAY LABOR ASKS CONGRESS FOR 6-HR. DAY

America's great railway systems have discarded their men so rapidly and in such gigantic numbers as the result of depression that they have been instrumental in spreading misery faster than any other single agency.

By their own admission, few lines have worked out any plan adequate to meet the situation. Nowhere, perhaps, is the six-hour day advocated by William Randolph Hearst as a means of spreading work, more sorely needed to meet the emergency.

This is the tenth of a series of articles dealing with the six-hour day and its application to many fields.

By LAURA VITRAY

Almost 10 per cent of America's army of unemployed has been recruited from the railroads, whose total of jobless is rapidly mounting toward the three-quarters of a million mark.

Congress will be asked to decide whether railway workers shall have a six-hour working day, to spread employment.

Twenty-one railroad labor organizations—the same which, 15 years ago, went to Congress and got the Adamson Act, establishing an eight-hour day on the rail lines—will go before the legislators this winter with a definite program for a six-hour day, which they insist is the only solution of the dire distress that prevails.

730,000 IDLE

Of this winter's national total of 7,000,000 idle, almost three-quarters of a million will be men who formerly had jobs upon the roads.

Interstate Commerce Commission figures show 1,288,074 employes of Class 1 railroads in August of this year. That is about 300,000 less than in an average year of railroading such as 1926.

It is 734,000 less than in 1920 under government operation of the roads.

UP TO CONGRESS

The railway workers' demand is for shorter hours with no decrease in pay. And they believe Congress will grant it.

"Nation-wide depression," says the Railroad Labor Executives' Association, "has been caused by low wages, by the excessive profits of the few and the underpayment of the many, whose purchasing power would not absorb the flood of goods that industry produced. We do not believe that the way out of the depression is to aggravate the causes of the depression."

What is the real situation in regard to the railroads?

To begin with, the railroads are among the largest employers of labor. They have likewise, during the past two years, been among the largest contributors to America's unemployment problem.

In July, 1929, there were 1,744,000 men employed on the major roads of the country. By July 1930, almost a quarter of a million had been thrown out of work. That number has now increased to 500,000 . . . nor is it certain that the bottom of the dark labor slump has yet been reached.

ROADS HAVE PROBLEMS

The roads, in those two years, grappled with two difficulties of gigantic magnitude.

One was depression . . . the other was competition of bus lines and other forms of transportation.

Add to those two factors, unfavorable for railway magnates and workers alike, a third the burden of which fell on the backs of the workers alone . . . the electrification and modernization of the roads so that less labor was required.

Add also a fourth, from which the workers alone have suffered . . . the constant forward march of unification, plans, railroad mergers, simplification and regrouping of the rail systems.

"The railroads, with few exceptions, have been guilty of failure to care for their workers," says D. B. Robertson, chairman of the Railway Executives' Association, which has just completed its study of the situation and drafted the program to be presented to Congress, calling for a six-hour working day.

"Of the 750,000 now out of work, 500,000 lost their jobs as the result of depression, and 250,000 as the result of improvements of the roads in which the carriers failed to make provision for the displacement of their workers."

BIG DROP IN FREIGHT

The effects of depression on the freight business of the roads has been enormous.

Seven million less freight cars were loaded with merchandise in 1930 than in 1929, a drop of about 25 per cent.

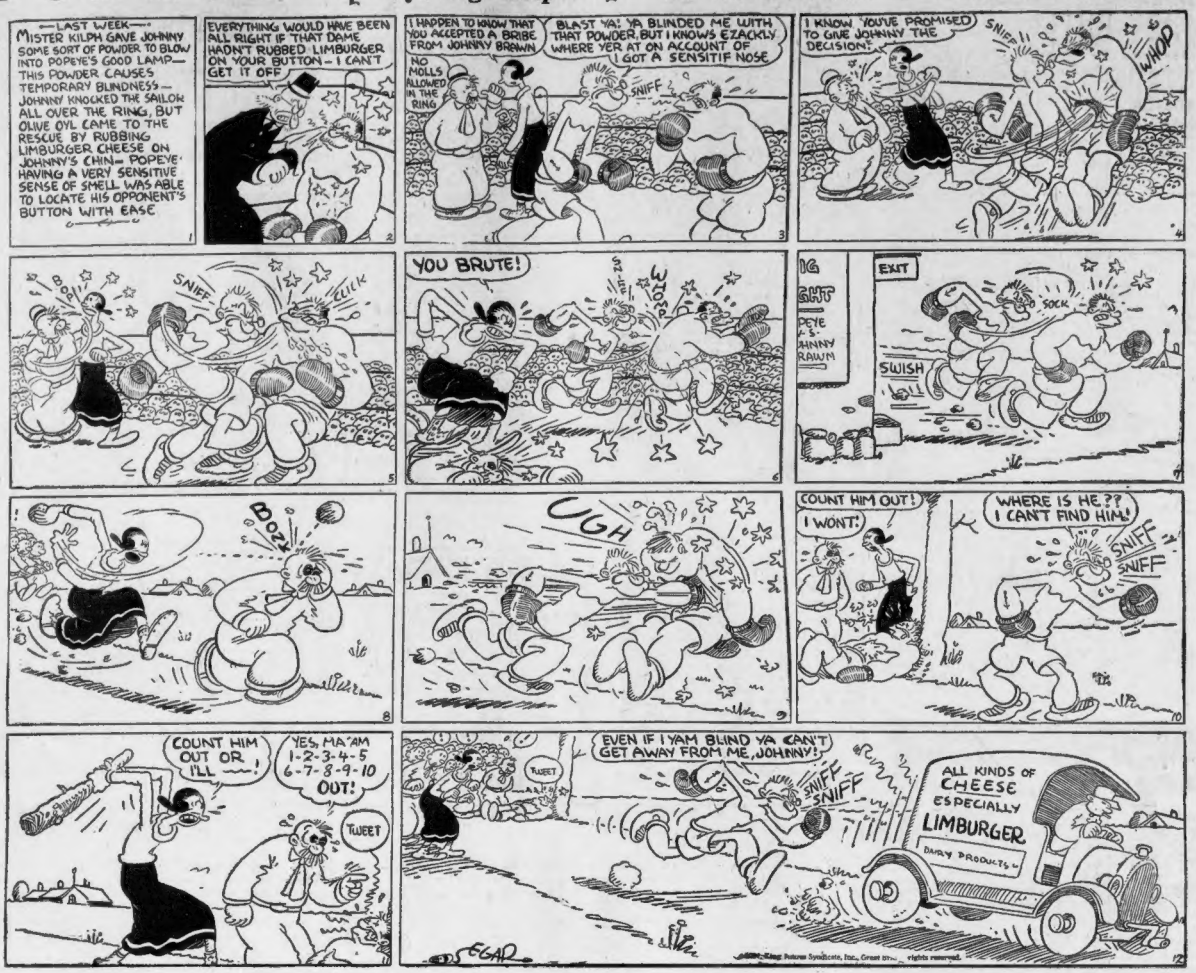
And with an equipment developed to carry an immense volume of passenger business the roads saw an ever-increasing proportion of this traffic go to the bus lines whose long-distance routes now honeycomb the United States. Even in the prosperous year of 1929 the passenger revenue of the roads was $414,000,000 less than in 1920.

These causes have greatly aggravated the unemployment situation on the railroads—and the necessity of coping with an many problems may account for the singular failure of many of the lines to adopt definite plans for "spreading work."

A few such plans have been developed. Monday we will go into the railroad situation in more detail.

POPEYE { Is Winner, Olive Oyl Big Help!! }

An Exclusive Feature Every Saturday In the BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN



—LAST WEEK— MISTER KILPH GAVE JOHNNY SOME SORT OF POWDER TO BLOW INTO POPEYE'S GOOD LAMP— THIS POWDER CAUSES TEMPORARY BLINDNESS— JOHNNY KNOCKED THE SAILOR ALL OVER THE RING, BUT OLIVE OYL CAME TO THE RESCUE BY RUBBING LIMBURGER CHEESE ON JOHNNY'S CHIN— POPEYE HAVING A VERY SENSITIVE SENSE OF SMELL WAS ABLE TO LOCATE HIS OPPONENT'S BUTTON WITH EASE
EVERYTHING WOULD HAVE BEEN ALL RIGHT IF THAT DAME HADN'T RUBBED LIMBURGER ON YOUR BUTTON—I CAN'T GET IT OFF
I HAPPEN TO KNOW THAT YOU ACCEPTED A BRIBE FROM JOHNNY BRAWN
NO MOLLS ALLOWED IN THE RING
BLAST YA! YA BLINDED ME WITH THAT POWDER, BUT I KNOWS EZACKLY WHERE YER AT ON ACCOUNT OF I GOT A SENSITIF NOSE
SNIFF
I KNOW YOU'VE PROMISED TO GIVE JOHNNY THE DECISION!
SNIFF
WHOP
BOH!
SNIFF
ELLIK
YOU BRUTE!
SOCK
EXIT
SOCK
SWISH
BOZK
UGH
COUNT HIM OUT!
I WONT!
WHERE IS HE?? I CAN'T FIND HIM!
SNIFF
SNIFF
COUNT HIM OUT OR I'LL —!
YES, MA'AM 1-2-3-4-5 6-7-8-9-10 OUT!
TWEET
EVEN IF I YAM BLIND YA CAN'T GET AWAY FROM ME, JOHNNY!
TWEET
SNIFF SNIFF
ALL KINDS OF CHEESE ESPECIALLY LIMBURGER
DAIRY PRODUCTS
EGAR
© 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved

Sappo Doughnuts Are Explosive—Ma Sappo Found That Out—"Sinkers" May Be Boon to Aviation

SAPPO BY SEGAR
Registered U. S. Patent Office
THEN THE REASON MY DOUGHNUTS WERE SO LIGHT WAS BECAUSE YOU PUT SOMETHING INTO THE DOUGH?
YES—I HAVE INVENTED A GAS WHICH IS ONE MILLION TIMES LIGHTER THAN AIR
I MASHED UP A FEW OF THESE GAS TABLETS AND MIXED THEM INTO YOUR DOUGH—THE HEAT RELEASED THE GAS AND THEY WENT UP TO THE CEILING
THE GAS ISN'T POISON AND IF THE DOUGHNUTS TASTE OKAY WE CAN SELL THE STUFF FOR BAKING-POWDER—TAKE A BITE
!
DOP
HAW! HAW! I GUESS THE BAKING-POWDER IS OUT
SAP!
YOU AND YOUR INVENTIONS ARE A PAIN IN THE NECK
I DIDN'T EXPECT YOU TO GIVE ME CREDIT FOR BEING A GENIUS
THERE ARE A LOT OF USES FOR SAPPO'S SUPER GAS
THIS BAG CONTAINS ONLY ONE CUBIC FOOT OF IT—BUT SEE— I FLOAT— I WEIGH JUST HALF AN OUNCE
MY GOSH!
NOW IF I GIVE A LITTLE JUMP I'LL GO UP IN THE AIR—WATCH—
TWEET TWEET
© 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved

Another Popeye Knockout in Next Saturday's Boston Evening American---Don't Fail to Get It!

THIMBLE THEATER Starring POPEYE

Now Showing—"An 'Accident' Epidemic" Monday—"The Perfect Wreck" By Segar

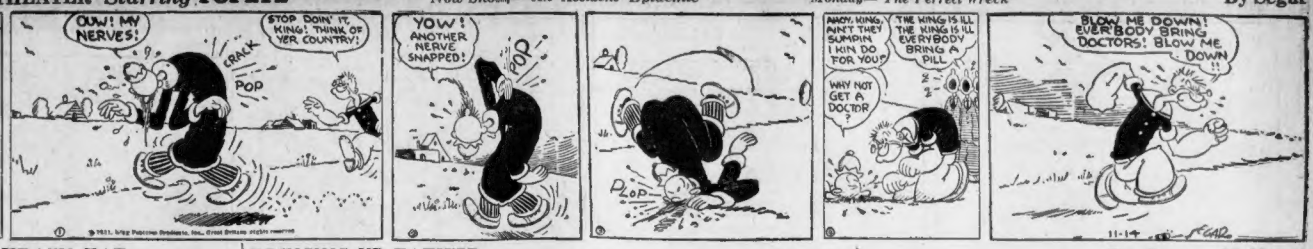
A Special POPEYE Comic Page Appears Today in the BOSTON AMERICAN A "Knockout" Every Saturday



OUW! MY NERVES!
CRACK
POP
STOP DOIN' IT, KING! THINK OF YER COUNTRY!
YOW! ANOTHER NERVE SNAPPED!
POP
PLOP—
MACH, KING, AIN'T THEY SUMPIN I KIN DO FOR YOU?
THE KING IS ILL EVERYBODY BRING A PILL
WHY NOT GET A DOCTOR
BLOW ME DOWN! EVERYBODY BRING DOCTORS! BLOW ME DOWN!!
11-14

KRAZY KAT

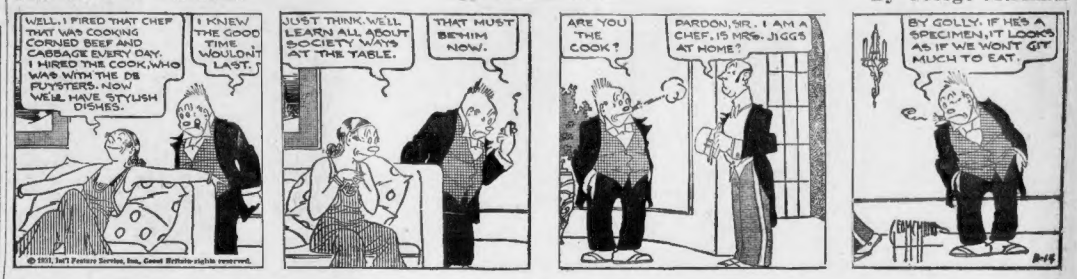
A Lover Unarmed

I'LL CALL THAT "KAT" TODAY AGAIN - BUT FIRST I'LL TOSS THIS BRICK AWAY - THEN WILL I POOL THAT "COP" - HE'LL HAVE NO CAUSE TO ARREST ME.
KRAZY !!! OH-WOW!!!
WOT WOODS THOU WITH ME, DAHLINK?
YOU !!?
I'LL BE RIGHT BACK
HARRIMAN
11-14

BRINGING UP FATHER

Jiggs Fears for the Eats

By George McManus



WELL, I FIRED THAT CHEF THAT WAS COOKING CORNED BEEF AND CABBAGE EVERY DAY. I HURRED THE COOK, WHO WAS WITH THE DE PUYSTERS. NOW WE'LL HAVE STYLISH DISHES.
I KNEW THE GOOD TIME WOULDN'T LAST.
© 1931, Int'l Feature Service, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
JUST THINK, WE'LL LEARN ALL ABOUT SOCIETY WAYS AT THE TABLE.
THAT MUST BEHIM NOW.
ARE YOU THE COOK?
PARDON, SIR. I AM A CHEF, IS MRS. JIGGS AT HOME?
BY GOLLY, IF HE'S A SPECIMEN, IT LOOKS AS IF WE WON'T GIT MUCH TO EAT.
BARCHON
B-15

POLLY AND HER PALS

An Even Score

By Cliff Sterrett

I ALWAYS THOUGHT THAT YOUR COUSIN CARRIE AND ANGEL WERE THE WORLD'S WORST MUTTS, MA.
I ADMIT THEY'RE THE PRIZE PESTS OF THE HULL HICKS FAMILY.
I WOULDN'T LET IT WORRY ME, MA! THEY'RE NICE PEOPLE COMPARED TO PA'S COUSIN, ETHELBERT AND BRAT!
THAT'S THE PERKINS' PRIDE, POLLY!
WE'VE NEVER ALLOWED THEM DERN HICKSES THAVE ANYTHING ON US.--
"INCLUDIN' CRUMMY COUSINS!!
CLIFF STERRETT 11-14

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

Money Talks

By Darrell McClure

SHE SAYS SHES AN ORPHAN—BUT I HAVE A SUSPICION SHES JUST TELLING THAT STORY—SO HER FOLKS WON'T HAVE TO PAY HER HOSPITAL BILL—
OH, I'M SURE SHES TELLING THE TRUTH—SHES JUST A POOR, LITTLE, HELPLESS WAIF THATS ALL VERY WELL—BUT WHO'S GOING TO PAY HER BILL?
THIS IS NOT A CHARITABLE INSTITUTION—IF WE TRY TO TAKE CARE OF EVERY HOMELESS BEGGAR—THE SHERIFF WILL SOON BE TAKING CARE OF US!
GEE, ZERO, WE'RE IN A TOUGH SPOT—YOU KNOW AN I KNOW WE WOULDN'T CHEAT PEOPLE—BUT I GUESS THAT HEAD NURSE THINKS DIFFERENT—OR SHE WOULDN'T TALK SO ROUGH!!
© 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
11-14
DARRELL McCLURE

BARNEY GOOGLE

Under Cover

By De Beck

MAH GOO'NESS, MISS KITTY. YO' SAY YO' CAINT MEET MISTAH GOOGLE? HE'S OVAH DERE WAITIN' FO' YO' NOW— YES, MISS KITTY. AH'LL TELL HIM WHEN HE GITS HOME!
SAY, YOU, YOU'VE BLOCKED THE SIDEWALK LONG ENOUGH AND I AIN'T GONNA TELL YA AGAIN!
LISSEN, BIG BOY— I'M WAITING FOR A YOUNG LADY—
GEE! HERE COMES THAT DOGGONE COP AGAIN— IF HE SEES ME I'M SUNK—
SAY! I AIN'T IN AMYBODY'S WAY! I GOTTA KEEP MY EYE ON THIS CORNER!! HAVE A HEART!!
© 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
NOV 14
DE BECK

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

The Only Exit

By Lym Young

WONDER WHAT'S KEEPIN' ROY SO LONG! HERE, TIM, TAKE BACK YOUR PHONY JEWEL—SAY, SPUD, SOON AS I CAN I'M GOING TO PROVE THAT IT'S A GENUINE STONE.—
—YOU WAIT HERE, TIM, WHILE I GO INTO THE CURIO SHOP AN' DRAG ROY OUT BEFORE HE GOES BROKE!
HELLO—SOMEBODY'S YELLIN'!! GOSH TIM? TIM'S GONE! TIM! HEY, TIM! TIM!!
11-14
THERE'S ONLY ONE PLACE WHERE HE COULD HAVE DISAPPEARED THROUGH SO QUICK— AN' THAT'S THROUGH THAT DOORWAY—!!

COOK-COOS

By TED COOK

(Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.)

Immediately following his conviction, Al Capone is said to have visited his tailor and ordered a number of tropical weight suits.

That's either a compliment to his lawyer, or an indication that Chicago is getting too hot for hi ι.

• • •

Even if Capone goes to Federal penitentiary he'll probably be given the courtesy of entering through the revolving door.

• • •

Men treat like a daughter
The gal who bakes water

• • •

DAILY DOUBT

(Press agent item)

"Lawrence Tibbett sings for the pleasure of singing and making friends."

• • •

Anyway, you can't call the modern chorus girl spineless.

• • •

TODAY'S PUZZLE

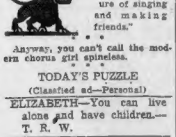
(Classified ad—Personal)

ELIZABETH—You can live alone and have children.—T. R. W.

• • •

Lives of great men oft remind us
That the way to fame is dough
Is to write up some palooks
So his sins are bound to show.

• • •



Little Willie, young hot shot,
Put his daddy on the spot.
Mother said, "You gotta gall,
"Shooting holes in the parlor wall!"

• • •

And the way of the transgressor is also hard on the reputation of the police department.

• • •

Only short by about
Less one to three gals

"My idea of a remarkable art exhibit," anaris Genevieve, the kitchen cynic, "is one that's just hard on the feet."

• • •

BE A SPORTSMAN

(Classified Ad)

FREE pair of clever dice to roulette, crap & black jack players. Inside information on How to Win. Send 2c stamp to "Jackson." Box 636-S.

• • •

You shouldn't think
Before you get on
Of things you maybe
Did when in up.

• • •

Q. and A. DEPARTMENT

Dear Sympathetic Aunt Bella—In what state was Henry Ford born?—Interested.

Ans.—This is a very controversial subject, Madame. Opinions also differ as to what state he's in now. Whoops!

—Aunt (Caution) Bella.

• • •

Student body of Columbia University is reported to be up in arms over the poor English used by professors.

First thing you know, they'll be criticising teachers for drinking their gin straight.

• • •

And telling new jokes.

• • •

Milestones on the path to enlightenment:

HOLLYWOOD (Variety)—Mrs. Maya H. Stewart, who at various times has been housekeeper for picture people, intends to go on the air with a weekly program telling all about the home life of the names and what goes on the table.

• • •

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

But madame must realize that the new frocks require one to wear a girdle!

• • •

Skin-up, head-back.

SKIPPY

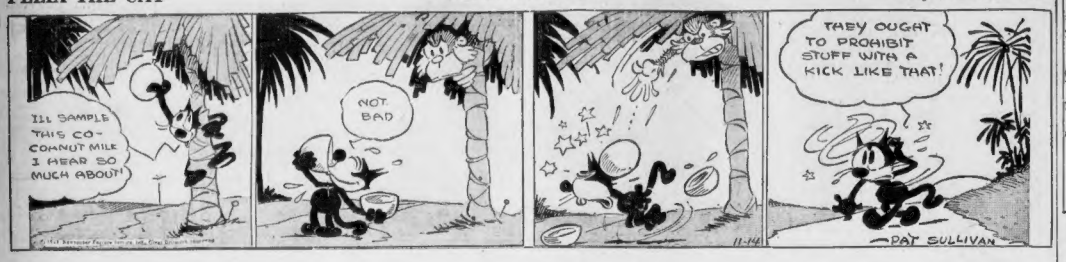
Serving a "Tie"

By Percy Crosby

FELIX THE CAT

A Drink With a "Kick"

By Pat Sullivan

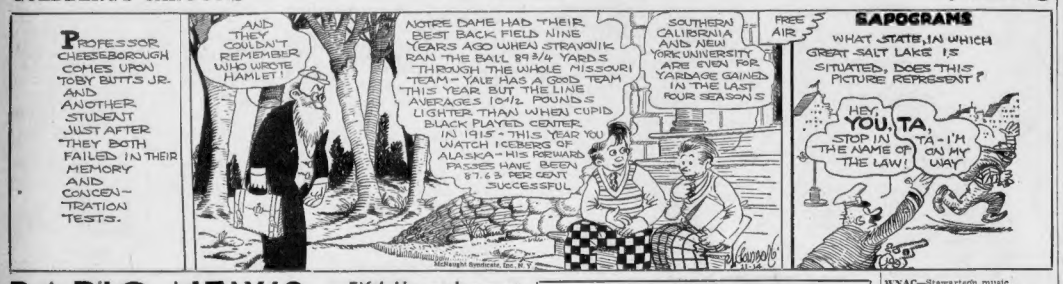


I'll SAMPLE THIS CO-COANUT MILK I HEAR SO MUCH ABOUT!
NOT BAD
THEY OUGHT TO PROHIBIT STUFF WITH A KICK LIKE THAT!
11-14
—PAT SULLIVAN

GOLDBERG'S CAHOONS

That's Life

By Goldberg



PROFESSOR CHEESEBOROUGH COMES UPON TOBY BUTTS JR. AND ANOTHER STUDENT JUST AFTER THEY BOTH FAILED IN THEIR MEMORY AND CONCENTRATION TESTS.
AND THEY COULDN'T REMEMBER WHO WROTE HAMLET!
NOTRE DAME HAD THEIR BEST BACK FIELD NINE YEARS AGO WHEN STRAVINIK RAN THE BALL 89 3/4 YARDS THROUGH THE WHOLE MISSOURI TEAM - YALE HAS A GOOD TEAM THIS YEAR BUT THE LINE AVERAGES 10 1/2 POUNDS LIGHTER THAN WHEN CUPID BLACK PLAYED CENTER. IN 1915 - THIS YEAR YOU WATCH ICEBERGS OR ALASKA - HITS FORWARD PASSES HAVE BEEN 87.63 PER CENT SUCCESSFUL
SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA AND NEW YORK UNIVERSITY ARE EVEN FOR YARDAGE GAINED IN THE LAST FOUR SEASONS
FREE AIR
SAPOGRAMS
WHAT STATE, IN WHICH GREAT SALT LAKE IS SITUATED, DOES THIS PICTURE REPRESENT?
HEY YOU, TA, STOP IN THE NAME OF THE LAW!
TA - I'M ON MY WAY
McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N. Y.

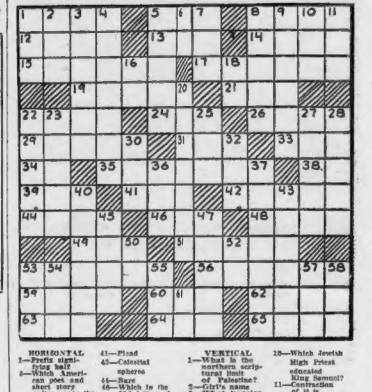
WEDDING BELLS

Costs Him Money, Too!

MOM'S BUSINESS, BILL? HAVE SALES DROPPED OFF?
YES - QUITE A BIT.
BUT I FOUND OUT ADVERTISING HELPS A LOT - ALTHOUGH IT COSTS PLENTY
ADVERTISING COSTS ME A LOT OF MONEY, TOO
SINCE WHEN ARE YOU ADVERTISING? I'VE NEVER SAW YOUR GOODS ADVERTISED
THEY AREN'T.
BUT MY WIFE READS OTHER PEOPLES ADS
11-14
Great Britain rights reserved.
© 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

DAILY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

By Eugene Sheffer



HORIZONTAL

1—Prefix meaning "down"
5—Which American poet and short story writer wrote the "Gold Bug"?
9—Countenance
12—What English river do we associate with Shakespeare
13—A unit
14—Common saltwort
15—The absorption of what treaty caused terrible persecution of the French Huguenots?
17—Which American author wrote "Penrod" and "Penrod and Sam"?
18—Tribulation
21—On account of
22—Pronoun
24—Slight bow
26—Which is the world's second longest river?
28—What English playwright and novelist is the author of "Sir Frednerik"?
31—Spars
33—Spoke of brain
34—Dine indistinctly
36—What is the rank of England's Queen Mary?
38—Which of the four inner satellites of Jupiter discovered by Galileo did he first observe?
39—Which is the highest mountain in Crete?
41—Plaid
43—Celestial spheres
44—Bare
46—Which is the 23rd letter of the Greek alphabet?
48—Lateral part of a church
49—Bones of fish
51—Small fellow
53—Plants bearing aromatic carminative seeds
56—Income aid
58—Chair
59—Objective
60—Counters
61—Cuba (colloq.)
64—A digit
65—Steal

VERTICAL

1—What is the northern scriptural limit of Palestine?
2—Girl's name
3—What Invasion was led by Ghenghis Kaan?
4—Enter arrested
5—What former Georgia city on the Wartne River was once the capitol of ancient Poland?
6—Forward!
7—Poetically, even
8—Which is the largest dirigible in the world?
9—Which Carthaginian statesman wrote "Peter Pan"?
10—Which Jewish High Priest educated King Samuel?
11—Contraction of it is 16—East Indies (abbr.)
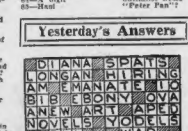
18—From
20—Who was the earliest born American writer of the first rank?
23—What American humorist wrote "Tom Sawyer"?
25—What Arran race is indigenous to India?
27—Female deer
29—Pieces
30—Enrvon
35—What famous German watering place is situated in Hesse-Nassau, Prussia?
37—A verb
39—Young dog
40—Emperor (abbr.)
42—Piping tree which supposed was the Great Wall of China constructed?
45—Bitumen yields
48—Compass point
47—Pronoun
50—Title of the Sultan
52—Pronoun
55—Toward the stern
58—Which poisonous snake do we associate with Cleopatra?
54—Prefix, new
55—Affirmative
57—Hebrew lawgiver
58—An extremity
61—Negative

Yesterday's Answers



Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.

RADIO NEWS

Film Stars Aid President's Drive

By N. F. T.

Boston figured considerably in the radio news this week. John Holbrook grabbed off the coveted diction award and Harvard laid two heavy thumbs on the back of Ted Husing's neck, pressing downward. Boston must never be trifled with and radio rahjahs are coming to realize the fact.

* * *

Turning eyes and ears toward tomorrow, broadcasting holds out another array of celebrities. Motion picture moguls respond this time with a galaxy of talkie stars, eager to lend impetus to President Hoover's campaign for unemployment relief.

* * *

BOTH NATIONAL NETWORKS

Again all chain radio stations of Boston will carry the feature, beginning at 10:15 tomorrow night. Erno Rapee leads a symphony orchestra of 100 pieces, while S. L. (Roxy) Rothapfel acts as master of ceremonies. Both NBC and CBS contribute mixed choruses containing up to 80 voices. Film favorites already secured to take part in the East are Douglas Fairbanks, Nancy Carroll, William Boyd, Eddie Cantor and Harry Richman.

* * *

Then comes switching of controls from East to West. Conrad Nagel officiates in Hollywood, introducing more well known famous screen stars. George Arliss, Maurice Chevalier, John Boles, Marie Dressler, Tom Mix, Bebe Daniels, Irene Dunne, Ann Harding and Jeannette McDonald will be among them. Here's hoping Miss McDonald sings—oh?

* * *

Mid-Western studios will also break in and bring Amos 'n' Andy on, along with Paul Whiteman musickers. Will Hays, monarch of movieland, will deliver a brief address to make known the co-operative spirit of motion pictures as an industry.

* * *

RADIO ON ICE

Hockey takes to the air tonight from WNAC at 10:30. Frank Ryan, speaking to Yankee network stations, rebroadcasts the Boston Bruins-Montreal Maroons game. Telegraphic reports from the Canadian city will be used.

* * *

Don't forget, Mr. Globe Trotter has complete football scores and late news (WAAB) waiting for you at 7 o'clock tonight.

* * *

If that sock crowd doesn't renew the contract of Billy Jones and Ernie Hare, WBZ is going to lose a crackerjack feature. But radio is like that.

* * *

Current indications are that said contract will not be offered these two veterans, that is emphatically too bad.

* * *

Fast and good work marks securing of Harvard broadcasting permission in connection with the Holy Cross fray. Microphones of WAAB were hurriedly installed, and Herb Treat, All-America from Princeton (1922) consented to describe the action. Football enthusiasts of Worcester were slated to learn WORC also carried the last-minute feature.

* * *

LOCAL LATHER

One lady subscriber just called the desk to ask for our "Rodeo Editor who now plans to go down and see the roughriders throwing steers at the Radio Show . . . Alden (WBZ) Redmond has a letter from a fan expecting to become a proud daddy soon . . . Said prospective papa is worried, he already has two kiddies and read once about every third child born being Chinese . . . Aspiring announcers not winning approval through Boston auditions shouldn't be discouraged . . . Lately those who lose out locally manage to catch on at sizeable salaries in New York . . . John Holbrook, for example, just won the 1931 Diction Award . . . Frank (WNAC) Mahler is considering a new console feature he may call "The Talking Organ" . . . Harvard thought Friday the 13th was timely for visiting Yard luck on Ted Husing by banning him from any future broadcasts in Cambridge . . .

Steel Mills Production to Be Boosted Again

Youngstown, O. Nov. 14 (AP)—Steel Mill operations in the Youngstown district will increase next week, for the second consecutive week after a long period of declining activity, it was revealed in operating schedules made public today.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube, which has been operating below the district's general average, will resume production with a blast furnace which has been banked, will operate one more open hearth furnace, and start up sheet mills, one seamless pipe unit, and a skelp mill.

College Women Meet

Lowell, Nov. 14 (AP)—Approximately 200 members of the American Association of University Women met here today in annual convention. State President Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, of Newtonville, presided.

Fifth Unemployment Program Tomorrow

On the Air

Now it's Ted Husing who has adjective trouble. Usually the sponsor is the sole sufferer from that affliction—"My product is the best, wholesome, cleanest, blah, blah, etc."

But the adjective Ted used in describing a Harvard player was of a destructive sort. And look at the publicity he got.

A hint to the sponsor: "My product is awful, useless, and, to use the words of the immortal Husing, 'It's putrid.'" It's selling Husing. Maybe it'll do the same for the sponsor.

Husing always had a mania for using big words. Putrid was a little too big for him.

Calling Barry Wood's passing "putrid" is funny. A shot from him to an end won the game last wk. Husing must have had money on Dartmouth.

Harvard officials are inclined to feel Husing's announcing is worthy of the same adjective.

In the future any game Ted b'dcasts, he should be assisted by Frank Vizatelly, Columbia's walking dictionary.

CBS will send its announcers to Harvard to study English in preparation for next year's football games.

President Hoover and spokesmen of the liberal arts colleges of America will participate in a "college night" rally o'er WEEI at 9 tonight. Pres. Marsh, of B. U., will also speak . . . "Samson and Delilah" is the opera offering this eve. WBZ at 9 . . . Lion Feuchtwanger, noted German author, speaks o'er WAAB at 12:30 tomorrow . . . The M. I. T. Glee Club sings on WEEI at 6:45 this eve . . . Eddie Cantor will cease b'dcasting soon . . . Art Jarrett will be moving 10 a night spot on CBS soon . . . Ranny Weeks, another local lad to be scooped up by the networks . . . Jack Beauvais—the only living crooner who doesn't close his eyes when vocalizing . . . John Holbrook looks like a miniature edition of Noah Beery . . . Willie Morris, go to N. Y. the 23d in an effort to bring home the National Auditions award . . . Henry Kaiis will guest conduct the Coke p'gram the 28th . . . WEEI breaking in a new an'ncer . . . That station's Majoris Mills headed for the altar . . . Looks like McNamee will receive assistance on football b'dcasts. Graham, you know, is a former St. Paul meat wagon driver . . . Whiteman, down to 204½, expects to fit in an Austin soon . . . Myrt and Marge now requiring a cast of 30.

M. G. M.

Evening American on the Air

THE GLOBE TROTTER

of the Boston American and Hearst Metrotone News

A complete radio daily newspaper—75 minutes of news, markets, fashions, features, sports and special entertainment.

213 M.—STATION WAAB—1410 K. C.

259 M.—WORC, Worcester—1290 K. C.

7:45- 8:00 A. M.—CITY EDITION OF THE AIR.
11:00-11:15 A. M.—FEATURE PERIOD.
Mon., Wed. and Friday—Martha Lee's Homemaking Class. Tues. and Thurs.—Ann Arden on Fashions.
Saturday—Feature Forecaster; News; Stock Quotations.
12:00-12:15 P. M.—PEACH EDITION OF THE AIR.
2:45- 3:00 P. M.—SEVEN-STAR EDITION OF THE AIR.
Stock Market Quotations; News Flashes.
7:00- 7:15 P. M.—SEVEN O'CLOCK EDITION OF THE AIR.
News Flashes; Sports Results; Features.

For Those Who Dance

6:00—WAAB—Abrams' Orchestra.
6:30—WAAB—Don Bigelow music.
8:15—WBZ—Joe Rines' music.
8:30—WBZ—Ben Selvin music.
9:00—WAAB—Grove Orchestra.
10:30—WNAC—Alpert Orchestra.
11:15—WBZ—Reisman music.
11:30—WEEI—Coon Sanders' music.
12:00—WNAC—Lombardo music.
12:30—WNAC—Stern Orchestra.

Saturday, November 14

WAAB—Dave Abrams music.
WNAC—News.
WBZ—Sports talk.
WEEI—Football review.
WHDH—Irish Minstrels.
WLOE—Mother Goose Club.
6:15 P. M.
WNAC—Variety Revue.
WBZ—Circus Parade.
WEEI—Payne and Esty.
6:30 P. M.
WAAB—Don Bigelow Orchestra.
WBZ—Pals.
WEEI—Piano; news.
WHDH—News.
WLOE—Modernesrs.
6:45 P. M.
WAAB—Connie Boswell.
WNAC—Collegians.
WBZ—Topics in Brief.
WEEI—Liberal Arts program.
7:00 P. M.
WAAB—American Globe Trotter.
WNAC—Washington Political Situation.
WBZ—Amos 'n' Andy.
7:15 P. M.
WAAB—Soprano Recital.
WNAC—Bing Crosby.
WBZ—Jesters.
WEEI—Jack Beauvais.
7:30 P. M.
WAAB—Dess' Orchestra.
WNAC—Reis and Dunn.
WBZ—Ed MacHugh, baritone.
WEEI—Alice Joy.
WLOE—Radio Gang.
7:45 P. M.
WNAC—Quarter-hour.
WBZ—Grenadiers.
WEEI—Recital.
8:00 P. M.
WAAB—Gossipers.
WNAC—Mills Brothers.
WBZ—McElnelly music.
WEEI—Chronicles.
8:15 P. M.
WAAB—Criterions.
WNAC—Abe Lyman Band.
WBZ—Joe Rines music.
8:30 P. M.
WAAB—Hawaiian Echoes.

Ten High Spots

6:15—WBZ—Circus Parade.
7:00—WNAC—Political Situation.
7:45—WBZ—Greatest Lover.
8:30—WEEI—Radio in Education.
8:45—WAAB—"Tip" O'Neill.
9:00—WEEI—President Hoover.
9:30—WEEI—Night Club.
10:00—WAAB—Show Boat.
10:30—WNAC—Hockey reports.
11:30—WAAB—Pitt-Army ball.

Boston Stations

Kilocycles		Meters
1410	WAAB	213
1250	WNAC	244
990	WBZ	303
890	WEEI	508
1500	WLOE	200
930	WHDH	361
820	WBSO	366

WNAC—Bert Lown Orchestra.
WBZ—Ben Selvin music.
WEEI—Radio in Education.
WLOE—Dekerators.
8:45 P. M.
WAAB—Getting the news while the public sleeps, Francis P. (Tip) O'Neill.
WNAC—Gloom Chasers.
9:00 P. M.
WAAB—Musical program.
WNAC—Solomon Orchestra.
WBZ—Chicago Opera.
WEEI—President Hoover.
WLOE—Bennadit Musical.
9:30 P. M.
WAAB—Radio Forum.
WNAC—Organ.
WBZ—First Nighter.
WEEI—Saturday Night Club.
10:00 P. M.
WAAB—Show Boat.
WNAC—Alpert Orchestra.
WBZ—Cuckoo.
WEEI—Dance orchestra.
10:30 P. M.
WNAC—Hockey game reports.
WBZ—Clara, Lu and Em.
10:45 P. M.
WBZ—Piano.
11:00 P. M.
WAAB—News.
WNAC—Organ.
WBZ—Hockey game reports.
WEEI—(11:08) News.
11:15 P. M.
WAAB—Jack Miller.
WNAC—News.
WBZ—Reisman Orchestra.
WEEI—Don Humbert.
11:30 P. M.
WAAB—Pittsburgh-Army ball.
WNAC—Stewartsch music.
WEEI—Coon-Sanders music.
12:00 MID.
WNAC—Guy Lombardo music.
WBZ—Bewitching Hour.
12:30 A. M.
WNAC—Stern music.
1:00 A. M.
WNAC—Siele Orchestra.
1:30 A. M.
WNAC—Dance music to 3 a. m.

Outside Stations

WEAN—Providence.. 780 Kil.
384 M.
WJAR—Providence .. 890 Kil.
337 K.
WORC—Worcester .. 1200 Kil.
250 M.
WTAG—Worcester .. 580 Kil.
517 M.
WCSH—Portland .... 940 Kil.
319 M.

4:00 P. M.
WEAN—Globe Trotter's news.
WJAR—News; Williams' Orchestra.
WORC—Abrams' Orchestra.
WTAG—Ensemble.
WCSH—Variety program.
5:15 P. M.
WEAN—Variety hour.
5:30 P. M.
WJAR—Mr. Boston and Company.
WORC—Bigelow Orchestra.
WTAG—Variety.
WCSH—News; studio program.
5:45 P. M.
WEAN—Lessons Orchestra.
WORC—Connie Boswell.
6:00 P. M.
WEAN—Washington Political Situation.
WJAR—Nick Lucas.
WORC—American Globe Trotter.
WTAG—Nick Lucas.
WCSH—John Fogarty, tenor.
6:15 P. M.
WEAN—Sing Crosby.
WJAR—Lawn Safeguarding Society.
WORC—Sing Crosby.
WTAG—Lawn Safeguarding Society.
WCSH—Lawn Safeguarding Society.
6:30 P. M.
WEAN—Reis and Dunn.
WJAR—Sing Joy.
WORC—Reis and Dunn.
WTAG—Alice Joy.
WCSH—Alice Joy.
6:45 P. M.
WEAN—Quarter-hour, Morton Downey.
WJAR—Recital.
WORC—Quarter-hour, Morton Downey.
WCSH—Waverly Philosopher.
7:00 P. M.
WEAN—Mills Brothers.
WJAR—Civic concert.
WORC—Mills Brothers.
WTAG—Bancroft Orchestra.
WCSH—Civic concert.
7:15 P. M.
WEAN—Abe Lyman Band.
WORC—Dance music.
WTAG—Dance music.
WCSH—Recital.
7:30 P. M.
WEAN—Solomon Orchestra.
WJAR—Radio in Education.
WORC—Solomon Orchestra.
WTAG—Radio in Education.
WCSH—Radio in Education.
7:45 P. M.
WEAN—Gloom Chasers.
WORC—Gloom Chasers.
8:00 P. M.
WEAN—Solomon Orchestra.
WJAR—Radio in Education.
WORC—Solomon Orchestra.
WTAG—Radio in Education.
WCSH—President Hoover.
8:15 P. M.
WEAN—Radio Forum.
WJAR—Saturday Night Club.
WORC—Radio Forum.
WTAG—Saturday Night Club.
WCSH—Concert Orchestra.
8:30 P. M.
WEAN—Show Boat.
WJAR—Arnheim Orchestra.
WORC—Show Boat.
WTAG—Dance Orchestra.
WCSH—Dance Orchestra.
11:00 P. M.
WEAN—Cuban music; Jack Miller.
WJAR—News; organ.
WORC—News; Jack Miller.
WTAG—News.
WCSH—News.
11:30 P. M.
WEAN—Stewartsch Orchestra.
WJAR—Coon-Sanders music.
WORC—Belasco Orchestra.
11:45 P. M.
WORC—Noctilucent.
12:00 Mdn.
WEAN—Dance music to 3 a. m.

WNAC—Boston

Evening Features Broadcast by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Steel Mills Production to Be Boosted Again

Youngstown, O. Nov. 14 (AP)—Steel Mill operations in the Youngstown district will increase next week, for the second consecutive week after a long period of declining activity, it was revealed in operating schedules made public today.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube, which has been operating below the district's general average, will resume production with a blast furnace which has been banked, will operate one more open hearth furnace, and start up sheet mills, one seamless pipe unit, and a skelp mill.

College Women Meet

Lowell, Nov. 14 (AP)—Approximately 200 members of the American Association of University Women met here today in annual convention. State President Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, of Newtonville, presided.

Three-Minute Journeys

By TEMPLE MANNING

WILD ZUMPERI

Near the border of Nigeria, that vast tract in West Africa belonging to the British, are to be found a strange, almost fantastic tribe of people called the Zumperi. Few white people have ever penetrated to their native villages, but for indefatigable wanderers and lovers of the bizarre there are few more fascinating regions on the face of the earth.

One of the ghastly tokens of these tribes' former cannabilistic appetites—a place of skulls—is to be found in every village. But today the skulls and remains of small game are set up upon sticks.

Perhaps the outstanding characteristic of the Zumperi is their faith in magic. These primitive people set up sticks and other objects to protect them against the forces of nature and marauding animals. A part of babies' heads are shaved to shield them from the spells of black magic.

No more mentally primitive tribes than the Zumperi could be imagined. They seem to have no conception of how to measure time. They do not know how long ago events in their daily lives happened nor, for that matter their age. Similarly, they seem unable to reckon distance except by saying such and such a place is so many sleeps away.

They believe in a God that is both creator and destroyer and manifests his power over everything—animals, plants and stones.

No white man has ever been able to find out whether these strange tribes believe in the immortality of the soul, but it is known that they think the wicked are transformed into reptiles. To them the buffalo is the symbol of death and destruction.

The country, in general, yields a living only after the most persistent cultivation but there are here and there spots—for instance the settlement at Lisaam—which is situated in a valley among oil palms.

As is the case among almost all primitives, one of the Zumperi's chief means of making merry is the dance. Whenever a leopard is killed by the braves of the tribe a lengthy celebration follows. The dancers wear masks and sometimes don costumes resembling eagles.

Other men act in the dance as hunters and a pantomime in which the birds are killed is staged to the accompaniment of rattling and drumming on the crude instruments the natives have made for themselves.

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.

Port of Boston News

By GEORGE HAMBLIN

The entire waterfront, especially the residents of East Boston, greeted with cheers the action of the Legislature in approving the appropriation of $60,000 to clean up the waterfront along the shores of Chelsea Creek.

Long considered rat and germ breeders, the combined efforts of everyone connected with the waterfront were necessary to bring about the abolition of these hulks.

When the State Ways and Means committee voted against the appropriation, all was considered lost. But, with the two-fold advantage resulting, that of helping the unemployed, and ridding the section of the eye sore, the Legislature went ahead and granted Gov. Ely's wishes.

An additional reason why the hulks should be removed was advanced by the Maritime Association, through its manager, Frank S. Davis, who claimed that the $20,000,000 investment of Boston Harbor should be protected under any and all conditions, for the revival of these derelicts was the first step.

BYRON SAILS

Despite the high cross winds, the steamer Byron, of the National Steam Navigation Company, docked at Commonwealth pier, without the aid of tugs.

Coming from New York, the Byron was faced with the almost impossible task of berthing at 6 A. M. and of the pier with the stiff northwest wind sweeping across the harbor.

After taking 100 passengers, the Byron showed off for Patras and Piraeus, Greece.

ROLFE CRUISES

E. A. Rolfe, orchestra leader and radio star, was among the passengers aboard the Panama Pacific Line steamer Virginia which sailed from New York for Los Angeles today.

Included among the local passengers were William Briggs; Charles S. Caldwell of Sharon; Miss Mabel Dallen, Miss A. W. Crosby and Miss Alice Sproul of Auburndale; Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Miss Ruth Lee and Peggy O'Brien of West Medford, and A. E. Dickinson of Pittsburg.

WHITE RETIRES

Capt. E. R. White of the White Star line fleet will retire at the end of the year, it was learned here today. Capt. White leaves his post on the Majestic and will be succeeded by Capt. J. G. Trant, at present on the Olympic.

Commander J. W. Binks, now on the Adriatic, will move to the Olympic. Commander Evan Davies of the Baltic will also retire. Capt. Huma of the Laurentic taking his place.

FISH ARRIVALS

Vessels	Had'k Lord M. and Mis'd	Mis'd	Total
Boy Mist	17,000	10,000	9,000	34,000
Miss N	4,000	1,000		5,000
Admiral	4,000	500		4,500
Exeter	12,000	1,500		13,500
Commander	15,000	3,000	6,000	24,000
Adventure	25,000	4,000	15,000	42,000
Wanderer	23,000	4,000	9,000	36,000
Ruth Lucille, 8000 haddock, 15,000 scrod.
Wholesale delivery prices: L. cod, 6-8c lb; mkt. 3½-4½c; haddock, 7½-8½c; pollock, 2½c; hake and cusk, 4-5c; grey sole, 10-11c; flounders, 3-8c.

ARRIVED

NIEL MAERSK (Dan), 1,000 (M. S.), Hollis, Inc. Dockage, 1 berth 4, Army Base pier 1.

C. A. CANFIELD, Aruba, with oil for Mexican Gulf Refining Co., docked at Lombard's Dock.

MARSEER (Br.), Calcutta, etc., with merchandise in Cunard Co. Docked at Cunard pier, Boston.

PORTMAR, from Seattle, Grays Harbor, Portland and Astoria, and Coos, with lumber to Moore & McCormack Inc. Docked at Wood Terminal.

QUINCY, Nelson, Baltimore, with coal, docked at Mystic coal pier.

ROBERT E. LEE, Breckenridge, New York, with molasses and a cargo of general to Eastern S. S. Lines, Inc. At Castle wharf.

WYOMING, Calais, Philadelphia, with merchandise and residuals & mdse. to Transportation Co. At pier 2, South Boston.

CITY OF SAVANNAH, Crosby, New York, with merchandise and passengers to Eastern S. S. Lines, Inc. Docked at Lewis wharf.

LENAPE (tug), Darricksen, towing barge Tompki, Portland for Philadelphia, with lumber. At Wood Terminal.

MELROSE (tug), Portland for Philadelphia.

SAILED

ROSECLIFF, Wilmington, N. C., with MALTRAN, Sampson.

DRAKE (tug), Portland, towing barge Cities Service No. 2.

HARRY BROWN, Beverly, towing barges Mahoning (then to Lynn, to assist steamer MARY BONNER to sea.

ALLEGHANY, Baltimore via Norfolk.

CHINA MERCHANT, Boston, with ballast.

CITIES SERVICE BOSTON, New York

CITY OF SAVANNAH, Savannah via Norfolk.

DALMORE (Br.), Santos.

ESTHER, Rio Janeiro and Santos via New York.

ROBERT E. LEE, San Francisco via Philadelphia and New York.

WYOMING, New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore.

ROBERT E. LEE, New York.

WILLIAM N. PAGE, Norfolk.

MARSEER, Boston.

LENAPE (tug), Philadelphia, towing barges Tompkinsville (from Portland), and Tony Maloney, New Bedford for Mingo.

GRACE DOLLAR, Seattle.

INGORO, Philadelphia and New York.

Children's Books
Authors at Jordan's

Children's Book Week officially opens at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Jordan Marsh Co.'s when four authors of children's books will make personal appearances.

The four are: Rachel Field, who will be the John Newbery medal, 2 to 2:45 p. m.; Barbara and Beatrice Brown, 2:45 to 3:30 p. m., and Russell Carter, author of prize-winning scout stories the 3:45 to 5 p. m.

Birth—Marriage—Death Notices

In this column $1.00 for the first four lines or less, 25c each additional line. Notices may be mailing to the Classified Dept., or telephoned to Liberty 0000.

Births

LYMAN—In Mt. and Mrs. Joseph Lyman, at the Faulkner Hospital, Nov. 10, a daughter.

COMEAU—In Mr. and Mrs. Meds Comeau, 20 Regent St., Waltham, Nov. 9, a daughter.

Deaths

BENOIT—In Braintree, Nov. 12, at his late home, Ave., Alphonse Benoit, 73. Funeral services private. Interment at the Village cemetery. Relatives and friends invited.

BRADLEY—In Medford, Annie A. (nee Devlin), widow of William F. Bradley, on Wednesday, Nov. 11. Funeral and requiem mass at St. Lawrence's Church, Medford, Saturday, Nov. 14, at 9 a. m. Interment at Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline. Friends at 9 a. m.

CROWELL—In Somerville, Nov. 11, Percy C. Crowell of Pine (Dealer) Grove, Mass. Funeral services at his home, 43 Greenville st., Somerville, Saturday, at 2:30 p. m.

DONAHOE—In Jamaica Plain, Nov. 12, Margaret Dolores, beloved husband of Margaret Donahoe (nee Fahey), of 3 Sheridan Terrace home, 36 Sheridan St., Monday, Nov. 16, at 8 a. m. Requiem high mass at the church of the Blessed Sacrament at 9 a. m.

DONAN—In Boston, Nov. 11, Mildred Donan, beloved daughter of Anna Donan. Funeral services at her late residence, 18 Florence St., Saturday, Nov. 14, at 8:30 a. m. Requiem high mass at Our Lady of Pompeii Church, Prince St., at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

FOLEY—In Woburn, Mass., Nov. 12, Martin J., beloved son of the late Thomas and Susan Hayes Foley, husband of Mary Foley, son-in-law of Mrs. Catherine Hayes, brother of Thomas, Saturday, Nov. 14, at 9 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Charles Church, Woburn, at 10:45 a. m. Interment at Calvary Cemetery. Relatives and friends invited.

GEORGE—Of 24 Appleton St., Malden, Nov. 12, Mary A. (Welch), widow of Samuel W. George, aged 79 years. Services at her late home, Saturday, Nov. 14, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Burial in Woodlawn Cemetery, Malden.

GOLDEN—In Newton, Nov. 13, Prof. Joseph Golden, aged 70 years. Funeral from the W. H. Thomas funeral chapel, 941 Beacon St., Mon., at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

GORMAN—In Medford, Nov. 12, Mary Gorman (nee Hayes), beloved wife of the late William Gorman, mother of Mrs. Catherine Medford. Funeral notice later.

HARRINGTON—In Jamaica Plain, Nov. 13, Mary Ellen Harrington, daughter of the late Maurice Harrington and the late Mary Ann Harrington and sister of Patrick J., Timothy and Maurice Harrington. Funeral from her late residence, 91 Seaverns Ave., Jamaica Plain, Monday, Nov. 16, at 8:30 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Joseph's Church, Auburn St., at 9 a. m. Interment at Calvary Cemetery. Relatives and friends invited.

HARTFORD—In Boston, Nov. 11, Fred T. Hartford, aged 57 years. Funeral services at the J. F. Cunningham Co., 1859 Washington St., Monday, Nov. 16, at 1 p. m. Interment private.

HAYES—In Woburn, Mrs. Fran-ces S. Hill, daughter of Richard and Mary Delaney.

JOHNSON—In Mattapan, Nov. 11, Sophia Johnson, beloved mother of the late John F. and Elizabeth A. Johnson (nee Collins), sister of Mrs. Margaret Hanbrother, William A. Johnson, 2 Pine-crest St., Saturday, Nov. 14, at 8:30 a. m. Funeral later. Relatives and friends respectfully invited.

MACINTOSH—In Rochester, New York, Nov. 12, Rose Macintosh. Funeral services and interment at Providence, Mass., on Sunday, November 15th.

MCKWELL—In Islington, Nov. 12, Charity L., widow of the late Alfred H. Maxwell, funeral from her late residence 150 Washington st., Saturday, Nov. 14, at 2 p. m.

MCCREKEN—In Roxbury, Nov. 12, John, beloved husband of the late Ellen Custer (nee Houghton) and father of Sister Rose, Order of Notre Dame. Funeral from his late residence, 84 Fisher Ave., Saturday, Nov. 14, at 9:30. Solemn high mass of requiem at Mission Church at 10:30 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited. Kindly omit flowers. Interment at Holyhood Cemetery. Arr. C. F. Donnelly & Sons Co.

MURPHY—In Florence, Mass., 13th inst. Mrs. Margaret Murphy of 19 Prescott St., Florence. Funeral Saturday morning.

NICKERSON—In Reading, Nov. 11, Eva B. Nickerson, Services at the Edgerly & Benson Funeral Home, 15 Main St., Reading, Mass., Monday, Nov. 16, at 10 a. m. Interment at Warren, Maine.

PRESCOTT—In Brookline, Nov. 11, Eva M. Prescott, Commonwealth Ave., p. h. class (formerly of Dorchester), widow of Ernest W. Prescott. Services at the Church of the Williamson Funeral Home, 172 Brighton Ave., Allston, Saturday, Nov. 14, at 2 p. m.

STARWOOD—In Allston, Nov. 12, Carrie E. (Cudd), widow of Franc O. Starwood, aged 78 years. Services at 373 Brighton Ave., Allston, Saturday, Nov. 14, at 2 p. m.

THACHER—In Somerville, Nov. 12, Nellie M., wife of William F. Thacher. Services at her late residence, 24 Summer St., Nov. 15, at 2:30 p. m.

WAITT—In Boston, Nov. 12, Dr. Joseph E., beloved husband of Nelia G. Waitt, son of the late Joseph and Ann Waitt. Services, Sunday, Nov. 15, at 1:30 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Flowers to Arlington Street Church.

WALKER—In Arlington, Nov. 12, John J., formerly of 62 Marathon St., husband of the late Josephine Rooney Walker. Funeral from the chapel of Joseph H. Rock-well, 127 Massachusetts Ave., Saturday, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Mass at 10 o'clock at Sacred Heart Church, Union. Local 82.

WOODBURY—In Beverly, Nov. 13, Charles E., Woodbury of Newton, age 71 years, 11 months. Funeral services at his late home, 18 Florence St., Monday, Nov. 16, at 2 p. m. Interment private. Relatives and friends are invited.

Boston Lodge, No. 10, B. P. O. Elks

Order Your Thanksgiving Turkey From Bencks Bros.
Hi-Grade Groceries. Fresh Provisions
167 A St., Boston. Liberty 0000

Roaches, Bedbugs, Rats

Safti-Fume Destroys Moths, Germs
Quick, Safe, Guaranteed Method. Safety Fumigant Co. 29 India St. Hub. 0624

Owner Going West

Fine heating service furniture; safety 1617-J.

Monuments

THEO. J. CRAIG, Monuments
Cemetery Lettering a Specialty
1075 Saving. 578 Water St., Quincy, Mass.

Funeral Directors

J. S. Waterman & Sons
Funeral Directors
497 Commonwealth Ave., Boston

Lost and Found

FOUND BY POLICE

Black tool box necklace; pair of glasses; red bicycle; bunch of keys; sum of money. Can be had Saturday, Nov. 14, 9 a. m.

ANTIQUE white hand cameo pin, lost, Saturday, Nov. 7. Liberal reward. Write Boston American A-113.

BRINDLE and white female Boston Terrier, lost, vicinity Dorchester Ave. Call 2838-R.

FEMALE Boston Terrier, lost 3 weeks ago, Roxbury. "Tytie." Reward. High-lands 2645.

GLASSES in dark case lost Nov. 5, Wavertree, Brookline. Boston; reward. Belmont 2648-W.

LOST—Male collie, 10 months; brown, white two-color; answers to collie; liberal reward. P. Phillips, 182 Fuller St., Milton 2082.

LOST—Black and white Eskimo puppy; male, 2 months old; red collar. If found call Parkway 0748; reward.

LOST—Female Fox Terrier, male. Reward $5 Mon.-T. Arlington 3492.

LOST—Gold-rimmed lorgnette, Nov. 10, shopping district; reward. Park 3720-W

LOST your dog? Phone Animal Rescue League, 76 Carver St., Hancock 0170.

Real Estate

Houses for Sale

$250 Down—Move In

This new 4-room home in Westwood. Extremely modern and well built. Has steam heater, breakfast nook, hardwood floors, all gas kitchen with porcelain sink and built-in cabinets. Only $12,500 at 10,000 sq. ft. of high and dry land. Excellent train service and auto route to Boston. Offered by owner at 30 Harvard Ave., N. W. Dayton, 145 Washington St., Boston, or call Hancock 4560 or Norwood 1635.

BARGAINS

WE HAVE MANY BARGAINS in single and multi-family homes in every section of Metropolitan Boston that we have taken back under their mortgage placement rent or actual value. If you are looking for a home or investment and see our list and let us show you what we have. We are sure to have something on our list that will be of interest to you.

WARREN F. FREEMAN

WARREN F. FREEMAN, JR.
15 State St., Boston. Liberty 8260
Evenings and SUNDAY OFFICE
1785 Centre St., Cor. Willow St.
Parkway 2010

Newton Bargain

4 CHAMBERS, 2 baths, great living, music quarters, large living room, dining room, fireplace in beautiful inlaid rubber-tile floor; 1-2-acre landscaped grounds; all new, fireplaces; convenient, exclusive; owner must sell; $9,000. OPEN TODAY at 610 Centre St., Newton. Builder will accept reputable offer on this beautiful home for $8,500 on easy terms. Architect's and builder's material featured. Robert B. Praetsch, Needham 0307-R.

IN DEDHAM
8 Room Single $500

Don't listen to rent your ability to buy. A responsible party can get a real bargain. Hall entry model; fireplace living room; large dining room; fireplace, cement walk. Convenient to Dedham Square. Call Dedham 0194 Bank, Needham. Tel. 1126 Evenings.

HOTEL—BACK BAY

Handy to Copley Square and Back Bay Station; has 31 sunny rooms; also 2 store rooms; steam heating plant, all hardwood floors; all rooms have hot water; furnished; will sell for $3500 down, balance in first mortgage at 5½%; owner has property, furnishings and business. Address Boston American A-102

Houses for Sale

IDEAL HOME

Finest location in South Weymouth, 2 miles to all rapid transit; 7 rooms, tiled bathroom, beamed ceilings, built-in features, hardwood floors, oil burner, large grounds, well landscaped. For terms and Farms see WILLIAM L. DOTT, 24 Pleasant st., South Weymouth. Tel. 1000.

46 DWIGHT ST.

BOSTON

Four-story brick house, 4 baths; included in Commonwealth Ave. p. h. st. class (formerly of Dorchester); widow of Ernest W. Prescott. Services at the Church of the Williamson Funeral Home, 172 Brighton Ave., Allston, Saturday, Nov. 14, at 2 p. m.

OWNER MUST SELL

Beautiful 7-room single in West Roxbury, every improvement. Bargain. Parkway 2564-W.

TEWKSBURY COTTAGE $425

19,648 sq. ft. land with unfinished cottage, near Shawsheen River, surrounded by pine trees; terms. Call Real Estate 2056.

FOR SALE

4-Family house in South End; $2300. Call Commonwealth 4816.

SHARON CAMP LOTS, $695; $1 DOWN

$50 weekly. Honey back guarantee with deed. Free transportation. Free lunch. Office open daily and Sunday. Phone or write PHILIP ARONSON, 136 St. Main St., SHARON

Owner Going West

Fine heating service furniture; safety 1617-J.

Help Wanted—Female

ATTRACTIVE YOUNG LADY

Wanted for part-time work as costume model. Positively no canvassing. Apply Saturday morning between 9 and 11 and Monday morning between 9 and 11, 583 Boylston St., Boston.

ARTISTS

To design greeting cards; good opportunity. Baton Art Studio, 120 Tremont St.

MAGIC TYPE SHOPPE

Shoes and bags dyed to match any sample. 378 Tremont St.

Help Wanted—Female

ATTRACTIVE YOUNG LADY

Wanted for part-time work as costume model. Positively no canvassing. Apply Saturday morning between 9 and 11 and Monday morning between 9 and 11, 583 Boylston St., Boston.

ARTISTS

To design greeting cards; good opportunity. Baton Art Studio, 120 Tremont St.

MAGIC TYPE SHOPPE

Shoes and bags dyed to match any sample. 378 Tremont St.

Help Wanted—Male

SALESMEN

by an old established firm doing nationwide business; splendid opportunity; salary; type; travel; booking social; civic clubs for entertainment; men now employed may be interested; professionally coached; salary and commission; write at once, Arthur Jr. Rogers, Statler Hotel, Boston.

BOOTBLACK can take orders for inner soles, shoes, trunk and ornamental trees; pay weekly. Call evenings, Roxbury 0094.

HOUSEKEEPER

WANTED a man with wife to take charge with auto privileges. Phone Com. 1141.

Agents—Salesmen

ADVERTISING salesmen to sell time on eight broadcasting stations. Apply W. F. Torrey, Room 309, 25 Huntington Ave. Hours 9 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 3 p. m.

CALIFORNIA Perfumed Seals selling like hot cakes. Agents earning money. Big profits. Catalog free. Mission Factory, 2-18, 3258 West Pico, Los Angeles, Calif.

Business Prop. for Sale

FOR SALE, fixtures in good business location, rooms $300 month; $37,000. Inquire 86 Harvard Ave., Allston. Bra. 1343.

Lots for Sale

15 FRUIT TREES GO WITH

15x111 coarse feet of land; full grown trees make beautiful backyard; 3 Railway Centre and Concord River; boating, bathing and fishing centre; $1,000 cash; inspection; terms. Call West Newton 3266.

½ Acre $49

Reading, 5 minutes' walk to station; regular bus line to Reading depot; choice of 16 fruit trees. 15 now set. Tel. Aspinwall 1274.

LUCERNE-IN-MAINE OWNERS

Limited number can trade their equity to advantage locally. Call Regent 6904.

Farms and Land for Sale

EQUIPPED FARMS, business chances; catalog free. Strout Agency, 815B Old South Bldg., Boston. Lib. 7235.

Houses for Rent

WINTHROP—10 rooms (or 5-5 rooms), garage; near depot; pleasant views. Write 109 Milton ave., Dorchester. Bit. 8516.

Rooms for Housekeeping

ALLSTON—Garden St., 34, well heated rooms, one with kitchenette; free parking.

ARLINGTON—Pleasant, sunny rooms and kitchen, handy location; garage extra. Arlington 2433.

ARLINGTON—3-3 furnished rooms for light housekeeping; $6 and $7 weekly.

ARLINGTON—19 Avon Pl., front room and kitchen; handy location. Ari. 2825.

BEACON ST., 1017—Sunny, heated, private, private bath, combination range, $7. Kenmore 2646.

BEACON ST., 817—Steam-heated, well furnished rooms; private baths; also inlaid rubber-tile floor; 1-2-acre landscaped grounds; fine neighborhood; convenient, exclusive; owner must sell; $9,000. OPEN TODAY at 610 Centre st., Newton. Builder will accept reputable offer on this beautiful home for $8,500 on easy terms. Architect's and builder's material featured. Robert B. Praetsch, Needham 0307-R.

BEACON ST., 850—Newly furnished rooms; private bath, also kitchenette apartment.

BROOKLINE—111 Westbourne Ter.; 4-5 furnished rooms; private bath; $40; parking space, handy location. Reg. 2297.

CAMBRIDGE—Harvard Sq., furnished apartment, 3 rooms and kitchenette, combination range, heat, gas, electric refrigerator; space for car. Univ. 6575-W.

CAMBRIDGE, furnished rooms for light housekeeping, heat, reasonable. Porter 3766-R.

CAMBRIDGE—2 rooms furnished for light housekeeping, hot and cold water, heated, reasonable. Porter 8161-M.

DORCHESTER, 10 Hiancha St.—Furnished 3 rooms for housekeeping. Talbot 8023.

JAMAICA PLAIN—Furnished 3-room kitchenette, heated; handy location. Jam. 2107-R.

MASS. AVE., 479 — Furnished front room and kitchenette, heated, $4.50. Circle 0239.

ROXBURY—1, 2 3-room suites, reasonable. Dudley 0756.

ROXBURY—Basement, 3 sunny, heated rooms, imps. 37 Woodville St. Hig. 6224.

ELEGANTLY furnished large room, 2 closets, twin beds, private bath, telephone, kitchenette privileges, automatic heater. Aspinwall 1870.

$9 TREMONT ST.—Sunny back parlor, $4; housekeeping room, $5; one-room kitchenette, $6; steam heat. Gen. 0643.

NEWTON—Single, 16 Davis Ave., furnished rooms, meals optional; 20 min. from Park St. Subway. Newton 1722-W.

NEAR COOLIDGE CORN.—Large suite room, twin beds, excellent meals. Adv. 0041.

Children to Board

NURSE would like infant to board, excellent care. Everett 1741-W.

WANTED—Child to board, 2 years or over; good home. Call Dedham 1855-R.

WANTED—Small child from birth; reasonable; good home. Call Lynn 264-W.

WANTED—Infant, or child to board. Mrs. Smith, 343 Central Ave., Everett.

WANTED—Child to board, between 2-3 years; good home. $5. Porter 5838-W.

WILL board child; good care; other children; lovely home. Ari. 3072-M.

Offices—Stores

MANUFACTURING SPACE

Large and small space, steam heat, elevator service; will subdivide; rates reasonable. Apply G. W. Booth, 5 Sherman St., Charlestown, near Sullivan Sq.; Charlestown 2345.

Fuel

COKE $11.50 TON

COAL—$11.50 PEA TON—COAL.
167 A St., Boston. Liberty 0000

COKE

A Pierce Brand. $11.50 Per Ton
Delivered Within City Limits
Charlestown Coke Co. Sul. 2120

COAL $9.50

Reading coal; best for boilers, was $11.50 per ton; now $9.50. Reading 0300.

EVERETT COKE $12 PER TON

All sizes, prompt delivery. Everett 1144.

W. ROXBURY COKE All sizes $15.00 per ton PARKWAY 4215-W

Furniture

RUGS, rugs, rugs; factory prices, all sizes, all kinds; Whittalls Wilton seconds, Axminsters, Chigagos, Anglo-Persian to be sold at once for cash. Whittalls Wilton seconds, Axminsters, Chigagos, Anglo-Persian to be sold at once for cash. Phone Malden 7351.

Manufacturers' Sale of Upholstered Suites. In mohair, tapestries, friezes—all colorings—suites that sell for less than wholesale prices, from $44 to $225. Cash or terms. Open evenings. Kenmore 7911.

SOME exquisite custom built solid mahogany pieces, dining room, living room, bedroom, cedar chest, etc.; phone evenings and Sunday, University 4461.

ALL kinds of household furniture and stoves bought. Gar. 3130 or Milton 2066.

Clothing

BIG WATER SALE

Suits—Topcoats—Overcoats
Worth $18, $20, $25. Now $7.95, $9.75, $12.75; $15, $16.75
SPECIAL—Tuxedo Coats, $5.
Washington Street—3d
Open Evenings Till 9—Arlington Till 11 P. M.

MEN'S SUITS—OVERCOATS

Tailored by finest Boston craftsmen. Slightly used, value to $75. $5.00
Rare Bargains, $10, $15, $20
Hats, Furnishings, 3 min. from Subway. Bates, 3 min. from Subway.

Situations Wanted—Female

Experienced Mother's Helper

desires position. Can take complete care of babe. 219 Wash. Arlington 0194-J.

Don't say, "It can't be done," until you've tried it Want Ad.

Furnished Apartments

BROOKLINE

Heated apartment, 4 modern rooms, reasonable rent. Will furnish for responsible party; also will rent for two-year lease. Apply 237 Rawson Rd., Fenno Beacon 2099 or Hubbard 1931.

Unfurnished Apartments

THREE-ROOM SUITES Between Beacon St. and Somerville Ave.

NEW SUITES, tiled bath, free refrigeration, closets, large sunny rooms; rents $66.25. See Janitor on premises or telephone 21 Main Ave., Room 3, Beacon St.

ARTHUR P. PEARCE, JR.
15 State Street Hubbard 4300

BRAND NEW APARTMENTS
BELL ROCK MANOR
34 Main St., Malden, Mass.

All modern conveniences, with or without garage. Apply to janitor on premises, or call LIBERTY 0926.

WEST ROXBURY

5 rooms, garage, $70, in the finest 2-family house in West Roxbury, set in Church St., handy to everything. Parkway 4000.

ALLSTON—FREE RENT

December 1

4-5 rooms, $28-$30; newly decorated. Call Suite 2, 20 Oliver St., phone Lib. 8439.

BACK BAY—Cool weather ahead. All the heat and hot water you want. 6-room suite reduced to $45. 157-B Newbury Ave. Circle 0239.

BRIGHTON—Modern upper 4 rooms, fireplace, rent reduced. Central location. Unlimited heat.

BROOKLINE — Small apartments for young people. Rent reasonable. Excellent housekeeping facilities; reasonable. 266 Washington St. Regent 2961.

CAMBRIDGE—1 Dave Court, off Blackstone st., 5-6 rooms, gas, electricity, bath, children allowed. 227 Putnam Ave., Uni. 0134.

CAMBRIDGE NORTH—Between Porter-Harvard Sq.; modern 5 rooms, $33. Por. 6134-J.

CAMBRIDGE—On Huron Ave., 8 rooms, all impts. Inc. floor. Porter 2616-R.

CAMBRIDGE—Near Central, sunny, 5 large, airy rooms, modern, $35. Uni. 1366.

CAMBRIDGE—2 rooms, frigidaire; 3-4 rooms, up to date; low rentals. Por. 6437-J.

CHARLESTOWN—$35. 5 fine, sunny rooms, steam heated. Other apartments.

CHARLESTOWN—6 rooms, bath, electricity, $5 week. 24 Lexington St. Hay. 2124.

DORCHESTER—115 Pleasant St., five rooms, reception, new steam heater; $27.50. Cen. 1261.

DORCHESTER—46 Florida St., repainted apartment; every convenience; 4 rooms, $30; 5 rooms $40. Tal. 4301.

DORCHESTER—Convenient to Mass. Ave. subway, 5 rooms, modern, $38. 11 Tehroe St. Geneva 8202.

DORCHESTER—Sunny, modern, 5 rooms, 3 rooms, modern, 36 Draper St., Col. 2011.

ELM BOSTING—5 rooms, all impts., corner house. 118 Webster st.

FOREST HILLS—6 rooms, hot water heat. Act. condition. Apply 20 Wash. St.

JAMAICA PLAIN—Pond section; almost new 5 rooms, reasonable; also 3 rooms, rent to adults. 15 St. Peter St. Jam. 4250-M.

JAMAICA PLAIN—$35, 4 rooms, reception, modern. 36 Dunlap St. Jam. 1000.

MATTAPAN—4 rooms, 1st water heat, rent reasonable. Apply 20 Wash. St.

MEDFORD—Off Fellsway, $30; modern, sunny 5 rooms; near everything. Mys. 4745-W.

MEDFORD—4 rooms, kitchenette, steam heat, gas, electric, garage. Mys. 2396.

MEDFORD HILLSIDE—$40, lower modern 5 rooms. 23 Edson St. Mys. 2396.

NEWTONVILLE—6 rooms, all imps., hot water heat, $70. 1 Lowell Ave. Newton 1722-W.

ROSLINDALE—$6 week, 4 rooms, modern, 34 floor. 30 Amherst st. Pkway 1458-J.

ROSLINDALE—$45, 7 rooms, all modern. 42 Bradwood St. Park. 4702-M.

ROXBURY—5 rooms, all impts. garage, $38. 18 Woodcliffe St. High. 5224.

ROXBURY—$31 Parker St., upper, 5 rooms; modern; garage; 4 in. High 6614.

SOMERVILLE—Sunny 2 rooms, kitchenette, heat and gas supplied, convenient everything. $30. 244 Summer St. Som. 3051.

SOMERVILLE—4-room apartment, all imps., $30 month; good location. Som. 5143-M.

SOMERVILLE—Ideal location, 5 rooms, modern, steam heat, $35. Also modern 3 rooms, steam heat, $45. Inquire 407 Broadway.

SOMERVILLE — 40 Houghton St., 4 rooms, bath, all impts., sunny, heat, $26; 6 rooms, $30. Open today. Som. 0107.

SOUTH END—2-3 room suites, $12, $15, $17 monthly. Broadway 1000. Porter 81, Room 418.

SOUTH BOSTON—4 rooms, $20 month; free rent until Dec. 15th. Apply top floor, 11 Ward St.

WATERTOWN—On Templeton Parkway, new 6-room modern home, $75. Bel. 1000.

WEST ROXBURY—Lower 6 rooms, all modern. 78 Clement Ave. Park. 4464-M.

WEST SOMERVILLE—Sunny 5 rooms, heated, 2d floor; parking; $25. Park. 3801-R

WEST SOMERVILLE—Sunny 5 rooms, modern, 14 Elgin St.; P'kway 2012-R.

WEST SOMERVILLE—Sunny 5 rooms, heated, 2d floor; parking; $25. Park. 3801-R

WINTHROP—40 Hawthorne Ave., 6-room modern apartment, steam heat, recent improvements; Jackson 2044-W-Ocean 1627.

WINTHROP—78 Shirley St., 6 rooms, facing ocean; hot water heat. Ocean 1826-M

STEAM heated 4-room apartment, $30; near Metropolitan Theatre. HANCOCK 3778.

Rooms without Board

BACK BAY—Ivy St., 15, very pleasant, well furnished, single or double room, first floor; 5 minutes to Park St. Kenmore 7911.

BEACON ST.—Coolidge Corner, attractive room, $5; double and single rooms, kitchen privileges, reasonable. Regent 2961.

CAMBRIDGE—Newly furnished room, near Harvard Sq., garage optional. Uni. 6542-W after 6.

CENTRAL HOTEL—Rooms $1 a day, $5 a week; near theatres. 20 Common St.

CHARLESTOWN—Sunny room, suitable for 2 men. $1.50 up, weekly $7 up. Dev. 8836.

HYDE PARK—2 comfortable heated rooms, continuous hot water. Hyde Park 1215-W.

MASS. AVE. 322—Large front room, twin beds, all heat. Commonwealth 1432.

NEWTON—Single, $6.50; $7.50 week. Private Baths. Tourists accommodated, 32 Hamlin, close electric. Newton 0994.

YOUNG widow with attractive home will rent room to gentleman. $6. Ari. 0270-M.

Auction Sales

COLLATERAL LOAN CO.

78 CORNHILL, BOSTON

143rd Semi-Annual AUCTION SALE

Unredeemed Pledges

November 17, 18, 19, 20

License 1

Today, in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of opportunities to rent desirable homes.

Money to Loan

•SMALL REPAYMENTS•

MONEY $10 to $300 WHEN YOU NEED IT

• STRICTLY PRIVACY •

INDUSTRIAL BANKERS, Inc.

• Listen to the Band Box Revue
Tuesday Evenings at 7:45, over Stations WBZ and WBZA

2 BOSTON OFFICES
44 BROMFIELD ST., Publicity Bldg., 2nd Floor, License 209. Lib. 0979
73 TREMONT ST., Tremont Bldg., 2nd Floor License 2313. Hub. 2552

BROCKTON OFFICE
196 MAIN ST., Olympia Bldg., 2nd Floor License 132. Brockton 0113

BROOKLINE OFFICE
269 HARVARD ST., Coolidge Cor. Bldg., Cor. Beacon St. License 346. Asp. 0055

3 CAMBRIDGE OFFICES
621 MASS. AVE., Cameron Bldg., License 167. Uni. 2660
1 BRATTLE ST., Brattle Bldg., Harvard Sq. License 2363. Kirkland 2363
859 MASSACHUSETTS Ave., Pearl Bldg., at Central Sq. License 74. Porter 2070

CHELSEA OFFICE
448 BROADWAY, Chamber of Commerce Bldg. License 186. Chel. 2260

DEDHAM OFFICE
268 WASHINGTON ST., Dedham Sq., 2nd Floor. License 1541. Dedham 1541

DORCHESTER OFFICE
781 DUDLEY ST., Uphams Corner 2nd Floor. License 86. Columbia 8278

EVERETT OFFICE
44 BROADWAY, Howard Bldg., 2nd Floor, License 197. Everett 2144

MALDEN OFFICE
110 PLEASANT ST., Rotary Bldg., 2nd Floor. License 195. Malden 2475

MEDFORD OFFICE
11 RIVERSIDE AVE., Central Bldg., 2nd Floor. License 208. Mystic 1058

NATICK OFFICE
87 MAIN ST., Walcott Bldg., 2nd Floor. License 206. Natick 1358

NEWTON OFFICE
313 WASHINGTON ST., Wash'n Bldg., 2nd Fl. License 291. New. No. 4157

QUINCY OFFICE
1406 HANCOCK ST., Granite Trust Bldg., 2nd Floor. License 236. Fra. 0967

ROSLINDALE OFFICE
786 SOUTH ST., Sullivan Bldg., 2nd Floor. License 204. Parkway 0049

SOMERVILLE OFFICE
90 POWER ST., Parke Sq. Bldg., at Davis Sq. License 32. Somerset 2138

WALTHAM OFFICE
371 MOODY ST., Waltham Bldg., 2nd Floor License 119. Waltham 2794

WOBURN OFFICE
410 MAIN ST., Woburn 1450
License 208. Wobu. 1450

HOUSEHOLD LOANS
$50 TO $300

On loans above $100 up to $300 Household's rate is less than full legal rate. Payments as low as $5.

Only Signatures of Husband and Wife Required

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE CORPORATION
OF MASSACHUSETTS License No. 223
4th Floor, Studio Bldg.
178 TREMONT ST.
Phone: Liberty 8278

Automobile—Furniture LOANS
$50 to $1,000
PILGRIM PLAN
24 School St. 4th Floor Rm. 401
Hancock 2850 License 65

Furniture & Auto Loans
TREMONT FINANCE CO.
52 HANOVER ST., BOSTON LICENSE 132 HAY. 6617

Musical Instruments

100 PIANOS $25 UP. 55 ORGANS, Brooks, 119 Summer St., over Marston's.

Special Notices

Roaches, rats, bed bugs, rodents and vermin won't leave your house of their own accord. Let—

SAFTI-FUME

the only exterminator not harmful to the human body

QUICKLY, ECONOMICALLY, SAFELY!
Guaranteed to rid your premises—but will absolutely not harm well-kept foods.
Get prices—no obligation.

SAFETY FUMIGANT CO.

29 INDIA ST., BOSTON. MASS.
Call HUBBARD 0624 or 0625

FAMILY LOANS
$50 to $300

Borrow $100 pay back $ 5 monthly
Borrow $200 pay back $ 9 monthly
Borrow $300 pay back $12 monthly

Other amounts in proportion
Interest at Lawful Rate on Balances
Furniture and Automobile Owners

We are Bonded and Licensed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to loan money to men and women whose income will not accommodate.

National Loan Society

24 SCHOOL ST., BOSTON
LAFAYETTE 0016
689 MASS. AVE., CENTRAL
1 SALEM ST., MALDEN
MALDEN 6888
License #35—111—121 Respectively

Special Notices

CASH

Autos Wanted

We pay cash. See us before selling; 110 COMMERCIAL AVE. Hancock 1181.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR

MYEROW BROTHERS CO.
15 BERKELEY ST. HANCOCK 1886

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID

for your automobile. Call Motor Car Co., 1 Brighton Ave. Algonquin 2055.

1929 FORD ROADSTER $235

Excellent condition. 470 Commonwealth Ave., Room 2. Cor. Kenmore Sq. Ken. 1